Session 1919 123rd of the General Assembly

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1919. No. 39.

SENATE.

MONDAY, April 28, 1919.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer.

Almighty God, we pray Thy blessing upon this distinguished body. Qualified by education and experience to perform the duties presenting themselves to them, we pray that they may be endowed with that higher and larger vision that will include all the interests of the entire State. May the chief objective of their lives in all legislation be the largest amount of good to the greatest number of people. These blessings we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. CROW, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

RESOLUTIONS.

FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO MAKE NECESSARY ARRANGEMENTS FOR ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN PHILADELPHIA UPON ARRIVAL OF TWENTY-EIGHTH DIVISION.

Mr. PHIPPS offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1919.

Whereas, The Twenty-Eighth Division of the United States Army is to return from France where it served with great distinction; and,

Whereas, Extensive preparations are being made in the City of Philadelphia, to accord an appropriate welcome to those returning soldiers, most of whom are from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and,

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that the General Assembly should take a prominent part in the welcome to be accorded to said division; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of six members of the General Assembly, three from the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore, and three from the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker, be constituted a committee to make necessary arrangements for the attendance of the members of the General Assembly in Philadelphia upon the arrival of said Twenty-Eighth Division.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, in order that the resolution just read may be considered at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION CALLING ATTENTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS FROM PENNSYLVANIA, AND REQUESTING THEM TO TAKE NECESSARY ACTION SURROUNDING ILLNESS AND DEATH OF HARRY WAGNER.

Mr. LESLIE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1919.

Whereas, One Harry Wagner, a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, residing at number 229 Brownsville Road, Mt. Oliver Borough, Allegheny County, and who was a soldier in Company "C," 305th Field Signal Battalion, attached to the 80th Division, and served with honor on the battlefield of France, died on January 23, 1919, while in service in France; and,

Whereas, His family was notified of his death on February 7th, 1919, which has since made repeated efforts to ascertain the cause of his death, but without success; and,

Whereas, From correspondence received from soldiers who knew the deceased, and came into close contact with him, it appears that the deceased was not accorded proper or sufficient medical attention when request therefor was made, and that he was forced to remain on duty while ill, and died shortly after being relieved from duty, and that charges have been made that he was unnecessarily neglected by officers in charge, and by the medical authorities; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully call the attention of the Honorable Boies Penrose and the Honorable Philander C. Knox, United States Senators from Pennsylvania, to the facts hereinbefore set forth, and request them to take such action as may be necessary to investigate the facts surrounding the illness and death of the said Harry Wagner, to the end that those in authority guilty of any neglect or misconduct may be properly charged therewith.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall send a copy of this resolution to the Honorable Boies Penrose and the Honorable Philander C. Knox.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, in order that the resolution just read may be considered at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Section 11 The commission may at any time examine the books of any such licensed corporation and may require it to furnish to the commission a written report on any matters coming within the jurisdiction of the commission The commission may hold hearings which shall be public and may by subpoena compel the attendance of persons and the production of books papers and other documents It may cause its subpoena to be served anywhere in Pennsylvania If a person subpoenaed refuses to appear and testify or if he appears but refuses to testify the commission may apply to the court of common pleas of the county where the delinquent resides The court shall issue its subpoena requiring the attendance and testimony of the delinquent as the commission shall desire. Failure to obey the subpoena of the court shall be contempt of court punishable as contempt in open court is punishable When the examination of any books or the hearing is to determine whether this act is being violated the expense incidental thereto shall be paid by the licensed corporation

Section 12 Within twenty-four hours after a contest is conducted the licensee shall report to the commission the whole number of tickets sold for the contest and the amount of the gross receipts from the sale of tickets and from other sources incidental to and connected with the contest The report shall also include such other matters as the commission may demand The report shall be on blanks furnished by the commission and shall be verified by the chief officer and the secretary of the licensee

Section 13 At the same time the report required in the foregoing section is made the licensee shall forward to the State Treasurer as a tax five per centum of the gross receipts from the sale of tickets and from other sources incidental to and connected with the contest Failure to pay the tax within five days after the contest is terminated shall work a forfeiture of the bond

Section 14 No free or complimentary tickets nor tickets at a discount shall be issued for any contest except under the rules of the commission

Section 15 No person under the age of seventeen years shall participate in any contests No person under the age of fourteen years shall be a spectator at any contest unless such person is accompanied by his parent or guardian

Section 16 It is unlawful and a violation of this act to conduct or permit to be conducted or to participate in any fraudulent sham or collusive contest The license of a corporation permitting such a contest shall be revoked and the corporation shall not thereafter receive a license

Section 17 It is unlawful and a violation of this act to bet or wager on any contest or for any licensee to knowingly or willfully permit any betting or wagering on any contest The license of a corporation or club permitting a violation of this section shall be revoked and the corporation shall not thereafter receive a license

Section 18 If a person knowingly contests in a fraudulent sham or collusive contest he shall for the first offense be barred from participating in contests for a period of six months For the second offense he shall be barred from admission to or participating at any time thereafter in a contest

Section 19 No boxing contest shall be for more than ten rounds The contestants shall wear gloves weighing at least eight ounces

Section 20 All buildings wherein contests are conducted shall be properly ventilated and shall be amply protected against fire and other danger according to the laws of the Commonwealth and the ordinances of the city borough town or township wherein the building is located The commission may require a certificate of inspection in compliance with this section to be filed with the application for license

Section 21 The sum of thirty-five thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated for the payment of the salaries and expenses herein provided for and for other purposes incidental to carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 22 No city borough town or township shall pass any ordinance inconsistent with the provisions of this act and all such ordinances now in force in any such city borough town or township are hereby declared void

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Affairs.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 519, as follows:

An Act providing for the appointment by the district attorney in counties having a population of over one million five hundred thousand inhabitants of a chief county detective an assistant chief county detective and special county detectives defining their duties defining their authority fixing their salaries and authorizing the payment of the same together with the necessary travelling expenses by the county

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in each and every county of this Commonwealth having a population of over one million five hundred thousand inhabitants the district attorney may appoint a chief county detective an assistant chief county detective and special county detectives not exceeding fourteen in number whose duties it shall be to investigate and make report to the district attorney as to the conduct in office of justices of the peace constables deputy constables and other officers connected with the administration of criminal justice to make such investigation and endeavor to obtain such evidence as may be required by the district attorney in any criminal case and perform such other duties as the district attorney may direct Said detectives shall be general police officers and shall have all powers now conferred on constables by existing laws of this Commonwealth so far as they relate to crimes or criminal procedure

Section 2 The said chief county detective shall receive a salary of four thousand ($4,000) dollars per annum the said assistant chief county detective shall receive a salary of three thousand ($3,000) dollars per annum and the special county detectives shall receive a salary of one hundred seventy-five ($175) dollars per month each together with all necessary travelling expenses which said salary and expenses having been verified by affidavit of the chief county detective assistant chief county detective or special county detective incurring the same and approved by the district attorney shall be paid out of the treasury of the county on a certificate issued by the district attorney directed to the controller of the county who shall order warrants for said amounts according to law

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed so far as the same may affect any county within or coming within the provisions of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I am compelled to cast my vote against this bill for one reason only—that this bill provides a salary of $4,000 for the chief detective, while the chief detective of the whole city of Philadelphia is paid a salary of $2,500 only. Likewise, the fifteen detectives that are employed in the bill here are paid $2,100 a year, while the detectives employed in the city of Philadelphia are paid $1,800, and under these circumstances I cannot vote for this bill.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I think it is unnecessary at this time for me to take up any argument in reference to Bill No. 519, and I am only surprised that if the gentlemen had these objections, which he states he has, that before the committee the other day he did not raise the point. That was not raised at all, sir, and it was passed unanimously before the Committee on Appropriations, without one dissenting vote.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I want to state to the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Daix, that I was not cognizant at that time of the conditions that existed. I only ascertained it on Saturday and consequently I have not even had time to see the Senator from Philadelphia and talk with him on the subject. I have no objection to the bill whatever, except that personally I must vote against it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—41.

Baldwin, F. E.,	Davis,	Martin,	Sassaman,

Gray,	Leiby,	Patton,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 521, as follows:

An Act to fix the number and salaries of Assistant District Attorneys in counties of this Commonwealth having over one million five hundred thousand inhabitants and prescribing the powers and duties of said Assistant District Attorneys

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in every county of this Commonwealth having over one million five hundred thousand inhabitants the District Attorney shall have the power to appoint one or more assistants learned in the law not exceeding fourteen in number to assist him in the discharge of his duties One of said Assistant District Attorneys shall receive a salary of seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum two of said Assistant District Attorneys shall receive salaries of six thousand dollars per annum each four of said assistant District Attorneys shall receive salaries of five thousand dollars per annum each four of said Assistant District Attorneys shall receive salaries of four thousand dollars per annum each and three of said Assistant District Attorneys shall receive salaries of three thousand dollars per annum each In the event of the appointment of a less number of assistants than fourteen the District Attorney shall have the power to determine in which class as to salaries the appointee or appointees shall be placed Said salaries shall be paid out of the county treasury

Section 2 The District Attorney shall have the power to designate and appoint one of the Assistant District Attorneys herein provided for as his first assistant who shall in the absence of the District Attorney from the jurisdiction or during his disability to perform the duties of his office through sickness or other cause be vested with all the duties powers and privileges now given by law to the District Attorney and generally at such times be empowered to do and perform all things in connection with his office which the District Attorney may by law be entitled to do or perform

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Leiby,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 746 (House Bill No. 835), entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the second day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and eighty-four) entitled "An Act to provide revenue by imposing a mercantile license tax on venders of or dealers in goods wares and merchandise and providing for the collection of said tax" providing for the appointment of and the fixing of salaries of mercantile appraisers and clerks in certain counties and providing for the disposition of moneys collected as fees for mercantile appraisers and authorizing the mercantile appraisers of such counties instead of the county commissioners to have supervision of the publication of the mercantile appraisers lists

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this bill was in the Judiciary General Committee for a hearing, but due to pressure of business on the part of that big committee, the hearing was not as long nor as complete as it might have been, and while the opposition that was made to this bill by Mr. Golmar, representing the County Commissioners of Allegheny County and by Mr. Addison Gumbert, President of the Allegheny County Commissioners, yet there was not enough data brought ont before that committee for the short time which they were able to give them, to justify that committee in understanding fully, as I see it, what this bill really means. In Allegheny County at the present time the mercantile appraiser is paid on a percentage basis, receiving fifty cents for each tax is levied, assessed and collected. In Philadelphia County they pay sixty-two and a half cents for the same work. In Allegheny County, I am told by the County Commissioners and by the men who are best informed as to the amount of time and work it takes the mercantile appraiser to do his work, the mercantile appraiser takes up just three or four months of the year in order to collect something under five hundred thousand dollars in the County of Allegheny. The rest of that time is given up to his own work because of his own duties. This bill that is proposed by the Auditor General's office undertakes to appoint five commissioners—five mercantile appraisers for Allegheny County at a salary of five thousand dollars apiece and to appoint the necessary clerks, and no number is given and no salary is set for those necessary clerks. It means that if the bill that is proposed before the Banking Committee gives the Banking Commissioner autocratic power, it means that in the hands of the Auditor General with five men in Allegheny County an unlimited number of clerks with a bill in as he told me in Judiciary General Committee that will govern Philadelphia and another bill that will cover the sixty-five counties other than those two in the State of Pennsylvania, there will be such a political machine, as to quote Senator Craig from Beaver, that the bill itself will break. That means that the people of the State of Pennsylvania with Allegheny County taken as an opener to see whether or not the Senate is going to pass it without opposition in this State that is going to open up nothing more or less than a centralized political power in the city of Harrisburg, and centralize power in our State governing it is the first blow in my opinion at the liberty and the rights of the people in the counties, it is a first stroke against home rule, and my people, I hear from them, from all over my district, and they have said "Whatever you do, voice opposition and vote against the bill and get as many votes as you can against the bill because it is vicious and should be killed."

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President and members of the Senate, my colleague from Allegheny County (Mr. Barr) is correct when he states that this bill originated in the Auditor General's office and through and by the investigations made by the Auditor General's office, not confined to any one locality, but throughout this whole State, in the operation of an act that has been in vogue since 1847, which has proven itself to be inadequate, and one which does not operate in the view and sense in which the law was enacted for. Tax laws are made to be equitable. Those who come under the provisions of the law are supposed to pay their tax in accordance with the act. When a large number throughout the State are permitted to escape, or inequalities are made in the tax, then it is not an equitable tax. In providing, as the Auditor General has in his scheme, as explained here, they have to be put into operation, and we are not aware of that fact until it comes before us. I agree with his thought. We have mercantile appraisers appointed by the County Commissioners, and it is true that in the course of six or seven months they can do their work. The first four months of that work is levying their tax, a few days for hearings and turning their books over to the County Treasurer, and then looking after collections to be paid to the County Treasurer and in entering suits. The law has proven and shown that in our county alone of seventy boroughs and fifty-six townships great numbers of merchants have never paid the tax, great numbers of merchants pay the tax this year and omit it next year, and it varies in its operation and it varies in accordance with the facilities and the people who are appointed, and it is on rare occasions that appraisers have not been appointed for two consecutive terms. He speaks of five thousand. The bill does not provide for that, the bill provides for not more than five thousand. He speaks of Philadelphia. The Philadelphia mercantile appraisers are paid seven thousand dollars per annum each. The object of the operation of this bill is that this bill does not carry with it any greater expense than the operation of the present system, but it puts five mercantile appraisers in the county, divided into five parts, each one has a unit. It puts the duty upon him to see in his particular unit, in the five of them combined, that every merchant that comes under this act is appraised, and to be concise with you, in his investigation and only having one year to do it, he has increased the tax in this State better than thirty-three and one-third per cent., and in his own prediction, in two years more, in 1921, he will have recovered for this State, justly due this State, honestly due this State, not less than five millions of dollars that will be paid into the treasury, where only last year we got one million and a half, and in one year's time the net returns to the State of Pennsylvania under his investigation have been $618,000, and in our county this year, let me call the attention to the commission of errors of mercantile appraisers who never had any knowledge of the business, whose appointees have been out of employment, seeking ten or fifteen cents commission on each appraisement, who never had any knowledge of the business. In six weeks work in a business district of the City of Pittsburgh the clerks and investigators of the Auditor General's office find in making up their books to be presented to the Treasurer great errors and omissions and the five of them went out into the field and in the course of three weeks this is what they have discovered: They have discovered 3194 persons who were not assessed by the mercantile appraiser or his deputies and when added to the list this year and they themselves feel well qualified to say that there are several more thousand in Allegheny County that come under this law that are liable for this tax and who do not pay it. It is an impractical working machine, it cannot be worked out successfully by one man being appointed each year and he appoints anywhere from fifteen to twenty-five men wherever he can gather them from to go out and be his deputies to serve notices on the merchants and all those who come under this law and you can readily understand and recognize, it is a man who is in need of a little bit of employment and the only thing he is looking for is his fee, he never investigates into the problem as to the quality and amount of business, but as the Auditor General has frankly told the committee, his investigators have discovered merchants in this State who have paid taxes on twenty or fifty thousand dollars of business whose records show they are doing from one hundred thousand to five hundred thousand dollars worth of business. This is not a burdensome tax, but it is a necessary tax, and while it is on the statute books it should be collected honestly and equitably by the Auditor General of the State and his hands should not be tied, he should be aided: he is a State officer to look after the interests and the welfare and the finances of this State and the collection of its moneys and if you do not help him how are we going to meet our obligations? Here we are today aiming to get money to improve conditions in certain parts of our State, particularly our school interests, and then they question, they doubt the motives of our State officer, they say he is building up a political machine. He is building up no political machine, but collecting revenue due the State. If I cannot say something to the credit of a State officer I am at least not going to say anything against him on the floor of this Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PRESIDENT. Certainly I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, do I understand from the Senator from Allegheny that the Auditor General of this state has more knowledge, more intelligence and more mortality than any one of the two hundred and one county commissioners of the State of Pennsylvania and particularly as in this bill, the three county commissioners of the County of Allegheny.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I am not speaking as to men's character or mortality.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that seems to be the point at issue.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, if the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, asks me as to their business qualifications and other knowledge on this particular question I will answer him.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to know from the Senator from Allegheny, whether or not the purpose of this bill is not primarily to increase the state revenue but for the purpose of creating four or five lucrative positions in the County of Allegheny, and perhaps one man who has their appointment, and I would like to ask whether or not the Commissioners of the County of Allegheny are not far more able than the Auditor General of the State of Pennsylvania to judge of the qualifications of the men in Allegheny County than the Auditor General of this State would be?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, the Auditor General is to look after the interest of the collection of taxes in Pennsylvania, not conferring political power upon the appointment of an appraiser.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask how the Auditor General will apoint the appraisers in Allegheny County except through his friends in Allegheny County?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, the Auditor General makes his appointments in accordance with the usual rule in public affairs. He receives applications, investigates the qualifications and ability and uses his best judgment in making the appointment.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is the point at issue, and I still maintain, and our people at home maintain that it is a direct blow at home rule and I would ask my friends to vote against this bill.

Section 2. That section eleven of said act which reads as follows

"Section 11. As soon as a voter is admitted within the rail in the voting-room, at the time of a primary, the election officer having charge of the ballots shall detach one of said non-partisan primary ballots from the stub and give it to the voter, but shall first fold it as required by law. If the voter is entitled to receive a party ballot he shall receive it at the same time he receives the non-partisan primary ballot. Not more than one non-partisan primary ballot shall be given to a voter: Provided, however, That where a voter inadverently spoils a non-partisan primary ballot, he may obtain another as provided hy the law, first returning the spoiled ballot, which shall be cancelled, preserved, and returned as in like cases at elections.

The voter shall mark said non-partisan primary ballot and deposit it in the ballot-box at the same time he marks and deposits the party ballot, if any.

The ballot check list and the voting check list at primaries shall have separate columns for party ballots and non-partisan primary ballots, and the officers or clerks keeping such lists shall make separate checks or notations for each class of ballots as they are issued and deposited.

When, after the closing of the polls at a primary, the ballots are taken from the ballot-box, the election officers shall, after counting and making a record of the number of ballots for each party, count the number of non-partisan primary ballots cast, and make a record thereof; and, after counting the vote cast for the different persons named on the party ballots and making a record thereof, shall count the vote cast for the different persons named on the non-partisan primary ballots and make a record thereof; and when said count is finally completed they shall certify, in due and proper form, to the number of votes cast for each person upon the non-partisan primary ballots, in addition to certifying the party vote as provided by law. All votes cast for any non-partisan candidate on the non-partisan ballot which is printed on the regular party ballots shall be counted and added to the votes cast for such candidate on the separate non-partisan primary ballots, and the total thus obtained shall be certified by the election officers together with the record of the party vote, as herein provided

"Section 12 The county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the county commissioners of the respective counties the result of the computation of the vote at least thirty days prior to the date of the succeeding election" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 12 The county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the county commissioners of the respective counties the result of the computation of the vote at least thirty days prior to the date of the suceeding election Immediately after the county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth it shall also be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the manner hereinafter provided to establish the order of precedence of said names on the ballots and certify the same to the county commissioners of the respective counties at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the succeeding election

Section 4 That section thirteen of said act which as amended by an act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and fifty) entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and punishment of certain offences' approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen so as to make the proviso to section thirteen of said act operative where two or more candidates for the office of judge of any court of record consisting of several judges are to be elected at one election" reads as follows

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I have been informed by Senator Salus that Senator Vare is quite ill, and unable to be present this evening. For that reason alone, and in Senatorial courtesy, I ask that Senate Bill No. 820, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections ten, thirteen, fourteen and fifteen of an act entitled "An Act regulating certain political parties; providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions, and of certain party officers, including State committeemen; a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States; and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State, of the expenses of the same; authorizing the State committee of a political party to make, and to alter, amend and revoke, rules; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein; and repealing inconsistent legislation," approved the twelfth day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 719), so as to provide fully how many official and specimen ballots shall be provided for each party at the primaries and to whom the same shall be delivered; what other election materials shall be furnished and what printed instructions shall be given voters and election officers; how the official ballots shall be given to qualified electors; how party membership shall be evidenced and how and when it may be challenged; how the vote shall be counted, recorded and returned by the election officers, what shall be done with the ballots voted, their stubs and the unused, spoiled and void ballots, tally papers, oaths of election officers, affidavits of voters, etc., lists of voters of each party, triplicate and other return sheets, and who shall have the custody of same; to require the return and public inspection of all the spoiled and unused ballots from each election district before the computation of any returns therefrom; to prescribe the method of computing and canvassing such returns publicly; to provide who shall constitute the return board for any county wherein one or more of the commissioners are candidates at any primary; to regulate the manner of correcting apparent errors in certain returns and the opening of ballot boxes and the recounting of votes when any county commissioner or judge of the Court of Common Pleas deems it necessary in order to obtain a correct count or upon the petition of three electors averring fraud or error; to assure the right of any authorized representative of any party or candidate to hear, record and check up the returns as read as well as to inspect the same and any other public documents relating to any primary election; to allow any person aggrieved by any decision of the county commissioners to appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of the proper county; to make certain violations of said acts as amended hereby misdemeanors and to provide penalties for the punishment of such offenses and to repeal inconsistent legislation.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, for the same reason, I ask that Senate Bill No. 821, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to provide for the personal registration of electors as a condition of their right to vote at elections and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth; by removing from office all existing registration commissioners and their appointees in said cities and authorizing the Governor to appoint registration commissions therein; defining the jurisdiction of said commissions and the powers and duties of the commissioners constituting same, and of their appointees, including registrars, inspectors of registration, clerks and counsel; fixing their qualifications, terms of office and compensation; granting them certain immunity from arrest on registration days and empowering such inspectors to arrest, without warrant, certain persons committing certain offenses in violation of this act in their presence, as well as to enter and inspect buildings given as residences of electors, to interrogate the inmates thereof, to copy or demand a list of the lodgers therein and to supervise the conduct of registrars; regulating the registration of electors at polling places by registrars, and at the offices of commissions by commissioners, and the right of parties or bodies of electors to have watchers thereat, and the preparation and use of street lists and other records of those registered; allowing the names of persons not entitled to vote to be struck from the registers in certain cases; permitting all records regarding registration to be inspected and copied by any elector under certain conditions, directing how the registers shall be used at elections and primaries; compelling the attendance of witnesses and payment of witness fees, and providing penalties for refusal to obey subpoenas; directing Receivers of Taxes to appoint Chief Clerks of Commissions as deputies to collect poll taxes and to give receipts therefor; authorizing such clerks to administer oaths, sign subpoenaes and vouchers and to collect and disburse witness fees; prescribing a method for challenging persons applying for registration and the procedure for the correction of registers and for appealing from actions of registrars to said commissions and allowing for appeals from the decisions of the commissions in certain cases to Courts of Common Pleas; imposing certain duties upon election officers and upon the Councils, Treasurers, Controllers, Receivers of Taxes, Police Officers, and other officials of said cities and upon the Courts, Judges, Prothonotaries, Sheriffs, Commissioners, Peace Officers and other officials of the judicial districts and counties in which said cities are situated, or with which they are co-extensive; legalizing certain acts required hereby, if done on any Sunday or Legal Holiday; requiring said cities to provide for the maintenance of said commissions and the compensation of their appointees and the payment of all expenses necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and to transfer the unexpended balances of all appropriations heretofore made for the personal registration of electors of said cities during the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, to and for the use of the said commissions; punishing and fixing penalties for violations hereof and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, for the same reason, I ask that Senate Bill No. 822, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and three entitled "An Act relating to change of polling-places and authorizing the commissioners to change the same"

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 825 on third reading, entitled:

An act to further amend the third section of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers, requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June Anno Domini, eighteen hundred and ninety-three, as amended by an act approved the ninth day of July Anno Domini, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, by providing a method of preempting names for the exclusive use of political bodies desiring to make nominations by nomination papers and limiting the selection of such names and requiring certain affidavits to be made in reference thereto and to be filed in the offices where such nomination papers are required to be filed respectively instead of with the prothonotaries of the several counties and repealing legislation inconsistent therewith.

be recommitted to the Committee on Elections for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 73, entitled:

An Act to provide a method upon petition of owner with notice to wife of bankrupt for ascertaining determining and charging statutory interest inchoate on lands of bankrupt sold under order of United States Court by report of viewers and decree of court of common pleas in certain cases freeing and discharging part of such lands from such statutory interest inchoate and charging same upon a portion of lands formerly owned by bankrupt in case of death of wife during life of bankrupt or after his death to discharge the lands from such statutory interest inchoate or statutory interest fixed by decree of court providing for services of rules and notices and for appeal from final decree of such court

The first, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in any instance where lands of a bankrupt have been or shall hereafter be sold under order of the United States courts and the bankrupt shall be living and shall have a wife living who was his lawful wife during any portion of the time between the date of being declared a bankrupt and completion of sale of his real estate it shall be lawful for the purchaser or purchasers or any of them his their or its heirs successors or assigns to present a petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such real estate may be situate setting forth the facts together with a description of the real estate owned by the petitioner or petitioners and praying the said court to grant a rule upon the wife of the bankrupt to appear upon a day certain to be designated by said court to show cause if any she has why viewers should not be appointed to ascertain and determine the statutory interest inchoate which she might be entitled to upon the death of her husband the bankrupt should she survive him and also why such statutory interest inchoate should not be entirely charged upon a certain part or portion of the real estate formerly owned by such bankrupt provided the same could be divided and a part thereof should be bound by the viewers to be sufficient to secure such statutory interest inchoate

Section 2 Whereupon it shall be the duty of said court of common pleas to direct a rule to issue to be served upon the wife of the bankrupt at least ten days before the return day Such service shall be personal if the wife of the bankrupt resides in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Should she not reside in the county where the rule issues the sheriff of that county shall transmit the rule to the sheriff of the county wherein she resides and that official shall have authority to make such service and return thereof through the sheriff of the county wherein the rule issues to the court Should she not reside in the Commonwealth or should it appear by affidavit of petitioner that her residence is not known and could not be ascertained by diligent inquiry then such service shall be by publication for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers of the county wherein the rule issues the last publication to be ten days before the return day

Section 3 On any day after the return day if it shall appear to the court of common pleas that service of the rule has been made personally or by publication then it shall be the duty of the court to appoint five viewers who shall fix a day for hearing and give notice thereof to the wife of the bankrupt in the manner herein provided for service of the rule

Section 4 Upon the day of hearing testimony shall be heard upon part of petitioner and upon part of respondent should she

appear and produce witnesses or other evidence which testimony shall be reduced to writing and filed by the viewers with their report to the court

Section 5 The viewers shall find the facts and make report to the court and such report shall contain the following

(a) The name and residence of the bankrupt the court by which he was declared a bankrupt and the date thereof

(b) The name and residence of the wife of the bankrupt or if her residence shall not be known the fact shall appear

(c) A description of all the real estate held by petitioners and formerly owned by the bankrupt and subject to statutory interest inchoate at the date when he was declared a bankrupt and the date when such real estate was sold by order of the United States court and the name of the purchaser or purchasers

(d) The name of the owner or owners of such real estate together with the market value thereof exclusive of the statutory interest inchoate at the time of the hearing and report of viewers

(e) Whether the real estate owned by the petitioner or petitioners could be divided so that the statutory interest inchoate could be secured and charged on a particular portion thereof and if so then a description and draft of each part thereof with the market value of each purpart

(f) A recommendation by the viewers or a majority thereof as to the real estate or the portion thereof upon which such statutory interest inchoate should be charged and in case of division which portion of such real estate should be freed and discharged of such statutory interest inchoate

(g) A finding by the viewers or a majority thereof of the amount of statutory interest inchoate and description of the land upon which the same shall be charged

(h) The report shall be signed by not less than a majority of the viewers

Section 6 Upon the filing of the report of viewers the same shall be confirmed nisi and if exceptions to the findings of fact and report of viewers be not filed within ten days the same shall be confirmed absolutely

The seventh section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 7 Should exceptions be filed the same shall be heard by the court of common pleas and the findings and report of the viewers shall be affirmed or modified as may be determined by the court and a decree made accordingly fixing and determining the statutory interest inchoate which the respondent may be entitled to upon the death of her husband should she survive him and the land or lands or portion or portions thereof upon which such statutory interest inchoate shall be charged and in case of division the freeing and discharging from such statutory interest inchoate of other lands owned by and belonging to petitioners

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, April 28, 1919.

The House met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou blessed sovereign of Heaven and earth, Thou who alone art able to give unto us good gifts that are imperishable, look down, we pray Thee, upon this House that it has work to do that is of great significance, for they have entrusted to their care the welfare of many, many millions of people in this State. That which they shall impose here will make itself felt in every hamlet and village and countryside. The child in the cradle, the grey beard tottering to the grave, all are within their scope. Help Thou them to pass laws that are wise and salutary. Let them not be governed by prejudice or passion; let them not be led astray by fads or fancies. Help Thou them at all times to have the welfare of the people at heart. May their oath loom up large before them, that they shall consider not only that it is a public office and public trust, but that it is of infinite responsibility and far-reaching consequence; and thus with a high and noble resolve, help Thou them to do their duty in such a way that whether they are approved by man or not, they shall have the inward approbation of service rendered conscientiously in the fear of God and for the good of their brother man. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Wednesday, April 23, 1919.

An Act to amend sections ten, thirteen, fourteen and fifteen of an act entitled "An Act regulating certain political parties; providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions, and of certain party officers, including state committeemen; a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States; and the payment by the several counties, and their reimbursement by the state, of the expenses of the same; authorizing the state committee of a political party to make, and to alter, amend and revoke, rules; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein; and repealing inconsistent legislation," approved the twelfth day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and nineteen), so as to provide fully how many official and specimen ballots shall be provided for each party at the primaries and to whom the same shall be delivered; what other election materials shall be furnished and what printed instructions shall be given voters and election officers; how the official ballots shall be given to qualified electors; how party membership shall be evidence and how and when it may be challenged; how the vote shall be counted, recorded and returned by the election officers, what shall be done with the ballots voted, their stubs and the unused, spoiled and void ballots, tally paper, oaths of election officers, affidavits of voters, etc., lists of voters of each party, triplicate and other return sheets, and who shall have the custody of same to require the return and public inspection of all the spoiled and unused ballots from each election district before the computation of any returns therefrom; to prescribe the method of computing and canvassing such returns publicly; to provide who shall constitute the return board for any county wherein one or more of the commissioners are candidates at any primary; to regulate the manner of correcting apparent errors in certain returns and the opening of ballot boxes and the recounting of votes when any county commissioner or judge of the Court of Common Pleas deems it necessary in order to obtain a correct count or upon the petition of three electors averring fraud or error; to assure the right of any authorized representative of any party or candidate to hear, record and check up the returns as read as well as to inspect the same and any other public documents relating to any primary election; to allow any person aggrieved by any decision of the county commissioners to appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of the proper county; to make certain violations of said act as amended hereby misdemeanors and to provide penalties for the punishment of such offences and to repeal inconsistent legislation.

and House Bill No. 844, file folio 1395, entitled

An Act to amend the third section of an act entitled "An Act regulating certain political parties, providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions, and of certain party officers, including State committeemen; a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States; and the payment by the several counties, and their reimbursement by the State, of the expenses of the same; authorizing the State committee of a political party to make, and to alter, amend and revoke, rules; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein; and repealing inconsistent legislation," approved the twelfth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred nineteen) as amended by an act approved the sixth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and fifty-three), so as to change the date of the Fall primary from the third Wednesday to the fourth Tuesday of September in all odd-numbered years be recommitted to a select committee to be composed of all the members of the House of Representatives from the city of Philadelphia, by authority of Rule five of the House of Representatives, for the purpose of hearings on the said bill, to be held in the city of Philadelphia, and for the further purpose of making amendments and a report on said bill to the House of Representatives.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 949.

Mr. SHUNK offered the following motion, which was twice read:

Moved by Mr. SHUNK, seconded by Mr. WEST that the vote by which House Bill No. 949 was defeated on final passage Monday evening April 21st, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, for information, is that the Willson bill?

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the title of the bill.

The title of the bill was read by the Clerk as follows:

House Bill No. 949, file folio 1897, entitled

An Act to amend and to repeal certain sections of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto"

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Erie (Mr. Shunk) vote?

Mr. SHUNK. Mr. Speaker, I voted "no."

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Montour (Mr. West) vote?

Mr. WEST. Mr. Speaker, I voted "no."

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, this is the bill that we considered one week ago tonight, and defeated. Now I do not believe that one of you think that the sentiment of this State has changed in the short period of one week. This is a bill in which the third class cities of this Commonwealth are greatly interested. We do not want it repealed. Two years ago the second class cities, through this legislature, defeated the repeal of the non-partisan election law in their cities. I do not know of any attempt that you men of the second class cities have made at this time to repeal that law. Now, why do you want to repeal ours? This bill had sufficient publicity, having had two public hearings—was discussed in almost all the newspapers in this great Commonwealth, and after due deliberation in this House, the House acted upon it one week ago tonight. It was considered bad legislation one week ago tonight. It was considered an improper thing to do———

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman from Lawrence is discussing the bill, and not the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides the point of order is well taken. The gentleman from Lawrence will confine himself to the question before the House, which is the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was defeated.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Gentlemen, the proposition to reconsider this bill and put it back on the calendar is unfair and unnecessary, to my mind, at this time in the present session. We have acted upon this bill, and a full membership of this House was present when it was decisively defeated. Now, why should we put it back on the calendar, when we have enough legislation of importance yet to be considered? Why encumber our calendar again with this bill, when we have acted upon it and defeated it? You men who come from third class cities and you men who come from second class cities should consider this thing very carefully before you vote to put it back on the calendar. You either are for or against this proposition. If you are against it, there is only one consistent thing for you to do, and that is to vote against this motion to reconsider. If you are for the bill and think you have not had your day in this legislature, if you think you have not had an opportunity to vote your convictions or the convictions of your constituency, then you should vote for this motion to reconsider. This bill has been debated at great length; this bill has been considered; it has been given publicity throughout this State, and we have acted upon it. Now in good faith, I think we should defeat this motion to reconsider at this time.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I see no reason why this motion should not have been made. Evidently my friend from Lawrence figures that because he made a speech on the bill that it had been properly debated, looked into and argued from a logical standpoint, and the matter entirely settled. All he has to do is to look at the results and he will find———

MR. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SIMPSON. The gentleman from Lawrence should at least wait until I have finished my remarks.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman refuses to be interrogated, and will proceed.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to say now that I never rose to my feet to interrogate the gentleman from Lawrence until after he had finished his address, and the gentleman from Lawrence does that repeatedly for the sole and express purpose of trying to confuse some of the younger members of this House. I wonder if he thinks I am one of them. I say it was necessary for two men who voted against this bill to make the motion to reconsider the vote by which it was defeated, and why shouldn't they? If they go back to their homes and find that the sentiment in their cities has changed, they have a right to come back and make this motion. They come here representing their constituency and make a motion to rectify a wrong that they made, a wrong that a great many of us made in voting as we did on legislation such as this. When we go back home and find that the sentiment at home has changed, it is proper to try to rectify that wrong.

It is a privilege we have and a right we exercise and something that we ought to do. I ask you now to try and rectify the wrong that you have done to the third class cities of the State of Pennsylvania, and rectify it for our benefit. I represent a third class city, as well as the gentleman from Lawrence, and I ask you now to try and rectify that wrong which we committed last week, by reconsidering this bill and placing it on the calendar. Mr. Speaker, I will now submit to an interrogation by the gentleman from Lawrence.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to my distinguished friend from Allegheny County, I wish to say that he is the only member of this House, to my knowledge, during this present session, that has refused to be interrogated. Futhermore, I wish to say in answer to my esteemed friend, that I have not interrogated, during this session, a single member of this House, be he a new member or as old and as important a member as is the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say that it is extremely bad parliamentary practice to break in on the remarks of any gentleman for the purpose of interrogation, but the proper procedure is to make notes and interrogate the gentleman after he has finished his remarks.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ADDRESS BY GENERAL FRED TAYLOR PUSEY.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, before taking up the special order of the calendar, I desire to ask your indulgence and the indulgence of the House at this time in order that I might present to the members of this House, through you, Mr. Speaker, a gentleman who served in this House from 1903 to 1906 the county that I have the honor to represent. This gentleman has served with distinguished honor as the Quartermaster-General of the Iron Division in the war with Germany; and I now, Mr. Speaker, ask you to call to the platform the Honorable Fred Taylor Pusey, Quartermaster-General of the Twenty-eighth Division, known as the Iron Division of Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER. The Chair seconds the remarks of the gentelman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey), and feels particularly pleased to have the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania greet one of its old members, who has so signally distinguished himself in the last two years. The Chair will request General Pusey to come to the rostrum, where the House will be pleased to hear from him for a few moments.

GENERAL FRED TAYLOR PUSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I think that the Journal will record that it is some thirteen years since I have had the honor of standing in this position and addressing this honorable body. I must say that I feel more overwhelmed tonight than I was on that occasion, when I came perhaps with boyish embarrassment to take this Chair for a few moments. While I felt greatly honored at that time, I must say that I feel more honored tonight by this splendid welcome that you give; but I could not take it as a personal tribute, because I come to you as a messenger of good tidings. The boys of the splendid Keystone Division are on the high seas returning to their homes. I have received a radio message from the Commanding General at sea, advising that all of the units cleared France on the twenty-seventh; so that within a few days they should all be here, and I am sure that all of the citizens of this great Commonwealth will be glad to participate in their home-coming. They who went away as boys are returning to you as men. They are coming back conscious of their manhood, and I think as sensible of their intended duties as future citizens of this great State as they have been sensible of the great duties imposed upon them in this terrible struggle. Some of them will never return; others have returned, and will return, but will not be able, as you and I and some others will be, to take up the brudens of life with comfort and without pain. But when you see them come and march on the streets of your cities—and we hope that we will be able to arrange this magnificent review we are now planning in the great metropolis of our State—you will see marching on the street as fine a body of stalwart citizens as you ever saw assembled together in any place. You will see brave men, manly strong, buoyant and joyous, with shoulders squared and head erect and swinging an arm that indicates strength; and you may see on the arm of some of them the golden stripes on the right sleeve which indicates wounds received in battle. I cannot and would not attempt to trespass on the time of this House to give any incidents of that magnificent service. It will leak into your homes from time to time from the boys who may confine the stories of the incidents to their immediate friends and to their immediate fireside. But when all that story is written, it will be a magnificent record of achievements such as has never been recorded before in the annals of this great Commonwealth.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, I thank you for this great honor.

Mr. SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the House and thanks General Pusey, and hopes we will have the pleasure of seeing him and hearing from him soon again. We all of us are proud of the record made by the General and his stalwart troops in the recent past.

BILL ON SECOND READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 9:30 P. M. having arrived, the House will take up the special order on page 1 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 703, file folio 2941.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 703, entitled

An Act to further amend section one thousand two hundred ten and to repeal sections one thousand two hundred eleven one thousand two hundred thirteen and two thousand eight hundred five of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three-hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand two hundred ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which as amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred thirty-five) entitled "An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and ten of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" reads as follows

Amend section 1, page 8, line 20, by striking out "Twelve" and inserting in lieu thereof "Eleven."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: Two years ago, during the last session, all differences between those who were in the pedagogical pursuits of the school system, those known as clerical assistants, nurses, truant officers and stenographers and janitors, was eliminated from the school system for the reason that in that session of this Legislature there was passed a bill providing for the retirement of all employes in the school system. I submit to you, gentlemen, that with that act every possible distinguishable feature between teachers and principals and those who were not in the pedagogical pursuits, was eliminated. Three weeks ago this bill No. 703 was presented for consideration to the Committee on Education. At that time the bill provided for teachers alone. A public hearing was had and at that public hearing representatives of the nurses and janitors and attendants, officers and the clerical assistants, very ably presented their case to the Committee on Education. At that meeting my friend from Snyder (Mr. Woodruff), and every other man who during this afternoon has been about this House enlisting your services to put across this amendment, stood in one voice to include its purposes the so-called "other employes." Surely, gentlemen, in the three weeks that have since elapsed, nothing has developed that should have legitimately caused them to change their minds. The gentlemen did submit to you that the clerical assistants and nurses and janitors as well as the attendants and officers are as vital to the structure of the school system of this State as was the military police and the company clerk and the Medical Corps of the Iron Division of this State. Without that military police, without that company clerk and without that medical corps, the men of the Twenty-eighth Division would not have been able to develop the record that in a few days will bring home to you. You may ask yourselves, being unfamiliar with the services that these other employes furnish, just what they do. Without any effort to tire you, I shall to describe as minutely as time will permit exactly what they do. In the first place, the assistants, the clerks, the stenographers, are, together with those others, the very super-structure of our school system, because without them those who are teachers, exclusively, would be compelled to digress from their regular service as teachers and do the work that your clerical assistants, and even the nurses, are doing. A clerical assistant in a school is the statistician who records and keeps the records; she attends to the transfers of the children from one school to another. She records and carefully traces children who don't attend the schools after they have been transferred; she has charge of all non-attendants records; she has charge of all records on contagious diseases and reports back to the teacher when the contagious disease has been remedied and that child can again attend the schools. She develops the records for the truant officers; she attends all of the supplies. She provides supplies for the school and has the school needs at command and she carefully sees to the proper distribution of those supplies. It is the duty of the clerical assistant, likewise, to prepare the payroll of every teacher whose salary this bill will increase and she is the disbursing officer of the particular school to which she it attached. Gentlemen of the House, without these clerical assistants, as I pointed out before, the function and duty of a teacher would be infinitely increased much to the disadvantage and loss of the individual child and pupil. The attendance officer, on the other hand, is the man who does his service and gives to those who pay for the schools in Pennsylvania the maximum of efficiency, because through that attendance officer the attendance of the school is always kept up to its best maximum. That attendance officer visits the homes of the children who are inclined either by their own volition or through the influence of a delinquent parent, to remain absent from school, and now you will see readily that without the function of the attendance officer the attendance in the school may break down at any time and cause a waste of money. The nurses, on the other hand, perform an invaluable service, probably a closer service to the pupil and the teacher than any other of the assistants or other employes. Through the services of these nurses, and through the tender care and careful consideration of a child, backward probably because of poor hearing or poor sight, sits in one classroom without advancement for two and three years, bringing about an expense, as the records will show, of approximately $35.00 a year, and certainly these nurses will discover the reason why the child is backward. The teachers themselves will tell you that no one or all those other employes deliver such valuable assistance to the School System of Pennsylvania as the school nurses. On the other hand, you have the janitors with millions of dollars' worth of property in their care and millions of lives to look after.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests that order be preserved in the House while a bill is under discussion. This bill now under discussion is one of the first importance and the Speaker respectfully asks the gentlemen of the House to retain order.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: The question may have occurred to you, "How much will it cost to include all of these other employes in this bill?" I am glad for the opportunity to tell you. They number, as near as available statistics will show, about twenty-five hundred people, as against, I am told, some forty-five thousand teachers; and the cost of procuring to them the same increase as is procured for the teachers against, as I am told, from nine million to twelve million dollars, is the insignificant sum of two hundred thousand dollars. Gentlemen of the House, this is as the Speaker has said, a measure of infinite importance, doubtless the most important measure that has come before you during this entire session, and can you not but see that to provide an increase for teachers, to develop the highest efficiency for teachers, and to eliminate the service that the other employes might give to that more efficient teacher, to that more fairly-treated teacher, is absurd. Gentlemen of the House, these other employes are as vital to the best service of the teacher as is the school houses in which they teach; and for the best efficiency and for the best expediency, I urge you, in considering this amendment, that you consider the effect that it may have on the better citizenship of this State. I ask you for these reasons to vote down this amendment and permit these other employes to enjoy with the teachers that increase that this bill will give them.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: Just before the civil war, when Abraham Lincoln was confronted with the slavery question, he made this remarkable statement: He said, "If I can best save the Union by destroying slavery, I will do so; if, on the other hand, I can best save the Union by permitting slavery to exist, I will do so. My paramount object is to save the Union."

Now gentlemen, that is exactly my position in regard to this bill. If this bill can best be saved and if it is to the best interests and welfare of this bill to keep the clerks, stenographers, janitors, etc., in the bill, I would be in favor of that; but if I find that it is to the best interests of the forty-five thousand teachers and to the best interests of this bill to strike them out, I am in favor of striking them out. My paramount object is to save this bill. Now, what do we find? Last Wednesday afternoon, at the request of the sponsor of this bill, I assisted him in taking a poll of the members of this House in order to ascertain the sentiment of the members in regard to these amendments. The result of that canvass showed that the sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of these amendments, in favor of striking out the clause relative to janitors, clerks, stenographers, etc. Now, gentlemen, there is another reason: Unless we insert these amendments this bill will have a slim chance to pass this House. A number of the members have openly told me that they will vote against the bill and will work against it unless these amendments are inserted. There is another reason: I hold no brief from the Governor of this Commonwealth to speak for him, and I have no authority to do so, but I have carefully watched every public utterance that he has made during the last few months in regard to this bill, and in practically every utterance he has made he has called the attention of the members of the Legislature and the people of Pennsylvania to the fact that this bill takes so large an amount of revenue. Now I know that if we insert these amendments this bill will have a far better chance when it comes to the Governor's desk than it will have in any other way. This bill was put forward, it was framed it was introduced and it was put forth distinctly as a "teachers' salary bill." It was never intended and never brought forward as a general school bill. If I were to allow my heart to control my actions, I would say, "Give it to them and include them in the bill;" but then we have reached such a stage where we must use hard-hearted common sense; we have reached the stage when we must look out for the welfare of this bill. For several months the forty-five thousand teachers of Pennsylvania have been looking to this Legislature and have been patiently waiting that something be done in regard to this measure. From week to week, for several weeks it has been delayed, just on account of this very issue, and I feel that the time is here now that the House should take a definite stand on the matter, and that we should come to some definite conclusion in order to put this bill on its way through the House and through the Senate and on to the Governor's desk.

I shall not speak in behalf of the forty-five thousand teachers of Pennsylvania. Being a teacher myself, I realize that anything and everything I might say would have a certain ring of selfishness to it because I personally and individually would be interested in the bill. But I want you to look beyond the forty-five thousand teachers of Pennsylvania. I want you to see back of these forty-five thousand teachers the one million and a half of the school children of Pennsylvania who are the real issue in this matter, and who are the persons most vitally concerned and directly benefited by it. We live in one of the richest Commonwealths in the Union. We have our coal, we have our iron, we have our natural gas, we have our limestone, we have our slate, we have our material resources; but I submit to you that the most important, by far the most important resources that we have in Pennsylvania are the boys and girls. The men and women of Pennsylvania are what make this Commonwealth; and in the schoolrooms of today we have a million and a half boys and girls, the future citizens of Pennsylvania who are vitally and directly interested in the passage of this bill.

Gentlemen, this is a matter, as has been said, of almost vital importance. I do not think there has been one single bill before this Legislature that is of the vital importance to this Commonwealth and to the nation and to the State at large, as this present measure. Take the man who is engaged in raising thoroughbred cattle. What kind of a man does he put in charge of them? He would get the very best man that he could get. Take the man who is interested in his farm. He wants a man who is competen tto look after it. Here you have a million and a half of children, and you place them in the hands of these forty-five thousand teachers. What kind of teachers are you going to give to the boys and girls of Pennsylvania? That is the question that you must answer tonight. I have children of my own and the thing I am most vitally concerned with and interested in is in the first place, their environment. I want them, of course, to have the very best school buildings and the most beautiful grounds that we can give them. I give them the very best home which my financial circumstances will permit, but after that there is something still more important. When we place them in the school room, in the plastic and formative stage of their lives, I want to put them in charge of teachers who will breathe into them that spirit, that higher spirit of right and justice, that higher spirit that makes for manhood and womanhood. During this war we have learned to realize that the most important asset of this State or of any other State was its men and women, and in the school rooms of today are the men and women of tomorrow, and they are there in the formative and plastic stage of their lives. These forty-five thousand school teachers of Pennsylvania will leave a lasting impression and effect upon their future lives. In the school room of today are the men and women of tomorrow. I see there the future ministers of the gospel, the men who will run this Government twenty-five, thirty and forty years from now. I see there the mechanics of the next generation; I see there the workers; I see there the great citizenship of Pennsylvania that will march to the polls twenty, thirty or forty years from now, and who will have the destiny of Pennsylvania in their hands. I look to the girls, and I see there the future mothers of Pennsylvania. I see there the women who will raise the generation that is to follow them.

When you consider these matters, when you consider how important this measure is, when you look into the future and see the effect that this bill will have, I say to you, let us not endanger it but let us do everything within our power to help along this bill, and see to it that the boys and girls of Pennsylvania have the very best teachers that it is possible for money to give them. Should this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be so stingy, should it be so niggardly with all its vast wealth, as to lag behind the other Commonwealths of the Nation? Compare the salaries in Pennsylvania to the salaries in your neighboring States and you will agree with me that in the past we have not done justice—to say nothing of the teacher—that we have not done justice to the boys and girls who sit in the school rooms of Pennsylvania, to whom we look, in the future, to take up this Ship of State, and to whom we look to solve the great problems that we will leave in their hands when we depart. Gentlemen, I ask you, in all seriousness, to consider this bill in all its importance, and as I have said before, let us not endanger it. I know that the sentiment of this House is almost overwhelmingly in favor of inserting these amendments, and in order to save this bill, in order to take care of the teachers ,in order to take care of the interests of our boys and girls, in order to take care of the interests of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, let us stand like men and insert these amendments and forward this bill with all possible speed.

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the indulgence of this House for just a moment. I am suffering from a very bad cold, and can barely be heard, and will say but a few words. I have been moved in the direction of this measure from the fact that I have realized for a number of years that the teachers of the State of Pennsylvania are vastly underpaid. I feel that we should do the very best for them that we can, and I feel, furthermore, that the time has come for us to have a piece of legislation that applies to them as a class, and to them alone. I have no objection to having proper legislation to take care of janitors, stenographers, typewriters and nurses; I have no objection, and I shall be pleased to do what I can toward the furthering of a reasonable measure to bring that about in a separate bill, but I feel that inasmuch as many of the members have talked to me about this matter, that we should by all means separate the janitors and truant officers and nurses and typewriters and other clerks from this measure, and take the measure on its own merit and make the very best bill we can to take care of the teachers of Pennsylvania. You have heard how wonderfully important they are to the great cause of civilization and to the future life of this Commonwealth and of the Nation. There are not workers in the entire Republic who are more important than these workers. They have the shaping of the young minds and the making of the citizens. They shall wield the destiny of this Republic and the future good that is to come to this Commonwealth in particular. It seems to me at this time that we should clear up this bill, take it upon its own merit, and do the thing today that is best for the teachers of this Commonwealth, for the safety and the interest of boyhood and girlhood, manhood and womanhood and the civilization and peace that is to come.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention to disturb the atmosphere of this House but for just a few moments, but inasmuch as Mr. Woodruff, the sponsor of this bill, represents the educational side of this House from the standpoint of the college man, and as Mr. Sarig and I seem to have the monopoly of representing the public school teachers of the State, I should like to add a little to what has been said—just a question or two. The majority, perhaps—if not the majority, there are more lawyers perhaps in this House than those representing any other occupation, calling or profession—I would like to ask the lawyers in this honorable body tonight what they would say, or what they would have said, if at the time this House was considering one of those judgeship bills, at which time you will recall the families of the poor judges of this State were represented as being in want, and their poor children crying for bread, what they would have said if the committee had tacked on to one of those judgeship bills an amendment so that the bill would have been made to include the janitors of the courthouses, the court-criers, and the fellows who clean the cuspidors in the courtrooms; and arguing along the line of the argument presented by the gentleman from Philadelphia, the men who clean the cuspidors in the courtrooms must be very necessary to our Department of Justice in this State, just as some of the people who belong to our educational system. But I dare say that if such an amendment had been tacked on to one of those judgeship bills, the lawyers would have thrown out that amendment. It would have gone out of the window of the committe room inside of five minutes after its entrance. I ask you, gentlemn, tonight as a matter of professional pride, for that is just about all the teachers of this State have had in the recent past. We still desire the preservation of that professional pride; and will you not permit us to continue that professional pride by removing from this bill the little appurtenances that have been added to it since it was introduced into this House? It seems to me we should sustain the position taken by the gentleman from Snyder (Mr. Woodruff) in support of the amendments offered by him to remove from the Teachers' Salary Bill the provisions increasing the salaries of janitors, of clerks, of stenographers, and nurses; and I most earnestly hope that this House will support him in the position he has taken.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The Speaker declared the "ayes" appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, and 134 gentlemen voting in the affirmative, more than the majority of a quorum, the motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second and third sections and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 Any school district is authorized to make payments of any such additional salaries in advance of the receipt of the moneys therefore from the State Treasury

Section 3 That sections one thousand two hundred eleven one thousand two hundred thirteen and two thousand eight hundred five of said act be and the same are hereby repealed

An Act to further amend section one thousand two hundred ten and to repeal sections one thousand two hundred eleven, one thousand two hundred thirteen and two thousand eight hundred five of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine), entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that or may be inconsistent therewith."

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will revert to the order of business before the House took up the Special Order. Resolutions are in order. Are there any resolutions?

RESOLUTION GRANTING USE OF THE HALL OF THE HOUSE TO THE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY GENERAL FOR PURPOSE OF A HEARING ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1175.

Mr. FLYNN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the use of the Hall of the House of Representatives be given to the Committee on Judiciary General at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of a hearing on House Bill No. 1175.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 351 (House Bill No. 1029), entitled

An Act authorizing churches cemetery companies and burial associations to lease or convey certain coal and other minerals providing for the use and expenditure of the funds derived therefrom and for the support of the overlying surface on page 9 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state to the gentlemen of the House, for the benefit of the committee who reported this back to third reading, that the district that I represented have been fighting for years to try to get a remedy for the mine-cave situation. This bill, as introduced by ex-Senator Catlin, now dead, provided to permit churches and cemetery organizations to lease or sell the coal from underneath property, providing that the following conditions will be carried out: That is, that the mining companies would not mine within 200 feet of the surface and that they would not be allowed to mine more than fifty per cent. of the mineral and the other fifty per cent. would be left for the support of the cemeteries or church buildings. Since Senator Catlin has died this bill has been amended. I believe in all courtesy to the ex-Senator, that this bill should have been left alone, but since his death it has been amended by striking out "200 feet from the surface," and also "fifty per cent. to be left for the support of cemeteries," making the bill now read that the church organizations and cemetery organizations will be permitted to lease and sell their coal and the companies will be allowed to mine one hundred per cent. of the mineral and coal underneath the cemeteries. I believe that this bill was placed in that position in order to battle down the arguments that Senator Davis has advanced, who has now introduced a bill in the Senate; that this bill has been amended so as to place the organization in a ridiculous position and to permit this bill to be passed and have 100 per cent. of the mine in charge of cemeteries in order for them to come back and defeat mine companies with a bill now before the Senate. The church organizations and cemetery organizations have been battling for the last ten years to protect the dead from being caved into the mines. I say this bill in this form is a ridiculous piece of legislation and interferes with ex-Senator Catlin's wish, whom all the people of that section learned to love; and I ask unanimous consent to have this bill returned to the committee.

Mr. RAMSEY. The gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Fowler, came to me, as I am the chairman of that committee, and told me that they were opposed to this bill. I told him that if the gentlemen were opposed to it and would recommit it to the Committee on Mines and Mining, they could make any amendments that they wish to make.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 576, file folio 3227, entitled

An Act to prohibit medical treatment or surgical operations upon any persons without the consent of such persons or their parents or guardians and prescribing penalties for violations on page 17 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Health and Sanitation.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 335, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws ninety-five), entitled "An Act relating to proceedings where goods or chattels have been levied upon or seized by the sheriff and claimed to belong to others than the defendant in the execution or process" as amended

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws ninety-five), entitled "An Act relating to proceedings where goods or chattels have been levied upon or seized by the sheriff and claimed to belong to others than the defendant in the execution or process" as amended by the act approved the eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and seventy-five), entitled "An Act to amend section two section six section seven and section twelve of an act entitled 'An Act relating to proceedings where goods and chattels have been levied upon or seized by the sheriff and claimed to belong to others than the defendant in the execution or process' approved the twenty-sixth day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven" which reads as follows

"Section 2 If the court shall make said rule absolute the claimant shall give bond to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with security to be approved by the court if in term time or a judge thereof if in vacation in double the value of the goods and chattels claimed in case the appraised value of the said goods and chattels does not exceed the amount of the judgment interest and costs upon which said execution is issued and in case the appraised value does not exceed the amount of said judgment and interest then bond to be given in double the amount of said judgment and interest and probable costs conditioned that he shall at all times maintain his title to said goods and chattels or pay the value thereof to the party thereunto entitled and thereupon the sheriff shall deliver said goods and chattels to the claimant" is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 If the court shall make said rule absolute the claimant shall give bond to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with security to be approved by the court if in term time or a judge thereof if in vacation in double the value of the goods and chattels claimed in case the appraised value of the said goods and chattels does not exceed the amount of the judgment interest and costs upon which said execution is issued and in case the appraised value does exceed the amount of said judgment and interest then bond to be given in double the amount of said judgment and interest and probable costs conditioned that he shall at all times maintain his title to said goods and chattels or pay the value thereof to the party thereunto entitled and thereupon the sheriff shall deliver said goods and chattels to the claimant

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This is the bill known as the State Constabulary Bill. There has not been a session since 1905 but what there has been a fight for an increase in the State Constabulary, and many of you would be no doubt disappointed if labor would not stand now as it always has stood out against this bill. I want to say to you, my friends, in commencing, that the trade union movement of the State of Pennsylvania or of no other state wishes to be placed in a position against law and order. In the strike of 1902 of the anthracite coal miners, in which there was not the least bit of rioting, the militia was called out into this strike in order to suppress riots. But the corporations found out that the State militia was too friendly towards the strikers in the anthracite fields. Then they came in here in 1905 and had passed a bill providing for what is called the State Constabulary. In every session since that time they have continually tried to increase the State Constabulary. Labor, at that time, took the position that this State was going on record to militarize the State of Pennsylvania. In 1911 they succeeded in increasing the State Constabulary. In 1913 they made two attempts, and in 1915 finally. In all these years they came in here and presented the argument that they were a protection to the rural districts. In 1917 you came back and asked for an increase in the State Constabulary. Why? You then clothed your argument in the Stars and Stripes; you presented your argument that patriotism was the reason. You said your militia was out, taken away; and when they were gone away you needed an increase in the State Constabulary to protect the industries and the bridges from the German spies, as was mentioned here. Now you come back again in 1919, when the war is over, and you still ask to increase the State Constabulary; and you also dovetail in with that a Sedition Bill and a Volunteer Police Bill that is now in the Senate; and these bills are to dovetail, to be dovetailed into the State Constabulary for the defeat of the working class in the State. Let me say to you, if you received an increase in the State Constabulary because of the time of war, I would like to know what the excuse is now to increase the State Constabulary further? In our fights on the prohibition question, the prohibitionists here made the arguments in past years, more so than they did this time, and they said, "Look at affairs in the prohibition states and you will see their jails are empty." Now then, my friends, if prohibition is going to purify this State, why do we need a larger increase in the police force? I would like to know that. I want to say to you that if you want to encourage Bolshevikism in the State of Pennsylvania, you put the iron heel on the trades union movement in this State, and that is the only weapon you can use to encourage it. In this session they have presented but a very few bills. Labor has not come out directly opposed to the State Constabulary, but they are coming out opposing the increase of it at this time because of the fact that you have a Sedition Bill that will practically wipe out every labor organization in this State; and you have dovetailed into that another bill that will create a volunteer police force that will dovetail into them and crush down the trades union movement in the State of Pennsylvania. Let me say, my friends, as a Republican, that we Republicans should be careful that we are not going to encourage the laboring class of people in the State of Pennsylvania to look forward to another party. I would rather see them look up to the representatives in the Republican House that we have here today. I opposed this measure two years ago, not so much as against the individuals in the State police. I have nothing against any individual in the State Police, and have always believed in law and order. I fought it that time when you asked for the increase for Major Groome, or Superintendent Groome, from three thousand dollars to six thousand dollars, and you did it. I say the fellow that is in the saddle ought to have got the increase.

Gentlemen, I will not take up the time of this House any longer but will say that many of the members of this House have asked me at numerous times that when labor stood for or against a bill that I should notify them, in order that they could go along. I say to you now that I convey to you the message of all the labor organizations of this State, that they are not so much against the State Constabulary as they are in fear of this Sedition Bill, these dove-tailed bills which are to be dove-tailed into this bill. I say to you in all my experience.—and I have been in many of the other States as a labor organizer.—there has been less trouble in the State of Pennsylvania, the greatest industrial State in America.—there has been less trouble, my friends, during the war from labor trouble than in any other State in the Union. Every craft increased its products and the men showed to you that they were patriotic. They did not need a police force to keep them at work. I want to say to you that those miners—many people voted for the increase of the State Constabulary because of the strikes of 1902 which lasted six months, and there was never a more peaceful strike conducted than that—I want to say to you that those men who toiled in the bowels of the earth, with forty-five thousand less employees than they had before the war, increased the tonnage of this State, and they at least deserve a little consideration. We sent our boys to France to fight against militarism, and if we are going to continually increase the State Constabulary, in a few years we will have Pennsylvania turned into a second Russia.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, it is not my purpose to take up your time, but no doubt the older members of the House, who had the privilege of being here two years ago, will remember a statement that I made upon this floor. At that time I said in good faith, and repeat tonight, that organized labor is not opposed to this bill, notwithstanding the number of petitions that you have received within the last week. Two years ago I made a statement on this floor that I came from the strongest union town and union district that there was in Pennsylvania. I made that statement, and that issue was brought up in my campaign, and I am here to-night. If organized labor was opposed to this bill, it isn't likely that I would be back at this time. It isn't necessary for me to go into details and mention just what this bill provides, because you have had the opportunity of reading it yourself. It is a small bill, but I simply want to call your attention to a sister bill, or companion bill, that passed this House last Tuesday. That bill abolishing the Fire Marshal's division. In this bill that we have tonight, it increases the State Police,—that is true. But a great number of the men that will come under this increase will take up the duties of the Fire Marshal. Further than that, I wish to make this statement: that the bill was given to me personally by the Governor, and I think, gentlemen, that he himself has given this bill his most careful consideration. I am satisfied that the Governor himself will see that labor will be treated, and treated rightly. Therefore, I do not think it is necessary for me to go into a further discussion of this bill.

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell), the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. I certainly will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman who conveyed to him the message that organized labor was not against this bill.

Mr. POWELL. The voters in my district.

Mr. McINTYRE. Did you hear from the American Federation of Labor, under the signature of the American Federation of Labor, that they were for this bill?

Mr. POWELL. I did not.

Mr. McINTYRE. Then why do you try to tell the members of this House that organized labor is not against this bill?

Mr. POWELL. I have already made that statement. Two years ago I declared on the floor of this House that organized labor was not opposed to this bill. Notwithstanding that statement, which was brought up during my campaign, I was returned again, notwithstanding the fact that I come from the strnogest union district there is in Pennsylvania.

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, as an organizer for the American Federation of Labor, I wish to state that labor positively is against this bill, and I ask the gentlemen of the House to vote it down.

REASONS FOR VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 973, (WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT).

Mr. GOLDER. Mr Speaker, in voting in favor of this measure, I desire at the same time to voice my emphatic condemnation against the militant un American, fanatical methods employed by certain classes of publicity seekers It is my confidence in the ability of such good, patriotic and intelligent women as Mrs. W. Logan MacCoy and Mrs. George Piersol, and other good women connected with this cause, to overcome the militants that I vote for this resolution, despite my disapproval of the unfair, unladylike, unlawful, un American methods employed in attempting passage of legislation tending toward woman suffrage. (Filed April 22, 1919).

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:30 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock.

Session 1919 — 123rd of the General Assembly

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 29, 1919. No. 40.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, April 29, 1919.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the good mothers and wives of our State and Nation. We are led to place these heroic women before Thee in prayer because we saw shining from the sleeve of a Pennsylvania mother this morning in this Senate Chamber two gold stars. We pray that Thy richest blessing may be with this sorrowing mother and with all the heroic mothers and wives of this great Commonwealth. These favors we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. EYRE the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Section 3 That section eleven of said act which reads as follows

"Section 11. As soon as a voter is admitted within the rail in the voting-room, at the time of a primary, the election officer having charge of the ballots shall detach one of said non-partisan primary ballots from the stub and give it to the voter, but shall first fold it as required by law. If the voter is entitled to receive a party ballot he shall receive it at the same time he receives the non-partisan primary ballot. Not more than one non-partisan primary ballot shall be given to a voter: Provided, however, That where a voter inadverently spoils a non-partisan primary ballot, he may obtain another as provided by the law, first returning the spoiled ballot, which shall be cancelled, preserved, and returned as in like cases at elections.

The voter shall mark said non-partisan primary ballot and deposit it in the ballot-box at the same time he marks and deposits the party ballot, if any.

The ballot check list and the voting check list at primaries shall have separate columns for party ballots and non-partisan primary ballots, and the officers or clerks keeping such lists shall make separate checks or notations for each class of ballots as they are issued and deposited.

When, after the closing of the polls at a primary, the ballots are taken from the ballot-box, the election officers shall, after counting and making a record of the number of ballots for each party, count the number of non-partisan primary ballots cast, and make a record thereof; and, after counting the vote cast for the different persons named on the party ballots and making a record thereof, shall count the vote cast for the different persons named on the non-partisan primary ballots and make a record thereof; and when said count is finally completed they shall certify, in due and proper form, to the number of votes cast for each person upon the non-partisan primary ballots in addition to certifying the party vote as provided by law. The non-partisan primary ballots and their stubs, and the unused non-partisan ballots, shall be disposed of in the same way as the party ballots, stubs, and unused ballots are disposed of according to law; and the returns of non-partisan votes and register of voters shall be placed in envelopes, sealed, kept, and deposited with the county commissioners, and the returns by them computed and canvassed—all as provided by law with respect to party registers and returns" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 11. Any qualified elector who shall ask for, and who is entitled to receive, a party ballot, shall be given the party ballot to which he is entitled, which shall contain the non-partisan primary ballot as provided for in this act and shall not receive any separate non-partisan primary ballot. Any qualified elector who desires to vote only or is entitled to receive only a non-partisan primary ballot shall be given a separate non-partisan primary ballot, and no other ballot. Not more than one non-partisan primary ballot shall be given to a voter: Provided, however, That where a voter inadverently spoils a non-partisan primary ballot, he may obtain another as provided by law, first returning the spoiled ballot, which shall be cancelled, preserved, and returned as in like cases at elections.

The voter shall mark said non-partisan primary ballot and deposit it in the ballot-box at the same time he marks and deposits the party ballot, if any.

The ballot check list and the voting check list at primaries shall have separate columns for party ballots and non-partisan primary ballots, and the officers or clerks keeping such lists shall make separate checks or notations for each class of ballots as they are issued and deposited.

When, after the closing of the polls at a primary, the ballots are taken from the ballot-box, the election officers shall after counting and making a record of the number of ballots for each party, count the number of non-partisan primary ballots cast, and make a record thereof; and, after counting the vote cast for the different persons named on the party ballots and making a record thereof, shall count the vote cast for the different persons named on the non-partisan primary ballots and make a record thereof; and when said count is finally completed they shall certify in due and proper form, to the number of votes cast for each person upon the non-partisan primary ballots, in addition to certifying the party vote as provided by law. All votes cast for any non-partisan candidate on the non-partisan ballot which is printed on the regular party ballots shall be counted and added to the votes cast for such candidate on the separate non-partisan primary ballots, and the total thus obtained shall be certified by the election officers together with the record of the party vote, as herein provided

"Section 12 The county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the county commissioners of the respective counties the result of the computation of the vote at least thirty days prior to the date of the succeeding election" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 12 The county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the county commissioners of the respective counties the result of the computation of the vote at least thirty days prior to the date of the suceeding election Immediately after the county commissioners shall make the proper certification of return of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth it shall also be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the manner hereinafter provided to establish the order of precedence of said names on the ballots and certify the same to the county commissioners of the respective counties at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the succeeding election

Section 5 That section thirteen of said act which as amended by an act approved the eighteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and fifty) entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and punishment of certain offences' approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen so as to make the proviso to section thirteen of said act operative where two or more candidates for the office of judge of any court of record consisting of several judges are to be elected at one election" reads as follows

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARNES. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. President, I would just like to know the purpose of the bill, not presuming to criticise its merits.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, to be entirely frank, I am not sufficiently familiar with the provisions of the bill to answer the interrogation. I would suggest that the bill go over in its order and Senator Barnes and I will go over it together. This bill was prepared by the Department of State for the purpose of simplifying and making more workable the non-partisan act. Personally, I have not read it.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. President, I do not ask for that at all. I am perfectly content to let it go on, as far as that is concerned.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I understand that this bill puts the non-partisan tickets on the regular tickets, so that there will be no difficulty in ascertaining the number of votes cast and the relation it bears to the total vote, and I am advised too that the names on the ticket go on according to lot, they draw lots for positions, instead of going on in alphabetical order.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order:

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 73, as follows:

An Act to provide a method upon petition of owner with notice to wife of bankrupt for ascertaining determining and charging statutory interest inchoate on lands of bankrupt sold under order of United States Court by report of viewers and decree of court of common pleas in certain cases freeing and discharging part of such lands from such statutory interest inchoate and charging same upon a portion of lands formerly owned by bankrupt in case of death of wife during life of bankrupt or after his death to discharge the lands from such statutory interest inchoate or statutory interest fixed by decree of court providing for service of rules and notices and for appeal from final decree of such court

Whereas real estate of bankrupts sold under order of the United States courts is not discharged of statutory interest inchoate but is taken by the purchaser subject to such statutory interest and

Whereas it is desirable that a method of ascertaining and determining such statutory interest inchoate should be established before the death of the bankrupt therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in any instance where lands of a bankrupt have been or shall hereafter be sold under order of the United States courts and the bankrupt shall be living and shall have a wife living who was his lawful wife during any portion of the time between the date of being declared a bankrupt and completion of sale of his real estate it shall be lawful for the purchaser or purchasers or any of them his their or its heirs successors or assigns to present a petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such real estate may be situate setting forth the facts together with a description of the real estate owned by the petitioner or petitioners and praying the said court to grant a rule upon the wife of the bankrupt to appear upon a day certain to be designated by said court to show cause if any she has why viewers should not be appointed to ascertain and determine the statutory interest inchoate which she might be entitled to upon the death of her husband the bankrupt should she survive him and also why such statutory interest inchoate should not be entirely charged upon a certain part or portion of the real estate formerly owned by such bankrupt provided the same could be divided and a part thereof should be bound by the viewers to be sufficient to secure such statutory interest inchoate

Section 2 Whereupon it shall be the duty of said court of common pleas to direct a rule to issue to be served upon the wife of the bankrupt at least ten days before the return day Such service shall be personal if the wife of the bankrupt resides in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Should she not reside in the county where the rule issues the sheriff of that county shall transmit the rule to the sheriff of the county wherein she resides and that official shall have authority to make such service and return thereof through the sheriff of the county wherein the rule issues to the court Should she not reside in the Commonwealth or should it appear by affidavit of petitioner that her residence is not known and could not be ascertained by diligent inquiry then such service shall be by publication for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers of the county wherein the rule issues the last publication to be ten days before the return day

Section 3 On any day after the return day if it shall appear to the court of common pleas that service of the rule has been made personally or by publication then it shall be the duty of the court to appoint five viewers who shall fix a day for hearing and give notice thereof to the wife of the bankrupt in the manner herein provided for service of the rule

Section 4 Upon the day of hearing testimony shall be heard upon part of petitioner and upon part of respondent should she appear and produce witnesses or other evidence which testimony shall be reduced to writing and filed by the viewers with their report to the court

Section 5 The viewers shall find the facts and make report to the court and such report shall contain the following

(a) The name and residence of the bankrupt the court by which he was declared a bankrupt and the date thereof

(b) The name and residence of the wife of the bankrupt or if her residence shall not be known the fact shall appear

(c) A description of all the real estate held by petitioners and formerly owned by the bankrupt and subject to statutory interest inchoate at the date when he was declared a bankrupt and the date when such real estate was sold by order of the United States court and the name of the purchaser or purchasers

(d) The name of the owner or owners of such real estate together with the market value thereof exclusive of the statutory interest inchoate at the time of the hearing and report of viewers

(e) Whether the real estate owned by the petitioner or petitioners could be divided so that the statutory interest inchoate could be secured and charged on a particular portion thereof and if so then a description and draft of each part thereof with the market value of each purpart

(f) A recommendation by the viewers or a majority thereof as to the real estate or the portion thereof upon which such statutory interest inchoate should be charged and in case of division which portion of such real estate should be freed and discharged of such statutory interest inchoate

(g) A finding by the viewers or a majority thereof of the amount of statutory interest inchoate and description of the land upon which the same shall be charged

(h) The report shall be signed by not less than a majority of the viewers

Section 6 Upon the filing of the report of viewers the same shall be confirmed nisi and if exceptions to the findings of fact and report of viewers be not filed within ten days the same shall be confirmed absolutely

Section 7 Should exceptions be filed the same shall be heard by the court of common pleas and the findings and report of the viewers shall be affirmed or modified as may be determined by the court and a decree made accordingly fixing and determining the statutory interest inchoate which the respondent may be entitled to upon the death of her husband should she survive him and the land or lands or portion or portions thereof upon which such statutory interest inchoate shall be charged and in case of division the freeing and discharging from such statutory interest inchoate of other lands owned by and belonging to petitioners

Section 8 Upon the death of the bankrupt and the survival of his wife she shall be entitled to statutory interest upon the valuation fixed and determined by the report of viewers as approved or modified by the court and charged upon such lands by the decree of said court

Section 9 Upon the death of the wife of the bankrupt during the life of the bankrupt or after his death upon proof of such fact duly made to the court of common pleas the court shall decree that the statutory interest inchoate or statutory interest charged upon such land shall be discharged and the same shall be held by the owner free of such statutory interest inchoate

Section 10 Either party shall have the right of appeal from any final decree of the court of common pleas and the same shall be heard and determined by the appellate court and a decree entered accordingly

Section 11 Only lands formerly of the bankrupt and owned by petitioner or petitioners shall be affected by this act

Section 12 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 706 (House No. 931), entitled:

An Act providing for the refunding of liquor license fees and additional taxes to wholesale and retail dealers brewers distillers rectifiers compounders bottlers agents and other persons prevented from engaging in business by order or regulation of the President or Secretary of War providing for the return of the proportions thereof paid to municipalities and the Commonwealth and making an appropriation

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I wish to ask someone to explain the purport of this bill. It is not fully set forth in the title.

Mr. GRAY. Mr. President, this is a very simple matter. Within the distance of one-half mile from camps the saloons are closed, and during the time of the closing we want to reimburse them for the amount of license money they have paid the State to allow them to do business. That is all there is to the bill.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, a great many people were prevented from doing business during the war. We were compelled to do without light in our stores; we were compelled to eat bread which was made from other ingredients and materials than flour and I do not see that we should protect one branch of business and not the others, therefore, I feel compelled to vote against the passage of this bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, just along this line I do not believe the statement of Senator Snyder exactly follows what happened in this case. In these particular instances, the men who had licenses were closed by the order of the Government, and as a result of being closed the State of Pennsylvania took from them, and only a few of them, certain moneys for certain privileges which the State of Pennsylvania had granted them. Now, the question involved is this simple question, is the State of Pennsylvania in a position to take from the citizens their money for something the State did not give them. That is what happened in these cases. The State authorized it and the Government restricted them, and the State took from them their money for their licenses for that particular time. In other words, the State took a certain sum of money from its citizens and gave them nothing in return. This bill asks that the State reimburse the men for the money that it took from them and for which it gave them nothing.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 820, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections ten, thirteen, fourteen and fifteen of an act entitled "An Act regulating certain political parties; providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions, and of certain party officers, including State committeemen; a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States; and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State, of the expenses of the same; authorizing the State committee of a political party to make, and to alter, amend and revoke, rules; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein; and repealing inconsistent legislation," approved the twelfth day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 719), so as to provide fully how many official and specimen ballots shall be provided for each party at the primaries and to whom the same shall be delivered; what other election materials shall be furnished and what printed instructions shall be given voters and election officers; how the official ballots shall be given to qualified electors; how party membership shall be evidenced and how and when it may be challenged; how the vote shall be counted, recorded and returned by the election officers, what shall be done with the ballots voted, their stubs and the unused, spoiled and void ballots, tally papers, oaths of election officers, affidavits of voters, etc., lists of voters of each party, triplicate and other return sheets, and who shall have the custody of same; to require the return and public inspection of all the spoiled and unused ballots from each election district before the computation of any returns therefrom; to prescribe the method of computing and canvassing such returns publicly; to provide who shall constitute the return board for any county wherein one or more of the commissioners are candidates at any primary; to regulate the manner of correcting apparent errors in certain returns and the opening of ballot boxes and the recounting of votes when any county commissioner or judge of the Court of Common Pleas deems it necessary in order to obtain a correct count or upon the petition of three electrors averring fraud or error; to assure the right of any authorized representative of any party or candidate to hear, record and check up the returns as read as well as to inspect the same and any other public documents relating to any primary election; to allow any person aggrieved by any decision of the county commissioners to appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of the proper county; to make certain volations of said acts as amended hereby misdemeanors and to provide penalties for the punishment of such offenses and to repeal inconsistent legislation.

Senate Bill No. 821, entitled:

An Act to provide for the personal registration of electors as a condition of their right to vote at elections and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth; by removing from office all existing registration commissioners and their appointees in said cities and authorizing the Governor to appoint registration commissions therein; defining the jurisdiction of said commissions and the powers and duties of the commissioners constituting same, and of their appointees, including registrars, inspectors of registration, clerks and counsel; fixing their qualifications, terms of office and compensation; granting them certain immunity from arrest on registration days and empowering such inspectors to arrest, without warrant, certain persons committing certain offenses in violation of this act in their presence, as well as to enter and inspect buildings given as residences of electors, to interrogate the inmates thereof to copy or demand a list of the lodgers therein and to supervise the conduct of registrars; regulating the registration of electors at polling places by registrars, and at the offices of commissions by commissioners, and the right of parties or bodies of electors to have watchers thereat, and the preparation and use of street lists and other records of those registered; allowing the names of persons not entitled to vote to be struck from the registers in certain cases; permitting all records regarding registration to be inspected and copied by any elector under certain conditions, directing how the registers shall be used at elections and primaries; compelling the attendance of witnesses and payment of witness fees, and providing penalties for refusal to obey subpoenas; directing Receivers of Taxes to appoint Chief Clerks of Commissions as deputies to collect poll taxes and to give receipts therefor; authorizing such clerks to administer oaths, sign subpoenaes and vouchers and to collect and disburse witness fees; prescribing a method for challenging persons applying for registration and the procedure for the correction of registers and for appealing from actions of registrars to said commissions and allowing for appeals from the decisions of the commissions in certain cases to Courts of Common Pleas; imposing certain duties upon election officers and upon the Councils, Treasurers, Controllers, Receivers of Taxes, Police Officers, and other officials of said cities and upon the Courts, Judges, Prothonotaries, Sheriffs, Commissioners, Peace Officers and other officials of the judicial districts and counties in which said cities are situated, or with which they are co-extensive; legalizing certain acts required hereby, if done on any Sunday or Legal Holiday; requiring said cities to provide for the maintenance of said commissions and the compensation of their appointees and the payment of all expenses necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and to transfer the unexpended balances of all appropriations heretofore made for the personal registration of electors of said cities during the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, to and for the use of the said commissions; punishing and fixing penalties for violations hereof and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith.

Senate Bill No. 822, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and three entitled "An Act relating to change of polling-places and authorizing the commissioners to change the same"

go over in their order.

Mr. President, the reason I ask that these bills go over in their order is that one of the other Senators from Philadelphia, Senator Vare, is confined to his home by illness. I hold in my hand a telegram in which he states: "I have been sick since Thursday of last week with a severe cold on my chest, and ask leave of absence. Edwin H. Vare." I would say to you, ontside of that, sir, that it is only a courtesy which should be extended, I would press that these bills go on, bnt under these circumstances ask that they go over.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Section 432 That the Commonwealth offers rewards as hereinafter provided for the construction and improvement of township roads and the erection and construction of township bridges in townships of the second-class

All moneys appropriated by the General Assembly from time to time for the payment of rewards to townships of the second class for the construction and improvement of roads and the erection and construction of bridges as in this act provided for shall be apportioned by the State Highway Department among the several counties of this Commonwealth in proportion to the number of miles of township road located in townships of the second class

Of the amount apportioned to the several counties for road and bridge improvements in townships of the second class under the provisions of this act not more than fifteen per centum of such appropriation shall be available in any one township in any such county In case any excess in the amount set aside for use in the county remains after all applications from the several townships in the county have been considered the township commissioner of the State Highway Department shall apportion the excess amount among the townships that have applications on file for State reward for more than fifteen per centum Should there be not enough applications from all the townships in a county to exhaust the apportionment of the State reward fund made to a county then such excess shall be apportioned to the counties where the applications of the townships call for the expenditure of a sum greater than the amount originally apportioned to said county

Applications for rewards for the construction and improvement of township roads and for the erection and construction of township bridges shall be made by the township supervisor of townships of the second class on or before March first one thousand nine hundred and twenty and annually thereafter to the State Highway Department on blanks furnished by the Department which applications shall be considered by the Department in their order of filing Applications not granted by reason of a lack of funds shall be given first consideration in the following year or years

Section 433 Before any roads are constructed or improved or bridges are erected or constructed under the provisions of this act the supervisors of the township of the second class asking for a reward shall furnish to the township commissioner of the State Highway Department a copy of the plans and specifications of the proposed improvement together with estimates of the cost of such improvement unless such plans and estimates have been made by said Department No reward shall be paid under the provisions of this act to any township until this Commonwealth has approved the plans and specifications as filed in the Department When such plans and specifications have been approved the township commissioner shall certify to the township supervisors the proportion of the cost of such improvement which the Commonwealth agrees to pay The proportion agreed upon to be paid by the Commonwealth shall not exceed the amount per mile as hereinafter provided in this act and where the cost of the improvement is less than that set forth in the estimate or contract a proper deduction shall be made by the Commonwealth for such decrease in cost

Section 434 Rewards shall be granted by the Commonwealth for improvements only of the charter herein set forth viz (a) for grading and draining a section of a road not less than one-half mile in length (b) for gravelling or cindering a grade and drained road not less than one-half mile in length (c) for macademizing a road or for constructing a Telford macadam road of not less than one-half mile in length (d) for constructing a concrete brick or bituminous surfaced road of not less than one-half mile in length (e) for the erection and construction of bridges of three feet or more span constructed of concrete or stone or a combination of concrete and stone or a steel bridge with a floor constructed of a material approved by the State Highway Department (f) for the purchase and installment of culvert and drain pipes

Whenever any improvements of the character mentioned in this section have been completed by any township of the second class the State will pay as a reward the following sums viz I For roads of the character set forth in subdivision (a) twenty-five per centum of the cost of making such improvement not to exceed three hundred dollars per mile II For roads of the character set forth in subdivision (b) twenty-five per centum of the cost of making such improvement not to exceed eight hundred dollars per mile III For roads of the character set forth in subdivision (c) twenty-five per centum of the cost of making such improvement not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars per mile IV For roads of the character set forth in subdivision (d) twenty-five per centum of the cost of making such improvement not to exceed three thousand dollars per mile V For bridges constructed under subdivision (e) twenty-five per centum of the contract price and not in any case to exceed twenty-five per centum of the actual cost of said bridge when constructed by the supervisors VI For the purchase and installation of culvert and drain pipes under subdivision (f) twenty-five per centum of the purchase price of said culvert or drain pipes when said pipes have been placed but no pavement shall be made under this provision for culverts and drain pipes installed in grading and draining a section of road for which payments are made under Clause one

The aforesaid rewards shall be based upon roads the improvement of which shall be of a width of not less than sixteen feet and corresponding reduction or addition in the amount of reward shall be made as the width of the improved road is reduced or increased but no reward shall be paid for the improvement of any road of a less width than twelve feet

Section 435 All improvements made in accordance with the provisions of this act may be made by the township supervisors of such township by contract to be let by the township supervisors to the lowest and best bidder after three weeks publication in at least two newspapers published in the county in which such township is located or such improvements may be made partly by the township and partly by contract to be let only after advertisement as herein before provided All the work of making said improvement may be done by the township.

Upon completion of the work for which a State reward has been granted according to the plans and specifications and contract or agreement verified by the sworn statement of a majority of the board of township supervisors and such other evidence as the township commissioner may require said township commissioner with the approval of the State Highway Commissioner shall certify to the Auditor General the amount of State reward due said township and he shall draw a warrant upon the State Treasurer as provided by act of Assembly to the treasurer of the board of supervisors which shall be paid out of money appropriated for the purpose

Section 436 Whenever the township highway funds have been exhausted the board of supervisors may issue a certificate of indebtedness and borrow on the credit of the township money in anticipation of taxes to be collected to the end that work may be performed in proper season and in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed

Section 437 Upon the neglect or refusal of the supervisors of any township to carry out the instructions rules and regulations of the township commissioner of the State Highway Department then the township commissioner of the State Highway Department may withhold from such township the amount to which it would otherwise be entitled for the year in which said neglect or refusal occurred

Section 438 The State Highway Department shall furnish blanks to the supervisors in which said supervisors or a majority of them shall make a sworn statement that the money has been expended in building repairing maintaining dragging and improving the township roads according to the instructions standards and specifications of the rules and regulations prescribed by the State Highway Department so far as the available funds and local conditions make it possible

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MEMORIAL SERVICE ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE J. FRANK GRAFF, LATE SENATOR FROM THE FORTY-FIRST DISTRICT.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Clarence J. Buckman) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by the resolution for holding the memorial services on the death of Honorable J. Frank Graff, late Senator from the Forty-first District, the Senate will be in order and will be opened with prayed by the Chaplain.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Our heavenly Father, we are assembled here this afternoon to pay a well-deserved tribute of respect to the memory of our friend and colleague, the Honorable J. Frank Graff. This memorial session reminds us once again of the splendid service he rendered in various ways to his State and Nation. He was always modest, congenial, sincere, and brotherly; dearly beloved and trusted by those whom he represented; greatly admired and respected by his colleagues of this Senate.

He was deeply interested in the personal welfare of all the families and workmen of his local community; gladly shared their joys and sorrows; was a strong factor in all their social activities; a busy worker in his local church and Sabbath school, of which school he was the honored and beloved Superintendent for a number of years. He was broad-minded and fair in all his business relations. His love of country was expressed in the gift of two sons who rendered heroic and distinguished service in our American army.

> "His life was gentle; and the elements
> So mix'd in him, that Nature might stand up
> And say to all the world, 'This was a man!' "

We pray that the memory of his God-fearing and generous life may be a source of great comfort and deep consolation to his widow, his daughter, his sons, and other relatives and friends. We pray also that Thy blessing may be with all the members of this Senate and with their families.

These favors we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE J. FRANK GRAFF, LATE SENATOR FROM THE FORTY-FIRST DISTRICT.

Mr. F. E. BALDWIN offered the following resolution which was twice read:

Whereas, J. Frank Graff, late a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania from the Forty-first Senatorial District, has, since the close of the session of the Legislature of 1917, passed from the busy scenes of life to his eternal rest; and

Whereas, His public and private life was a bright and noble example of honor, integrity and faithfulness, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby enter upon its minutes its appreciation of the services of the late Senator Graff as a member of this body, who, at all times, was esteemed for his fidelity to duty, ever found to be a true and faithful friend, an earnest advocate of the interests of his constituents and an ever ready champion of the right;

Resolved, That we hereby extend to his family our sincere sympathy in their great loss, and direct that a copy of these resolutions properly attested be forwarded to the bereaved family.

FRANK E. BALDWIN,
Chairman.
WILLIAM DAVID CRAIG,
MARSHALL L. PHIPPS,
MILES R. NASON,
NORMAN A. WHITTEN,
WILLIAM E. CROW,
WILBUR P. GRAFF,
SCOTT S. LEIBY.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. F. E. BALDWIN. Mr. President and fellow senators: Under the resolution just read I deem it my duty and privilege to pay brief tribute to the memory of our friend, former Senator J. Frank Graff. He was born like so many men who have attained success and high position in life on a farm in Worthington, Armstrong County, on August 12, 1857; was educated in the public schools of his native town; prepared for college at Stevens Hall and afterwards graduated from Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg in 1879, soon after his graduation he engaged in the woolen manufacturing business and became a member of the firm of Peter Graff & Co., and was actively engaged in conducting the affairs of his company up to the time of his death. He took a personal interest in farming; he was also a director in the Merchants' National bank, of Kittanning, from the time of its organization; from very early manhood he took an active interest in public affairs, besides holding other positions of trust, he was a delegate to the Republican State Convention in 1897; elected to the House of Representatives in 1900; re-elected in November, 1902; was a Roosevelt elector in 1904; elected to the State Senate in November 1912 and re-elected to the Senate in November, 1916, thus serving in the sessions of 1913-15 and 17. Death came to him on June 6, 1918. In addition to his interest in public affairs, we are told that he took a great interest in the welfare of his town and county. Was very loyal and devoted to his church and contributed most liberally of his time and money to its support. Superintendent of its Sunday School many years.

As we have just indicated he was active in business affairs,—besides the personal management of the firm of Peter Graff & Co., large woolen manufacturers, he gave a considerable attention to his farm and was keenly interested as a director in the Merchants' National Bank of Kittanning and in various other enterprises. He was devoted to his family and home and leaves a wife and eight children to mourn his loss. Seven sons and one daughter. Two sons in the service, one a major in the 28th Division. We know of his service among us in this body,—an honest, upright legislator who intended to do his full duty at all times; a fellow senator that was courteous and pleasant. He may not have been as aggressive and courageous in somethings as others, but always affable and honest in his convictions, we are sure, and the Senate feels that they have lost a most worthy representative and a good friend; that his community mourns a kind neighbor and friend and its most prominent citizen; his family a most devoted husband and father and our heartfelt sympathy goes out to them in their great bereavement.

We appreciate fully as our sentiments the sentiment so beautifully expressed by Irvine in these lines:

> "There is a voice from the tomb sweeter than song;
> There is a remembrance of the dead, to which we > Turn even from the charms of the living.
> These we would not exchange for the song of pleasure
> Or the burst of revelry."

And we are sure that it can well be said of him, whose memory we cherish:

"That he so lived that when he came to the river that marks the unknown shore,—that his hands were filled with deeds of charity the Golden Keys that ope' the palace to eternity."

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, Frank Graff, a distinguished member of this Senate, reached the end of the long road that we are all traveling on the 6th day of June of last year. Senator Graff was one of the most popular and best liked members of this body. His characteristic that stood out above all others was his absolute honesty of purpose. You never needed to ask Frank Graff where he stood on any measure. All you needed to do was to read the measure under consideration and you knew where Senator Graff would be. When he had made up his mind which was right and which was wrong no consideration of political expediency, no consideration of the effect upon his personal or political fortunes could induce him, even for a minute, to be any where except just where he thought was right. You know that in a place where you are not well known, by a pleasing demeanor or the assumption of integrity, you may deceive people. The true test of what a man is is what the people who know him best think of him. Last summer I went up into that little village in the hills of Armstrong County, where we laid Senator Graff to rest, and when I saw the people from miles around who had flocked into that little country church yard to do honor to our deceased friend, when I saw the sorrow written on their faces, the grief in their eyes, when I heard what they had to say about Frank Graff and what he had been and what he had meant to that community, and the life that he lived among them—when I heard and saw these things from his neighbors, who had known him from childhood, and who knew him best, I could well understand then what it was in Frank Graff's character that made him so many friends. In the death of Senator Graff his home community has lost its greatest citizen; the State has lost one of its ablest sons; and we who knew him so well last session have lost one of our best friends. Mr. President, these losses are irreparable; they can never be made up. Frank Graff is gone and there is nothing left for us but the memory of his presence and the effects upon us of his many kind deeds while he was here. I know that it is not quite orthodox, and I may be condemned for expressing these sentiments, but I think that if a man leads a good clean life, if he just plays the game on the square and is just true to himself and to his fellow man, that when his time comes to go he will have done all that could have been expected reasonably of him; and, Mr. President, I am sure that Frank Graff, in the light of what he has done here on earth, in the light of the flawless life that he lived, so nearly as any man could in the sins and temptations of the world, that when he stood before the great white throne, before the judgment bar of the court of last resort, that Jesus Christ the merciful for his advocate, the Maker of us all, said to Frank Graff, "Enter, in thee I see no harm." And I believe that when we have heard the last summons that calls us home, when we have reached the end of the same road that Frank Graff traveled down, when we have come to that other shore, that we will find Frank Graff standing there on the threshold to greet us there, as he stood, times without number, at the back door of this Senate to greet us here, that he will have the same happy smile on his face, the same clear light in his eyes, the same glad handshake, and that he will be glad to see us, just as we will be glad to see him.

Mr. NASON. Mr. President, gentlemen of the Senate: It is with mingled feelings of sadness and sorrow and pleasure that I rise at this time to move the adoption of the resolutions that have just been presented. One of the first Senators that I met and became acquainted with when I entered upon my official duties in this body was the Honorable J. Frank Graff. From that time down through the session of 1917 and up to the time of his death I learned to regard him with a great deal of admiration, and I counted him among my friends, a friend who was true and trusty. I regard Frank Graff as a man of sterling qualities, honest and true. He was a man, stalwart, honest and true among men. Frank Graff as he appealed to me was a man of strong convictions. He was a man that weighed the subjects that were brought before him conscientiously, carefully attempting to arrive at the exact truth, and when he had come to those conclusions they were deep convictions with him, because they were based upon the truth, arrived at conscientiously. Frank Graff, while he had these convictions, was always ready to express them. He even became serious, and sometimes aggressive, in his own views; at the same time he was always tolerant, he was always fair, and always treated with courtesy and kindness those who disagreed with him. Frank Graff in the discharge of his duties in this body was always faithful; he was always conscientious; he was always constant in the discharge of every duty that came before him in this body. He was always true to his constituents. He ever had in mind the best interest of the Commonwealth of which he was a member. He was loyal to his country and to his flag. Frank Graff as I remember him—as I knew him—always met you with a smile; he always met you with a hearty greeting; always ready to help you. There are members of this body, who, I know, can bear witness to-day to the counsel and help rendered them by J. Frank Graff during that arduous session of 1917.

Frank Graff was a man that was proud of his family. He was a man that was proud of those that bore his name. He was a loving husband. He was a kind and considerate parent. Frank Graff as I regarded him was a loyal citizen—his loyalty was never questioned. He was true to his citizenship: he was true to his flag; true to his country. This I consider as most decidedly proved by the manly and heroic manner in which he uncomplainingly and proudly consented to the entrance into the service of the United States of his two sons. He often spoke to me of those two sons. He was proud of the course they took, and he never regretted that they had joined the army and had gone out to fight for their country. This certainly proved his loyalty. It was these qualities, I consider, that made of J. Frank Graff a typical American citizen; that made of him a great Senator, that made of him a fine neighbor.

It was with a decided shock of sorrow and sadness that last June we heard of his departure. We had learned to love him, we had learned to esteem and regard him as a man with whom it was a pleasure to be acquainted. I consider it a decided pleasure to have known and been acquainted with Frank Graff, I consider it an advantage to me to have been associated with him in this body. But, he has gone. It was a shock that we should note his departure from a busy and active life, when he was apparently in the strength of his manhood. We will miss him; we will miss him at his desk; we will miss his kindly smile; we will miss his congenial greeting; we will miss him in the discussion of the matters that come before this body. But he has gone. We perhaps cannot understand the Providence in events like these that we cannot control, they are unalterable, they are beyond our comprehension, and it seems to me that all we can say is that it was for the best. But this we do know, this we can understand, we know that Frank Graff will be missed, a loss to his family. The family has lost a kind parent; the wife has lost a loving husband, and the community in which he lived has lost a neighbor, a friend, a helper, one which perhaps cannot be replaced. He will be missed in this body, his deliberations and conclusions were all of the best. He was a true statesman, always having at heart the interests of the state and the nation. We will miss him, he has gone. We may bring flowers to his bier; we may at this time put on the records the minutes of his death and of our regards and appreciation of his life. It is with a degree of pleasure that this afternoon we recount and remember the fine qualities of Frank Graff; the fine things that he did; his manliness; his heroism; his true citizenship, but we cannot recall him, and while we do these things, they are but a slight memento of his sterling worth and qualities. They are but a meagre appreciation of the feeling we have for him, of an appreciation of his life and character, but we cannot do more. We appreciate him beyond words that we can express. We will say that it comes from a heart of kindliness.

Mr. LEIBY: Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate. When I stepped into the portals of this Senate Chamber as a new member, a little over two years ago, one of the first men to greet me was the late J. Frank Graff. Unlike some of the other members of this body who try to impress the new members with their importance and with their power, J. Frank Graff would meet the new members of this Senate with kindness and humanity and try to make you feel at home in your new office and in your new home. I knew him as a member of this Senate during the session of 1917, and when the news of his death came to us at a time when this nation was embroiled in the greatest conflict of ages, and when we were busily engaged with the affairs at home, this news came as a sudden shock, and while we were learning daily of the news of thousands of deaths across the waters, the news of the death of such a friend struck us with a peculiar sensation and brought to us a reminder of the presence of death even in the peaceful vocations and advocations of life, teaching us that at no time are we safe and secure with the life that is given us as a treasure and a benefit to all mankind. Some men may measure life differently, men may place different values upon the success and failure of men; some men consider it their chief aim in life, to secure and possess riches, other men to sit in high stations in life, other men find it their greatest glory in serving humanity and in humility carrying out the dictates of the conscience that has been trained from the very lap of a faithful mother, even down to the day when the body is laid in the tomb. J. Frank Graff typified the last mentioned type of citizen, a man that did not crave for notoriety, a man that did not crave the dollar above the soul of man, but the man who found his greatest pleasure and his greatest delight in spreading the gospel of brotherly love, friendship and of helpfulness to all those with whom he came in contact. We found in J. Frank Graff as a member of this distinguished body such a personage. We did not admire him for his brilliant oratory, we did not admire him for any matchless leadership that comes from powers that are delegated, but we admired him for his sincerity, we admired him for his hospitality and his singleness of purpose. Firm in conviction, nevertheless always tolerant; always just in his treatment of fellow members of this body, and always from his countenance and his life emanated those rays of love and kindness, that make his memory one of the sweet things of this life. The life of J. Frank Graff has made everyone better who came in contact with him: the life that he led leaves footprints on the sands of time that make for honesty and clearness of purpose and for positiveness of character. We will remember him for these traits and we loved him for these traits, because he was here, because he was associated with us and because he has lived with us, everyone has been benefitted; his life has not been lived in vain, but by his life the world has been made better, humanity has been raised just a little from its ordinary and common place to better living conditions, to better conceptions our vision has been broadened and we see the purpose of life in a new way, and with a new clearness, and we appreciate that to live in this life is to serve our fellow men. J. Frank Graff is missed today because of these peculiar qualities of humility, of honesty and courage, and because of his singleness of heart. His body has been laid away but there is a memory that lives in the hearts of everyone that knew him; it is a memory that comes to us at refreshing moments and brings us not only into closer communionship with each other but it bears us nearer toward our creator. J. Frank Graff's mission in life was to bring these qualities to humanity and to all those whom he came into contact; he performed that mission and because he lived we are better, and everyone with whom he came in contact.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—47.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION CALLING ATTENTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS FROM PENNSYLVANIA TO DEATH OF HARRY WAGNER AND REQUESTING THEM TO TAKE SUCH ACTION AS MAY BE NECESSARY.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1919.

Whereas, One Harry Wagner, a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, residing at number 229 Brownsville Road, Mt. Oliver Borough, Allegheny County, and who was a soldier in Company "C," 305th Field Signal Battalion, attached to the 80th Division, and served with honor on the battlefield of France, died on January 23, 1919, while in service in France:

Whereas, His family was notified of his death on February 7th, 1919, which has since made repeated efforts to ascertain the cause of his death, but without success; and

Whereas, From correspondence received from soldiers who knew the deceased, and came into close contact with him, it appears that the deceased was not accorded proper or sufficient medical attention when request therefor was made, and that he was forced to remain on duty while ill, and died shortly after being relieved from duty, and that charges have been made that he was unnecessarily neglected by officers in charge, and by the medical authorities; therefore be it

Resolved, (If the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully call the attention of the Honorable Boies Penrose and the Honorable Philander C. Knox, United States Senators from Pennsylvania, to the facts hereinbefore set forth, and request them to take such action as may be necessary to investigate the facts surrounding the illness and death of the said Harry Wagner, to the end that those in authority guilty of any neglect or misconduct may be properly charged therewith.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall send a copy of this resolution to the Honorable Boies Penrose and the Honorable Philander C. Knox.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE FROM THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES TO MAKE NECESSARY ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE ATTENDANCE OF THE MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN PHILADELPHIA UPON THE ARRIVAL OF THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DIVISION.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, April 28, 1919.

Whereas, The Twenty-Eighth Division of the United States Army is to return from France where it served with great distinction; and

Whereas, Excessive preparations are being made in the City of Philadelphia, to accord an appropriate welcome to the returning soldiers, most of whom are from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas, It is fitting and proper that the General Assembly shall take a prominent part in the welcome to be accorded to the said division; therefore be it

Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of six members of the General Assembly, three from the Senate, to be appointed by the President pro tempore, and three from the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker, be constituted a committee to make necessary arrangements for the attendance of the members of the General Assembly in Philadelphia upon the arrival of said Twenty-eighth Division.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO MAKE NECESSARY ARRANGEMENTS FOR ATTENDANCE OF MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN PHILADELPHIA UPON THE ARRIVAL OF THE TWENTY-EIGHTH DIVISION.

The Chair announces in connection with this resolution the appointment of the following committee:

The Senator from Venango, Mr. Phipps, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Patton and the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Hackett.

The Senate adjourned at 5:28 P. M., until Wednesday morning, April 30, 1919 at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, April 29, 1919.

The House met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou God of nations, we turn to Thee this morning, beseeching Thee that Thou wilt bless those many republics that have sprung into existence during this past year. We pray Thee that Thou wilt favor them and grant unto them Thy guidance for they need Thee. They have been offering prayers for centuries, and have sealed with their blood their desires, and may the blood of the patriots become the seed of the nation and bring forth a goodly harvest. As they turn their eyes wistfully towards the great empire of the west, grant that we may be unto them a guide and inspiration and hope. Therefore, since we are to them an example, purge Thou us from everything that may lead them astray. Where we have made our mistakes let us have at least a comfort and compensation that they will profit thereby. Give unto us, we pray Thee, a sanctified sense of liberty; give us an enlightened consciousness of our duty; help us to live so that we will be worthy examples to those new republics; and grant that everything we may say and do may strengthen them in their great battle for the liberation of making in body, mind and soul. Amen.

An Act to amend an act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eight) entitled "An Act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drug" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, just a word for the bill that we are on at present. This bill is to take care of the soldiers, sailors and marines who have an honorable discharge. We have in the State of Pennsylvania a number of men from other states that are without employment, who are registered pharmacists or assistant pharmacists. This bill provides for a registration of six months, so as to put these men on their feet, so that they may go home or stay here, just as they see fit.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know what the special devices are for catching food fish, that will be permitted by the Commissioner of Fisheries, when the license is granted.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I have been authorized to make this statement to every one who is interested in this fish question. There have been a number of bills presented, as you know, both in the Senate and in the House. The Commissioner of Fisheries has requested me to make this announcement: that the bill will be so amended in the Senate that the fish known as the perch will be taken off the game list and placed under the head of food fish. The special devices in this bill will include every device with the exception of the spear. That will take in the outlines, the seine and the net. The Commissioner also requests me to make the statement that the size limit on trout will also be taken off. This question has been brought up time and time again in other legislatures and at different sessions, and has been vetoed by the Governor. However, we are making an attempt at this time to place this provision within the code, so that every trout caught shall be kept and not returned to the water. I assure you, gentlemen, upon my word of honor, that the bill will be so amended—and I would like each and every man interested in the fish question, in the event of this bill going to the Senate, to meet and have it so amended that it will meet with the unanimous approval of both the House and Senate.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, what will be the total cost to the State of Pennsylvania of the operation of this bill?

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, I think it would be a saving.

Mr. WONER. How many districts would be consolidated in this bill?

Mr. SWEITZER. The Department of Education has estimated one thousand.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to present a few figures to the House on this matter. The principle of the consolidation of schools is correct, but I am very doubtful whether at this time the State of Pennsylvania should shoulder the possible expense this bill will impose. If it closes one thousand schools in the State of Pennsylvania, it will cost the State the net amount of one million dollars. Here are the figures. The bill says that the State may pay an amount of one dollar per day for the transportation of pupils. Assuming that the maximum provided in this bill is called for by the execution of the bill, it will cost the State nine thousand dollars a day. On the assumption that there will be at least an average of nine pupils in each one of these thousand schools, this will be one hundred and eighty thousand dollars a month, or one million two hundred and sixty thousand dollars for a seven months' term.

Assuming that every fourth class district, that every school of those thousand schools will be a fourth school district, and there are eleven thousand one hundred and sixty-four schools in such districts, the saving of salary on one thousand teachers, that is for the State, counting that the State would have to pay at least twenty-five dollars to each one of those teachers on a seven months' term, would be one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars a month, approximately a million dollars which the State of Pennsylvania would obligate itself to pay as the maximum amount that this bill would cost.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler (Mr. Woner).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STADTLANDER. You have estimated the saving on the salaries of teachers only, have you not?

Mr. WONER. Yes, I have.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Have you estimated what the State will save in the upkeep of the various schools?

Mr. WONER. I am speaking from the standpoint of Pennsylvania, and not the saving to the individual districts. The State of Pennsylvania would save nothing, although the district would. I have given all of the facts.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I am heartily in favor of this bill. I am in favor of any enterprise which will centralize and make it a complete body, as this bill will provide. In the various country school—we all realize that some have seven to ten and twelve scholars—this bill provides that you will have one large school. The board provides transportation, and the amount which the directors, not the State, shall pay may be one dollar per diem.

It does not say that it is going to cost one dollar for each child, and it will not cost a dollar to transport these children. If you have a centralized school, you have a saving of salaries. You are in a position to employ the best talent that can be procured for the education of our children, and we have heard so much during this session about the need of good teachers for the various schools; and I see no reason for opposition to this bill. We are really trying to give the children the best we have.

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that the schools may be closed, these small schools. Many school boards throughout the State have taken charge and the schools have already been closed. We still have a large number of schools maintained and we believe those same pupils can be schooled more cheaply by having the children transported to the nearest or more convenient school. A similar bill was introduced two years ago, late in the session, and the session closed before the bill was disposed of. The Department of Education supported it two years ago, and it is doing the same thing today. There has never been a single question from any school man throughout the State in opposition to the bill. I cannot see why opposition should come; in fact I believe it would not come from the cities and densely populated counties. If any opposition would come, it would come from the rural districts. There is a clause in this bill provides that where the board does not think it feasible to close the school, it may be kept open. In reference to the question that my friend from Butler (Mr. Woner) raises regarding expense, I will say that the law as at present makes no limit to the expense. If it cost five dollars, the State would pay it. This bill provides that the maximum should be one dollar. If it were two, three or five dollars, it would pay it just the same. This is putting the screws on the measure. No opposition can surely come to that. I have here a letter from a county superintendent, from which I will read an extract.

"Small schools are one of the greatest sources of waste, educationally and financially. Last year I made a count and found that we have forty-six schools in Clarion County that have an average attendance of twelve or less. When the above count was made, nineteen schools had not been reported. I feel that it is safe to say that there are at least fifty schools in Clarion County that have an average attendance of twelve or less.  Do not agree that the minimum shall be made on enrollment, because average attendance will cause many districts to enforce the attendance law more rigidly, thus doing good in more ways than one. I would like to see it twelve, and giving the directors the power to close any school having an average attendance of twelve to fifteen. I once asked a director, a man who is now serving as director, 'why don't you close a certain school? There are only six children in it and every family lives within a mile and a half of a graded school. It would be better for the children to attend the graded school taught by normal graduates than to attend that little school taught by a little teacher, in a little way, with little preparation; and it would save the community and the State at least two hundred and twenty-five to two hundred and forty-five dollars a year.' Think of it, for one dollar and seventy-five cents per pupil per month, they could have sent them to a better school. Ten dollars and fifty cents would have been the total expense per month. Instead the board bought supplies, textbooks and fuel, and at that time paid the teacher forty dollars per month."

I think, Gentlemen, there can be no opposition to the bill if we actually believe in consolidation of schools, for the purpose of better gradation and better classification.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, my opposition to the bill is that the amount provided per day for the transportation of children to school is too high, and my figures were given to this House for that purpose. That is why I opposed the bill. A fifty cent maximum would have been sufficient.

It would be a saving to school districts to-day. A great mistake will be made if this House will make it possible to do this when we are getting so much money for teachers when we realize that it might be done for one-half.

Mr. BIGLER. Mr. Speaker, the man who has presented this bill has good sound reasons for doing it and voting for it. The experience of the county superintendents all over the State confirm what he has said. The Department of Public Instruction endorses it. I am going to ask every man to vote for this bill as it is presented. It is right.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, the school exists for the child and not the child for the school. It is not a good idea to have a school that is not a full school. I have spent twenty-six years in the school room and I know how difficult it is to go in a room and teach when there is but few in that school room, possibly not more than six to eight or ten pupils. There is no competition or no spirit of emulation there. By adopting this system these children from these small schools will be transferred to schools where there is competition and emulation. Those of you who have taught in the public schools know how difficult it is to have but one or two in a class. If you have ever tried to take care of one or two pupils, you will know all about it. Why, it is almost impossible to inspire any life or spirit in those few pupils. It is an impossibility to get the same results, from those children, as you can get in a school-room of twenty to forty pupils. I ask you on behalf of the children of Pennsylvania, not considering even the expense, under the circumstances, to vote for this bill, because it will be to the advantage of the boys and girls for whom the schools really exist.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, there is only one thing that seems to be in my mind in reference to this bill and that is the fact, as I understand the law, now the school directors of a certain district have the right to close the schools and transfer the pupils of those schools when closed to other schools. Under the amendment, it seems to me, the only thing that it is attempting to do is to place the rural schools under the direction of the State Board of Education. If the House wants to take these matters entirely out of the hands of the directors of the school districts and place them in the hands of the State Board of Education, it seems to me this is the proper thing to do. As I read here in this bill, the school directors may close the schools—shall close them as they see fit—but if them deem that it is not the proper thing to do, in the school district, the school direcors must submit that to the State Board of Education, who will review it and then the State Board of Education will tell these directors, if that is the fact, theat they are wrong. In other words, if the directors themselves feel that it is not the proper thing to do, they must submit the proposition to the Board of Education. It seems to me that this proposition, if they are going to put it in the hands of the Board, they ought to know from some of the people of the district, and if they don't want to do something that they put it up to the other fellow whether they can do it or not. That seems to me to be the thing that they will be doing. I don't know whether I am clear on it or not, but that is what the language of the bill says. I don't know whether I am in favor of placing any more power in the hands of the State Board of Education than they now have, and I am just making these remarks in order to call you attention to that particular phase. Perhaps the sponsor (Mr. Sweitzer) might be able to clear that situation. I say again, if the Board which is elected by the people of a district, deem that it is not necessary to close those schools, they ought not to be compelled to place the matter on which they have not decided themselves up to the State Board and permit them to tell those directors that they are wrong. I think the people are the ones who ought to tell them if they are wrong, or ought to make the appeal to the board of the district themselves. I would like to have the sponsor of the bill explain this phase of it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Sweitzer, explain this portion of the bill?

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, if all the members of this House knew the country boards as well as the rural members do, I don't believe that you would question that at all. It is a pretty hard thing to get a school board to close a certain school into which they have been putting teachers for many years and especially if they have a daughter or a son or friends' sons or daughters who wish to begin teaching and who would like to take the positions and naturally they don't want to close the school. If the matter was left with the Board of Education, if made mandatory, that would put the difficulties anywhere where they belong, where the school is located, to point out whether or not it is feasible to close that school, and they may petition the State Board of Education as to the possibility of closing the school, and outside of that it may close any of the schools where there may be a good reason for having them closed.

Mr. RAMSEY. I would like to ask the sponsor if he would agree to postpone further consideration of this bill, for the present, in order to take up several of these points?

Mr. SWEITZER. Mr. Speaker, this bill has been introduced for several months and it has been on the calendar for several weeks. I think the House has had ample opportunity to study and understand it and are familiar with the bill.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, the country districts realize the necessity for such a bill. There are districts where they don't have enough pupils to fill a school. It is discouraging to the teacher of a community to have but a half dozen pupils in a school. This bill is drawn with the idea of taking care of that need. I think every member should vote for it.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, by studying the bill you will notice that the word "may" is used. The law as it stands says that the school boards could close them if they want to. If they decide not to, there is no one to appeal to. This law puts in a provision if the school board decides to close or not to close the school and there is no hearing of the people to allow them and they "may" and not "shall" submit this to the school authorities, and that settles the matter. I think it is a good bill. If their decision is not in accord with the people, they can submit to the school board, and if they don't want to submit to the school board they don't have to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO A JUST CONSIDERATION OF THE CLAIMS OF ITALY AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Mr. BALDI offered a resolution which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 29, 1919.

Whereas, President Woodrow Wilson has returned to Paris to attend the Peace Conference for the purpose of drafting terms of peace affecting the settlement of various questions arising out of the World War; and

Whereas, The President has expressed a desire to be the spokesman of the whole American people at the Peace Conference; and

Whereas Italy has fought with heroism and great sacrifice since its entrance in the war, and has done its share in bringing about the great victory of the Allies; and

Whereas, Italy is making claims to the Peace Conference for restoration of certain lands and territories formerly belonging to it, and for lands and territory necessary for its economic needs and for its security and preservation; and

Whereas, The citizens of Italian birth in Pennsylvania feel that in justice to Italy for her numerous sacrifices in the great War, and by virtue of the will expressed by the people who inhabit said territories, the Province of Venetia, Julia, Fiume, and Dalmatia, should be united to Italy, therefore be it,

Resolved (If the Senate concur), That the representatives of the people of the United States at the Peace Confrence be requested to exercise their influnc to bring about just considrations of the claims of the Italian Government for the restoration of its lands and territories in order that Italy may be secured from future aggression and have a safe place on the Adriatic to prevent futurc hositlities and have her national security and preservation; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly attested with the seal of the State, and signed by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be forwarded to the President of the United States, and to the representatives of the United States at the Peace Conference.

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I would ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this bill carries with it a highly scented and a highly odorous provision, which is perhaps very meritorious, but I will ask the gentleman who is the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Stark, of Wyoming, to advise the members of the House as to that feature of it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wyoming (Mr. Stark) explain the provisions of this bill?

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I wish to say to my friend, Mr. Williams, that I have lived among them all my life and I have never been any more odorous than I am today.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wyoming (Mr. Stark) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STARK. Yes, sir.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Will the provisions of this act allow us, or does it allow us, to kill these animals?

Mr. STARK. It does not.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. Stark, who is the sponsor of this bill, explain its provisions.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wyoming (Mr. Stark) explain its provisions?

Mr. STARK. It seems to me that the bill explains itself, as the skunk usually speak for themselves.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Wyoming.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Wyoming permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STARK. Yes, sir.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Is it so odoriferous that you cannot explain it?

Mr. STARK. I think not.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Is there any necessity for this bill?

Mr. STARK. I think there is.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Is there any one suffering for it?

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, the polecat is one of the great friends of the farmer; they feed upon insect life, and a number of the farmers in the community from which I come who have planted corn upon sod ground, had a great many grubs in that ground and the result was that when the corn got to growing nicely and the roots started, the grubs fed on these roots and the result was, the killing of most of that corn. There has been such a demand for the pelt of the skunk and also for the oil of the animal for medicinal purposes that they are being very rapidly depleted. Now, this may seem new to us in Pennsylvania, but in Ohio, New York State, New Jersey and many of the States in these United States, they have laws similar to this. I think that the demand is greater in this day of insect life so that when we have an animal that will destroy insect life, we should protect that animal.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Is it not a fact that the skunk enjoys the farmer's chickens a whole lot more than he does the corn?

Mr. STARK. No, that lies entirely with the ministers.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I thought that the Committee on Game was very liberal with Mr. Stark when we allowed this bill to come out of committee with the amendments made by that committee, but since the bill has come out on the calendar he was not satisfied with the amendments of the committee and amended the bill still further, striking out all the committee amendments and putting the bill in its original form. It protects skunk from the fifteenth day of November to the fifteenth day of March, and you can only kill them or take them by the use of dead fall traps, and with a dead fall trap every sportsman knows what that is, and I ask the House to vote down this bill.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: The bill is a very simple bill. I am going to read the provisions and think if there are any farmers in the House, that you ought to give this bill some consideration, even if it is only for the dangers that it is apt to bring upon the farmer boy. The provisions of this bill read thus: "From the fifteenth day of November to the first day of March such animals may be taken only by the use of metal traps or 'dead falls' and in no other manner whatsoever." You follow that up on the next page, by the following: "Section 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to shoot a skunk or muskrat or to take or catch such animals from holes or dens by digging, smoking, or the use of chemicals, by hunting with dogs." Now the provisions of this bill as amended are certainly drawn up very strong. You take the son of a farmer. He may go out with his dog, and if he is seen digging, he is subject to a fine. There is no necessity for a bill of this kind. The law of New Jersey is drafted for an entirely reason. It is a well-known fact that the muskrat is sometimes placed upon the market of New Jersey, known as the "swamp rabbit" for edible purposes, and that is the reason that they are protected there; but I do not think that the people of Pennsylvania are ready at this time to place this animal in the game list, and I ask you farmers in the House to give this your careful consideration.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House adhered to its amendments noncurred in by the Senate to House Bill No. 259, entitled

An Act to amend section six of an act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and eighteen) entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation" so as to permit temporary suspensions by the Superintendent of Public Affairs and authorized a conference committee to be appointed be reconsidered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, these amendments in which the Senate failed to concur are the printers errors, and the bill now being on the desk of the House, I move you that the vote by which the bill passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask manimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1. page 2, line 28 by striking out the words "they may be" and inserting after the words "pay or" the following: "they may be."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1152, entitled

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1056, entitled

An Act to protect the health safety and welfare of the people of Pennsylvania by regulating the light ventilation sanitation fire protection maintenance alteration improvement use and occupancy of dwellings and land appurtenant thereto to define the classes of dwellings affected by the act to establish administrative requirements to establish remedies and fix penalties for the violation thereof and to make an appropriation therefor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York (Mr. Lanius) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair (Mr. McCurdy) will proceed.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman to please explain the provision of this bill and the cause for its being enacted into law.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, the provisions are very simple. The need for a housing code in this State has been manifest for many years. This provides merely a plan by which the buildings to be built in the future in Pennsylvania shall be governed. The Government has a housing code for the District of Columbia, and the neighboring states have housing codes, and many of our cities and boroughs have housing codes. This is merely supplying a housing code for the districts that do not have any. Practically all of the contractors of this state do far more now than this act calls for. This is a very lenient act, and an act very much needed. I would call the attention of the House to this one fact: That when the Governor of this state was a candidate for nomination and election, he said that he favored good housing, that he favored a housing code, and in his inaugural speech he repeated that same assertion. Now this bill has been before the Governor and, so far as I can learn, no opposition has come from that direction. I take it that this bill we are considering is something he has in mind, and I call attention to that one fact. This housing code was drawn up by the Housing and Planning Committee for the State of Pennsylvania, and so affects only such communities as do not now have a housing code. The provisions are for sanitation, for light and for all things that go to make for our health. There is nothing drastic in it. The bill was given to me by the president of the society, and I have done my best to bring it before you, and I leave it toyou to pass it or turn it down.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague for the very satisfactory explanation, but to my view this bill is very wide and broad and sweeping. This bill purports to regulate the construction of a man's private dwelling house in a firstclass township or a borough. A man owning a thirty-foot lot in a borough or city, or any other place within the provisions of this act, will not have sufficient ground to build his house if he builds it under the provisions of this act. Buildings hereafter erected must stand back six feet from the property line if you desire to put a window in the side of that house, and that applies to either side of the house unless this house buts up against an adjoining house. Now I think, Mr. Speaker, that that is a very unwise provision to inaugurate at this particular time. There never was a time in the history of this country when the housing question was so important as it is today. We have less houses to-day than we ever had. The people are finding it a great hardship to find homes that they may call homes, and according to the provisions of this act, a man would not dare build a temporary home in the suburbs of a borough, thereby necessitating that man to either camp in the woods or out in the fields. I do not think at this time, when the prices of building materials and labor are so abnormal, I do not think this is the time to inaugurate a measure of this character, and I hope you will vote down the bill.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state to the House that this bill has not been opposed by the contractors who build on an operative plan. I have met several delegations of these gentlemen here in this House, and they tell me that after examining this bill they find it quite easy to comply with its provisions. I know that this bill is backed by labor, and I see no good reason why any person should be opposed to it. Men are not building temporary homes. I do not believe that men are building temporary homes. Unless he builds it in compliance with this code, no man should be permitted to start a nuisance in any community. Now, Mr. Speaker, I cannot believe that the gentleman from Blair can be sincere in opposing this bill on these grounds. There must be something back of it. I am glad to get out in the open. This bill is the housing code which the State has been promised for many years. You have housing codes in third class cities and first class townships. Why not have a code which would be extended to the cities and other communities where this is not any? That is all that this bill does, and if the gentleman from Blair is opposed to that, he must be opposed to sanitation in any form in the boroughs and townships where the code has been established. I might say also that the State Health Department at first thought that this bill would ake away from them some of their powers, but I have been informed, as late as to-day, that the department, after an examination of this measure, sees nothing in the bill that conflicts with the department in any way, and that the department is of the opinion that it should support this proposition. I cannot see why the State of Pennsylvania, with all this talk about labor and good housing conditions, should not try to bring about good living conditions which make to civilization. Why should be quibble about light in a room? No man can enjoy a house unless there is sufficient light, and no house can be enjoyed unless it is sanitary. So far as the technical provisions of the act are concerned, there is not a contractor in the State of Pennsylvania to-day who does not comply with them and even go beyond them. There is a similar bill in the Senate, and it will be over here soon. I cannot see why anybody should be opposed to this bill simply because one or two men in a community might not want it. I had read to me from the New York Sun an article which said that one of the reasons for the discontent across the sea was because of bad housing conditions. What is the use of talking about labor and labor conditions if this House opposes every good humane piece of legislation that comes before it and votes it down? Why not be honest and give this bill a fair and square trial. If this bill goes to the Senate, you will then have an opportunity and a chance to have a good hearing on both of them, and we will be able to stop this quibbling.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House I will read section nine of the bill:

"Section 9 Alterations and Change in Occupancy No dwelling hereafter erected shall at any time be altered so as to be in violation of any provision of this act And no dwelling erected prior to the passage of this act shall at any time be altered so as to be in violation of those provisions of this act applicable to such dwelling If any dwelling or any part thereof is occupied by more families than provided in this act or is erected altered or occupied contrary to law such dwelling shall be deemed an unlawful structure and the Bureau of Housing or such other appropriate public official as may be designated may cause such dwelling to be vacated And such dwelling shall not again be occupied until it or its occupation as the case may be has been made to conform to the law."

Mr. Speaker, I come from a county that has a third class city. This third class city, I presume, has more homes owned by working pepole than any other city in the State of Pennsylvania of like size, and if this bill is enacted into law, according to the provisions of it, this housing commission could come there and condemn fifty per cent of the homes in the city of Altoona, because they do not have sufficient leeway between the houses. Can you conceive of a condition of this kind, the throwing out of the people from their homes, with no place to go? This is not the time to inaugurate such measures as this. We ought to wait until we arrive at a time when the people are able to make the necessary changes that this bill provides.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to discuss this bill of thirty-one pages, but I, for one, will say to you that I do not think there is any call for this measure in the country districts or in the boroughs. The first thing that would be necessary would be for the architect ,the contractor, the foreman, the carpenter, and the owner who intends building this building to start out for an attorney's office and pay him at least a retaining fee to go over this law in order to give an opinion on it, and then keep watch on them day after day. I do not think we have reached the point where there is any call or demand for a measure of this kind in the country districts. The greatest trouble in the country districts is that we do not have homes enough for our country people or for our people in the boroughs. Do not throw anything of this kind in the way of buildings or the encouragement of building.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 703, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one thousand two hundred ten and to repeal sections one thousand two hundred eleven one thousand two hundred twelve one thousand two hundred thirteen and two thousand eight hundred five of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand two hundred ten of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which as amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred thirty-five) entitled "An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and ten of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" reads as follows

Section 1210 The minimum salary of every teacher in the public schools of this Commonwealth shall be as follows Those teachers holding a provisional certificate forty-five dollars ($45.00) per school month those teachers holding professional certificates or normal school certificates fifty-five dollars ($55.00) per school month and those teachers holding permanent certificates or final normal school diplomas sixty dollars ($60.00) per school month" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1210 One The minimum salaries of teachers in the public schools of the Commonwealth according to the standard certificates recognized by the laws of the Commonwealth shall be as follows (a) provisional certificates sixty dollars ($60.00) per month (b) professional certificates or State normal school certificates seventy-five dollars ($75.00) per month (c) State normal school diplomas county permanent certificates State permanent certificates or college provisional certificates eighty-five dollars ($85.00) per month

Two The several school districts of the Commonwealth shall pay forty dollars per month of the salary of each teacher principal supervisor or director of a special subject and his assistant holding a provisional certificate and the Commonwealth shall pay the remaining portion of the minimum salary of each person and further. The several school districts of the Commonwealth shall pay forty dollars ($40) per month and the Commonwealth shall pay the remaining portion of the salaries of all teachers principals supervisors directors of special subjects and their assistants whose salaries by the provisions of clause one of this section are increased more than twenty-five per centum (25 per cent) over the salaries for the school year one thousand nine hundred eighteen and one thousand nine hundred nineteen

Three Each teacher principal supervisor director of special subject and his assistant of the several school districts who holds a certificate higher than a provisional and who heretofore received a salary of less than one hundred dollars per month but whose salary is not increased by at least twenty-five per centum under the provisions of clause one of this section shall receive an increase in salary of twenty-five per centum which increase shall be paid by the Commonwealth

Four In addition to the minimum salary provided for in clause one and in addition to the portion of salary required to be paid by the Commonwealth where salaries do not exceed the minimum prescribed in clause one the Commonwealth shall pay to each teacher of a rural school holding a certificate higher than a provisional certificate ten dollars per month The term "rural school" as used in this section shall be taken to mean any one room or two room school none of which being a high school situated in the open country or any one room or two room school not being a high school situated in small centers of population The decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction as to whether a school is a rural school shall be final subject to a review by the court and when any such decision is required the secretary of the board shall furnish a statement to the Superintendent of Public Instruction containing such information as he may require

Five The following increases in the salaries of teachers principals supervisors and directors of special subjects and their assistants based on the salaries paid by the several school districts during the school year one thousand nine hundred eighteen and one thousand nine hundred nineteen are hereby made (a) Those receiving one hundred dollars ($100) and not more than one hundred and fifty dollars ($150) per month twenty per centum (20 per cent) increase (b) Those receiving more than one hundred fifty dollars ($150) and not more than two hundred dollars ($200) per month fifteen per centum (15 per cent) increase (c) Those receiving more than two hundred dollars ($200) per month ten per centum (10 per cent) and each school district in the Commonwealth that does not increase salaries in accordance with the provisions of this clause shall forfeit its right to share in any appropriation for the public schools of the Commonwealth

Six Of the increases hereinbefore provided for teachers principals supervisors directors of special subjects and their assistants receiving one hundred dollars ($100) per month or more the Commonwealth shall pay one-half and the remaining one-half shall be paid by the respective districts No payments on account of such increases shall be made by the Commonwealth where the salary of any such teacher supervisor principal or director of special subject and his assistant is reduced for the school year nineteen hundred nineteen and nineteen hundred twenty below that paid for the school year nineteen hundred eighteen and nineteen hundred and nineteen

Seven Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to interfere with or discontinue any salary schedule now in force in any school district so long as such schedule shall meet the requirements of this section nor to prevent the adoption of any salary schedule in conformity with the provisions of this act

Eight Immediately after the passage of this act each school district of the Commonwealth shall file a certificate with the Superintendent of Public Instruction in such form as he may prescribe and on blanks to be furnished by him showing the number of principals teachers supervisors directors of special subjects and their assistants in its employ and the compensation paid them for the school year one thousand nine hundred eighteen and one thousand nine hundred and nineteen

Nine Upon receipt of said statement the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall ascertain and determine the amount payable to each school district in accordance with the provisions of this section and apportion and allot the same to and among the respective districts

Ten When the amount payable to each school district has been ascertained and determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction he shall certify the same to the State Treasurer and Auditor General who shall forthwith place the amounts to the credit of the respective school districts and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall transmit to each school district a statement showing the amount which has been apportioned and allotted to it

Eleven The amount apportioned and allotted to each school district shall be divided into equal semi-annual installments and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall draw his requisition upon the State Treasurer in favor of each district semi-annually for the amount to which it is entitled and upon approval by the Auditor General in the usual manner payment thereof shall be made All funds necessary to make effective the provision of this act shall be provided for by a special appropriation over and above the general appropriation for the support of the public schools of the Commonwealth

Section 2 Any school district is authorized to make payments of any such additional salaries in advance of the receipt of the moneys therefor from the State Treasury

Section 3 That sections one thousand two hundred eleven one thousand two hundred thirteen and two thousand eight hundred five of said act be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment was read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend title, line 3, by striking out the words "one thousand two hundred twelve."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the amendment at this time? Is there any objections? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be made in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The amendment consists of merely a strike out. The bill is now on final passage.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1919. No. 41.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, April 30, 1919.

The Senate met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Clarence J. Buckman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer: Almighty God, we never needed divine guidance in our national life more than we do to-day. This is true also of all other nations. The changes wrought are done so rapidly that every day is a crisis and every week is filled with problems of crucial importance. We have become so accustomed to these rapid changes that a novelty is transformed into a familiarity at one glance. We are moving forward through these momentous times in the hope that "There is a divinity that shapes our lives, rough hew them as we will." May the great brotherhood of man be the chief aim of all our lives. These favors we ask in our Saviour's name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. CROW, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, April 30, 1919.

The House met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O, our God, we thank Thee that Thou hast brought again to our shores those of our own State who have acted and done so nobly; that from the shell-torn fields and mine-strewn waters they are at last greeting again the land of their love. Grant that amid the huzzahs and welcome that they shall receive may there be no discordant note, because of unkept promises and pledges on the part of those who remained here. May no saddened hearts be among them who have had pledges made to them that they shall return to their home land with their positions secured and every promise fulfilled that was given to induce them to leave. Grant, we pray Thee, that those who have the empty chairs at home—for their hearts are heavy we know, and we know that Thou alone canst relieve the burden of those who have made the supreme sacrifice—may there go with that supreme sacrifice a supreme satisfaction that while they have lost, the country is still secure and intact. For all those who will have to carry the burdens through the years to come, the maimed and wounded and those who are locked in the prison of blindness, give them courage and strength, and also help us to be mindful of our part that their burdens be not heavier than they need be. May every man who comes back get that welcome which will encourage him at all times to work and labor for the land of his love. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. RHOADS, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

Until such bond and security be given the said tax shall be collected by the county treasurer In such cases all the provisions of this act relating to collection and payment by registers shall apply to the county treasurer

Section 23 Each register of wills shall on the first Monday of each month make return to the Auditor General and return and payment to the State Treasurer of all taxes imposed and received under this act stating for what estate paid upon All taxes collected by him and not paid over within one month after his quarterly return of the same he shall pay interest at the rate of twelve per centum per annum until paid

ARTICLE III

Payment of tax in cases of non-resident decedents

Section 25 Whenever the transfer is of property within the Commonwealth from a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death the Auditor General whenever occasion may require on the application of any interested party or upon his own motion shall appoint an appraiser to appraise the value of such property hereinbefore subjected to tax Every such appraiser shall forthwith give notice by mail to such persons as the Auditor General shall direct of the time and place when and where he will appraise such property He shall at such time and place make a fair conscionable appraisement of said property and assess and fix the cash value of all annuities and life estates growing out of said estates upon which annuities and life estates the tax imposed by this act shall be immediately payable out of the estate and he shall make report thereof and of such value in writing to the said Auditor General which report shall be filed in the office of the Auditor General and the Auditor General shall immediately give notice thereof by mail to all parties known by him to be interested therein

Section 26 Whenever the interest of the Commonwealth may require it the Auditor General is hereby authorized to appoint such additional appraisers or employ such expert services as he may deem best to appraise the property of any non-resident decedent subject to the tax hereinbefore imposed. The compensation of all appraisers appointed and of all persons employed by the Auditor General in making such appraisement shall be fixed by him and together with all necessary expenses incurred by them in the performance of their duties shall be paid out of any unexpended funds appropriated to the department of the Auditor General upon his warrant

Section 27 Any person not satisfied with such appraisement as made by an appraiser appointed by the Auditor General may appeal within thirty days to the court of common pleas of Dauphin County on paying or giving security to pay all costs together with whatever tax shall be fixed by the court Upon such appeal the court may determine all questions of valuation and the liability of the appraised estate for such tax subject to the right of appeal to the supreme or superior court

Section 28 Every corporation or person to whom any property within this Commonwealth passes from a non-resident decedent subject to the tax hereinbefore imposed or the executor administrator trustee of such a decedent or other party in interest shall immediately upon the death of the decedent give notice to the Auditor General of such property and the location thereof

Section 29 Whenever any tax imposed by this act upon the transfer of property of a non-resident decedent within this Commonwealth shall have remained due and unpaid for one year the Auditor General may apply to the court of common pleas of Dauphin county or of any county in which such property may be situated by bill or petition to enforce the payment of the same whereupon the court having caused notice to be given to the owner of the property subject to the tax or to the executor administrator or trustees of the decedent and to such other parties as may be interested shall proceed according to equity to make such decree or order for the payment of the tax out of such property as shall be just and proper

And the Auditor General is hereby further authorized and empowered to bring suit or suits in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in any court of this Commonwealth or elsewhere for the recovery of any sum or sums due owing or payable for or on account of any tax imposed by the provisions of this act upon the transfer of property within this Commonwealth of which a non-resident of the Commonwealth may have died seized or possessed with costs of suits

Section 30 The Auditor General shall enter in a book which shall be a public record the returns made by all appraisers appointed by him to appraise the property of a non-resident decedent within this Commonwealth subject to tax hereinbefore imposed opening on account in favor of the Commonwealth against each said decedents estate The Auditor General may give certificates of payment of said tax from said record and upon payment thereof shall give a receipt therefor to the party paying the same

Section 31 The Auditor General shall collect all the taxes due or owing the Commonwealth on account of the tax upon the transfer of the property of a non-resident decedent as hereinbefore imposed and shall on the first Monday of each month make report to the State Treasurer of all taxes so collected by him under the provisions of this act during the preceding month stating for what estate paid upon

Section 32 On the transfer of property in this Commonwealth of a non-resident decedent if all or any part of the estate of such decedent wherever situated shall pass to persons or corporations who would have been taxable under this act if such decedent had been a resident of this Commonwealth such property located within this Commonwealth shall be subject to a tax which said tax shall bear the same ratio to the entire tax which the said estate of such decedent would have been subjected to under this act if such non-resident decedent had been a resident of this Commonwealth as such property located in this Commonwealth bears to the entire estate of such non-resident decedent wherever situated Provided That nothing in this clause contained shall apply to any specific bequest or devise of property in this Commonwealth

ARTICLE IV.

Provisions Relating to the Collection of the Tax Both in the Case of Resident and Non-resident Decedents

Section 35 No executor administrator or trustee of any decedent resident or non-resident shall assign or transfer any stock of any corporation of this Commonwealth or of any national banking association located in this Commonwealth standing in the name of such decedent or in the joint names of such decedent and one or more other persons or in trust for a decedent subject to the tax hereinbefore imposed until such tax has been paid unless the Auditor General consents to such transfer prior to such payment in manner hereinafter provided

Section 36 No corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located in this Commonwealth shall transfer any stock of such corporation or of such banking association standing in the name of a decedent whether resident or non-resident or in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons or in trust for such decedent unless the Auditor General has filed with said corporation or national banking association a certificate that the tax imposed by this act on the transfer of such stock has been fully paid or otherwise consents thereto in writing and it shall be lawful for the Auditor General either personally or by representatives to examine the share of stock of such decedent at the time of such transfer and also the transfer books of said corporation or association showing such transfer Any such corporation or association making any transfer of the stock standing in the name of a decendent resident or non-resident or in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons or in trust for such decedent in violation of the foregoing provisions shall be liable for the payment of the amount of the taxes to which the property so transferred is subject under the provisions of this act and in addition thereto to a penalty of one thousand dollars which liability for such tax and interest or the penalty above prescribed or both shall be enforced in an action of debt in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania brought by the Auditor General thereof and the same when recovered shall be paid into the treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the use of the Commonwealth

Section 37 Whenever the tax imposed by this act upon the transfer of the stock of any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located in this Commonwealth standing in the name of a decedent resident or non-resident or in the joint names of the decedent and one or more persons or in trust for such decedent has been paid it shall be the duty of the Auditor General upon the request of any interested party or of said corporation or association or upon his own motion to file with the said corporation or banking association a certificate of such payment and the Auditor General is hereby further authorized and empowered in his discretion to consent to the transfer of such stock prior to the payment of the said taxes whenever he deems such transfer may be so made without prejudice or peril to the rights of the Commonwealth

Section 38 If the tax is paid within three months after the death of the decedent a discount of five per centum shall be allowed If the tax is not paid at the end of one year from the death of the decedent interest shall be charged at the rate of twelve per centum per annum on such tax Where because of claims made upon the estate litigation or other unavoidable cause of delay the estate of any decedent or any part thereof cannot be settled up at the end of the year interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be charged upon the tax arising from the unsettled part thereof from the end of such year until there be default Where real or personal estate withheld by reason of litigation or other cause of delay in manner aforesaid from the parties entitled thereto subject to such tax has not been productive to the extent of six per centum per annum the proper parties shall not pay a greater amount as interest to the Commonwealth than they have realized or shall realize from such estate during the time the same has been or shall be withheld as aforesaid

Section 39 The lien of all taxes imposed by this act shall continue until the tax is settled and satisfied and shall be limited to the property chargeable therewith All such taxes shall be sued for within five years after they are due otherwise they shall be presumed to have been paid and cease to be a lien as against any purchasers of real estate

Section 40 In all cases where any amount of such tax is paid erroneously the State Treasurer on satisfactory proof rendered to him by the register of wills or Auditor General of such erroneous payment may refund and pay over to the person paying such tax the amount erroneously paid All such applications for the repayment of such tax erroneously paid in the treasury shall be made within two years from the date of payment except when the estate upon which such tax has been erroneously paid shall have consisted in whole or in part or a partnership or other interest of uncertain value or shall have been involved in litigation by reason whereof there shall have been an over-valuation of that portion of the estate on which the tax has been assessed and paid which over-valuation could not have been ascertained within said period of two years In such case the application for repayment shall be made to the State Treasurer within one year from the termination of such litigation or ascertainment of such over-valuation

Section 41 Where a testator appoints or names one or more executors or trustees and makes a bequest or devise of property to them in lieu of their commissions or allowances or appoints them his residuary legatees and said bequests devise or residuary legacy exceeds what would be a fair compensation for their services such excess shall be subject to the payment of the tax at the rate in each case provided for in this act

Section 42 It shall be a misdemeanor for an appraiser to take any fee or reward from any executor or administrator legatee lineal descendent or heir of any decedent and for any such offense the register or Auditor General as the case may be shall dismiss him from such service Upon conviction of such misdemeanor such appraiser shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars or imprisonment not exceeding one year or both

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The next two bills on the calendar, House Bills Nos. 1242 and 1055 are not yet on the files, and will be passed over for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1318, entitled

An Act to amend article twenty of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine)) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by adding thereto section two thousand and forty

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILLERT. Mr. Speaker, I object to the recommitment of this bill. This bill was brought out on the floor a week ago without a dissenting voice, and its recommitment, I believe, is for no good purpose. Therefore I hope the members will not sustain the motion.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the bill now on the calendar was introduced April 22nd, about a week ago. At that time I was ill and unable to be present at the meeting of the Committee on Education. The Committee on Education did report this bill out, and there was not a dissenting vote; but last evening, at a meeting of the Committee on Education, it was the sense of every member of that Committee that this bill had been hastily considered by that committee and should be reported back to the Committee on Education for further consideration. Now I have stood here very many times and asked that bills be not referred back to committee, but here is one case in which there should be further consideration of this measure. There is a good deal of antagonism against this bill throughout the Commonwealth. I went to the sponsor and asked him whether he would not agree to a recommitment for further consideration and he said he could not see any reason why it should be done. But it should be done because the committee agreed that they did not give this bill the proper and thorough consideration it should have had before it was presented to the House for final consideration.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, in support of the remarks of the gentleman from Schuylkill (Mr. Palmer) I wish to say that I raised objections to the reporting of this bill when the Committee on Education had, through a misapprehension or misunderstanding of what it provided for, finally reported the bill out .I immediately went to my colleague from Erie (Mr. Willert) when it had been placed upon the calendar and asked him for the courtesy of recommitment for the purpose of a hearing. Such courtesy was asked on behalf of many, I should say a large proportion of the school men of the State are vitally interested, but Mr. Willert did not see fit to grant the request.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The next two bills on the calendar, House Bills Nos. 1230 and 1095 are not on the files yet, and will be passed over for the present.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 417, entitled

An act to further amend section one thousand four hundred twelve in article fourteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1247, entitled

An Act to amend section six hundred and seventeen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine), entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," and providing for the construction, re-construction or repair of school buildings, or work upon school property within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by contract, where the cost, value or amount of same, including labor and material, exceeds the sum of three hundred dollars.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander), permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STADTLANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver (Mr. Marshall) will proceed.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what change does the new provision make from the provision in the former section which is being amended?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the school code provides that the school board may at any price award contracts for work and repairs. This limits them to the amount or size of the contract which they can themselves enter into.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the clause you are amending, the wording is about the same thing. The only difference I see is that you leave out the words "heating, ventilating or lighting systems." The other act says "or any other repairs being made upon any school building or work upon any school property."

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, that is right. The only thing is that it makes it definite as to the amount.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, the amount stipulated in the original section is three hundred dollars.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir, and for all "construction, reconstruction," etc. The former act says "every contract in excess of three hundred dollars made by any school district." This limits it to any "construction, reconstruction, repairs or work of any nature." Under the old act they could go to the extent that they could almost construct a new building. There is no specific provision as to the nature of the repairs, work or anything of that sort. This limits it as to the construction, reconstruction and work of repairs.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, it does not limit the amount.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, no; it does not limit the amount. That remains the same. It makes it more specific as to what kind of work they must let out by contract.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I do not see that it does. It says "all construction, reconstruction, repairs or work." It says exactly the same words in the former act except you omit the words "heating, ventilating or lighting systems." My idea is that I do not see what is accomplished by the change in the act. The original act says that

"Every contract in excess of three hundred dollars ($300.00) made by any school district in this Commonwealth for the introduction of heating ventilating or lighting systems or the construction reconstruction or repair of any school building or work upon any school property shall be awarded to the lowest and best bidder after due public notice has been given upon proper terms asking for competitive bids"

Now the bill as amended, or the section as amended, provides:

"All construction reconstruction repairs or work of any nature upon any school building or upon any school property made by any school district in this Commonwealth where the entire cost value or amount of such construction reconstruction repairs or work including labor and material shall exceed three hundred dollars ($300.00) shall be done under contract or contracts to be entered into by such school district with the lowest responsible bidder upon proper terms after due public notice has been given asking for competitive bids."

I am not objecting to the bill, but I don't see what is being accomplished, except that you leave out the amended section the words "heating, ventilating or lighting systems," but you use the other words in the original section which provides "that no school building or work upon any school property" and so forth. I think that the latter words are broad enough to include the heating and lighting, and so on. I am not objecting to the bill, but I cannot see that it accomplishes anything.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Beaver will read the amended section which says, "where the entire cost, value or amount of such construction, reconstruction, repairs or work, including labor and material, shall exceed three hundred dollars," he will see the change in the bill. Under the former section the school board could construct a building where possibly the entire cost would amount probably to thousands of dollars. Take for instance the construction of a ventilating system or a heating system. Each of those items may amount to say from two to three hundred dollars, and in that way the board could construct practically an entire building. But under this amendment, the total cost of the reconstruction,—and that might take in ventilating and heating and plastering and carpenter work, and all that sort of thing,—if the total cost of all these repairs runs over three hundred dollars, then it comes under this amendment,—the total cost

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander) if this bill is not quite similar to bill No. 914 on to-day's calendar page twelve. It seems to me that both these bills cover the same thing.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar for the purpose of investigation.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1226, entitled

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1236, entitled

An Act to amend the act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred sixty-one) entitled "An Act regulating and defining the powers and duties of the Dental Council and the State Board of Dental Examiners providing for appointment of examiners defining qualifications of applicants for examination condition of granting licenses regulating and limiting the practice of dentistry prohibiting practice by or employment of unlicensed persons and providing punishment therefor and disposition of fees and fines and fixing the appropriation to the Dental Council" as amended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to approve the passage of this bill which is now before you, known as the "Dental Bill." Being a practitioner of dental surgery in the City of Philadelphia since 1891, I am qualified, I think, to give some expression as to the good qualities that this bill has. It is for the future generation of dentists that this bill has been placed before this body, and you are asked not only to vote for it, but also to support any and all other legislation that may become before you on this subject. It is a common thing for some dentists and some who are not legally graduated dentists, to open dental parlors in the different cities and towns of this State under the name possibly of the "New York Dental Parlors" or the "Philadelphia Dental Parlors," or some other name. Sometimes they remain in a city for a few weeks or a few months, and when they get all that they are after, after doing a lot of cheap work, they sell out to some one else and leave the town. Therefore, it makes it impossible for those upon whom they have done this work to hold any one responsible. There is no one responsible for the work that has been done. On the other hand, we have a class of men who are not graduates. They are what is known as "flunk students" from the universities of our State and other States. They are hired by these men to perform this dental work on the people who come to the offices, and I say that it is not right to allow any man who is not a graduate surgeon dentist to perform any dental work upon any patient. In a word, I want to say to you that this is the old question of men traveling around under false pretenses, and I ask this House at this time to vote for this bill and any other legislation which will have for its provisions the doing away of incompetent dentists.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, this bill on page fifteen of to-day's calendar, on the top of the page, is the heading "Bills on Second Reading," which is evidently a mis-print.

The SPEAKER. I think the Chair has already announced that that was a mis-print, and should read "Bills in Third Reading."

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, the sponsor of the bill (Mr. Golder) was under the impression that the bill was on second reading. I spoke to the sponsor of the bill with relation to adding an amendment to the bill, which the sponsor said he would take under consideration and not call the bill up. As there has evidently been a mistake—I might say an innocent mistake—on the part of the sponsor of the bill and myself, I would therefore move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar in order to give me an opportunity of taking the matter up with the sponsor of this bill.

Mr. LAULER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The next bill on the calendar, House Bill No. 1168, is not on the files and will be passed over for the present.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 702, entitled

An Act authorizing suits brought to recover in the case of accidents in this Commonwealth in Courts of Common Pleas to be certified to the Workman's Compensation Board when discovered that the suit has been brought wrongfully.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The sponsor of this bill is not in the chamber at this time.

Mr. BOLARD. I would like to know the purpose of this bill. If a case has been improperly taken into court, why should it not be discontinued?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the committee on Mines and Mining, for the purpose of a hearing. I understand application has been made to the sponsor and he has not disagreed with the request.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, I seeond the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1286 (Senate Bill No. 635), entitled

An Act relating to policies of life insurance or annuities

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether there is somebody here who can explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. WILLIAM T. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I have had some interviews with the Department of Insurance, and I think I can explain very briefly what the object of this bill is. It provides the net amount of annuities, or what would be continuous installment policies, in which the beneficiaries receiving a portion of the amount of the policy each year or each month cannot be computed nor can it be attached for debt because of anything that might be due by the beneficiary to a creditor. The Department has found it necessary to protect these interests, and for that reason introduced this bill. This is very brief, but I do not think it needs any more explanation than that which I have attempted to make.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate: I hope you all understand this bill. It is a bill creating four positions of deputy sealers of weights, who are to be sent broadcast over the State. I, for one, had hoped that Dr. Leslie had injected hyperdermic into the Department of Internal Affairs that it would live without any further injection for several more years. I think it is very bad when the State starts to send out men over the State upon our highways and on the streets to stop business and reinspect weights and measures that already are supposed to have been inspected by our county sealer of weights and measures. We speak of home rule and the rights of the counties. This State has provided county sealers of weights and measures whose duty it to inspect and seal all weights and measures. This bill proposes to give four men positions, who go out over the State, not only to prove but to rectify any mistakes in the weights and measures of the sealers, but they have the power to go upon the highways and on the streets and to all the markets and to make a reinspection, if they so desire, of the weights and measures which have already been inspected by the county sealers. This creates confusion. It is a duplication of the positions and creates discontent because the same labor is done by two different sets of men, and this already, as I have said, before, has been placed in the hands of our County Commissioners. If the county appoints an incompetent sealer, if the County Commissioners do not select the proper men, the people select such men as County Commissioners they will naturely have to suffer for the incompetent sealer of weights and measures. It will place more men over this State who will interfer with the other business that is regularly conducted and should be properly conducted by the local sealer of weights and measures. It gives these men rather superior power because they are not only over those men, but they have the right to go out and reinspect weights and measures which have been already inspected. It is bad practice. It takes away home rule that the county should have, in interfering with their right and perogative. I trust that this bill will be defeated at this time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. President, in the absence of the sponsor of the bill, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 357, entitled:

Leiby,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 821, entitled:

An Act to provide for the personal registration of electors as a condition of their right to vote at elections and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth; by removing from office all existing registration commissioners and their appointees in said cities and authorizing the Governor to appoint registration commissions therein; defining the jurisdiction of said commissions and the powers and duties of the commissioners constituting same, and of their appointees, including registrars, inspectors of registration, clerks and counsel; fixing their qualifications, terms of office and compensation; granting them certain immunity from arrest on registration days and empowering such inspectors to arrest, without warrant, certain persons committing certain offenses in violation of this act in their presence, as well as to enter and inspect buildings given as residences of electors, to interrogate the inmates thereof to copy or demand a list of the lodgers therein and to supervise the conduct of registrars; regulating the registration of electors at polling places by registrars, and at the offices of commissions by commissioners, and the right of parties or bodies of electors to have watchers thereat, and the preparation and use of street lists and other records of those registered; allowing the names of persons not entitled to vote to be struck from the registers in certain cases; permitting all records regarding registration to be inspected and copied by any elector under certain conditions, directing how the registers shall be used at elections and primaries; compelling the attendance of witnesses and payment of witness fees, and providing penalties for refusal to obey subpoenas; directing Receivers of Taxes to appoint Chief Clerks of Commissions as deputies to collect poll taxes and to give receipts therefor; authorizing such clerks to administer oaths, sign subpoenaes and vouchers and to collect and disburse witness fees; prescribing a method for challenging persons applying for registration and the procedure for the correction of registers and for appealing from actions of registrars to said commissions and allowing for appeals from the decisions of the commissions in certain cases to Courts of Common Pleas; imposing certain duties upon election officers and upon the Councils, Treasurers, Controllers, Receivers of Taxes, Police Officers, and other officials of said cities and upon the Courts, Judges, Prothonotaries, Sheriffs, Commissioners, Peace Officers and other officials of the judicial districts and counties in which said cities are situated, or with which they are co-extensive; legalizing certain acts required hereby, if done on any Sunday or Legal Holiday; requiring said cities to provide for the maintenance of said commissions and the compensation of their appointees and the payment of all expenses necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and to transfer the unexpended balances of all appropriations heretofore made for the personal registration of electors of said cities during the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, to and for the use of the said commissions; punishing and fixing penalties for violations hereof and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, the bill that has just passed, Senate Bill No. 820, the bill we are considering now, Senate Bill No. 821, and Senate Bill No. 822, are bills that pertain to the Philadelphia Registration and Election Bureau and it is the purpose of those interested in them to pass the bills in the Senate and let them go over to the House, get all the Philadelphia bills in one committee, and then the Governor is going to inspect them, look over them carefully and see what he will approve and what he will not approve, and with that idea in mind we are not making any opposition to them although, there are lots of flaws in them, as well as the fact that one of them is a ripper bill, and the Governor has already said he will approve no ripper bills at this session. As I have said before, inasmuch as there is an agreement among all hands, including myself, that they are to go over to the House and all be inspected at one time we will refrain from making any opposition.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I did not desire to take the floor on this matter but I am not aware, as far as I am concerned, of any agreement in the matter of the bills going over to the House and being reported out from there. If Senator Vare cares to let them pass here it is absolutely up to him.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 835, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the maintenance and government of a children's home in each county of the State having a population of less than two hundred and fifty thousand for indigent orphans and for incorrigible indigent dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and providing for their commitment thereto

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Jones.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, the language of this bill seems somewhat ambiguous. I would like to know whether the Senator construes it as obligatory upon the county to provide for this loan.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I do not so understand it. I think it is more an enabling act permitting the counties to do this. That is the intent of this bill anyway, merely enabling the county to do this if they see fit.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, as I read the bill it seems to me to be obligatory upon the county to do it, in the event that a grand jury shall approve it and the court approve the findings of the grand jury.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I do not so understand it. It is not the intent of the bill and in drawing the bill we meant to have it enabling the county to do this if they see fit.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, the county that I represent would not want to have this act forced upon them. If it is simply an enabling act I am perfectly willing to vote for it and with the explanation of the Senator from Susquehanna upon the matter it can perhaps be remedied.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, it is clearly our intention to have it understood that it is not obligatory. If it is not clear I would ask that it go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to inform the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Jones, that the only thing in order would be to postpone consideration for the present, or to recommit, the bill having been discussed. The request for unanimous consent to have it go over in its order is not in order at this time.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 836, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and sixty-two) entitled "An Act regulating the method and procedure in the erection of line or partition fences"

be recommitted to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 854 (House Bill No. 1049), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one hundred and twenty of an act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) ,entitled "An Act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" by providing for the election of two township assessors in townships of the first class containing a population of ten thousand inhabitants or more and providing for the division of such townships by the county commissioners of the respective county.

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. MURDOCH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 859, entitled:

An Act creating a Division of Township Highways in the State Highway Department conferring powers and imposing duties upon officers of the State Highway Department requiring certain duties of clerks of the courts of quarter sessions and providing penalties

The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou God of heaven and earth, who dost righteously and wouldst have no man do wrong, grant that we may be so inspired with holy fear and love that it shall be our desire to make everything, in thought, in word or in deed, to comply with Thy most holy will. Look down, we beseech Thee, in this day, when moral restraint has been broken and the moral fiber of man has been scattered, so that dastardly hands are ready to send bombs through the mail and destroy the lives of those who are leaders and thinkers for the people, because of discontent, jealousy or hatred. Grant, we pray Thee, that the consciousness of our patriotic citizens may be so aroused that all shall comply with Thy law and with the law of the land. We thank Thee that our Governor escaped from the hand of the assassin. We pray Thee further that he may always escape, and that those who have been placed lawfully in authority may be barricaded on all sides by Thy own great agents and agencies, so that they shall be kept from harm and danger; and may not only ask for this, but, one and all, so strive to live that our lives shall be without spot or blemish in Thy sight, and thus set an example for others. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 476.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its amendments, nonconcurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 476, entitled

An Act to amend section eight clause (b) of an act approved June seventh one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An Act relating to the form execution revocation and interpretation of wills to noncupative wills to the appointment of testamentary guardians to spendthrift trusts to forfeiture of devise or legacy in case of murder of testator to elections to take under or against wills and to the recording and registering of such elections and of decrees relative thereto and to the fees therefor" by giving to any mother or adopting mother the right to appoint a testamentary guardian for her minor child when the father or adopting father of such child has forfeited his right to appoint a testamentary guardian under clause (c) of said section and when the said mother or adopting mother has left an estate real or personal to such child the said amendment to apply to the wills of all persons dying on or after the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

And has appointed Messrs. F. E. Baldwin, Leiby and J. S. Miller as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 286.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 1, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 286, entitled "An Act to amend section one thousand six hundred and eight and section two thousand and sixteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine, entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith.'"

This bill would prohibit the teaching of the German language in the public schools and the normal schools of this Commonwealth. While I do not doubt that the motives which impelled the passage of this measure by the Legislature were highly patriotic, and that the intention of the author in the matter is entirely good, I cannot believe that the effect of this proposition, were it enacted into law, would be beneficial to our people. Nowhere in Pennsylvania's public schools is there any requirement that anyone shall study German unless he so elects. Whatever may be our feelings toward our national enemies in Europe, now, happily, vanquished by our noble allies and ourselves, no good end could be served by forbidding our young men and women the advantage of acquiring a familiarity with the German language. There are over 125,000,000 people in the world to whom this language is the mother-tongue and a very large proportion of the population of Pennsylvania is made up of people who are Teuton stock. Whether we are to remain at peace with the German-speaking nations in Europe, or whether we are to again meet them in combat, it will be to our advantage to know their language. If we are to trade with them, or are again to fight them, a knowledge of their language will give us an advantage which is not inconsiderable. Officers returning from the battlefields in France say that one of the particular reasons why our Pennsylvania troops were so effective in battle against the Germans was that so large a proportion of them understood the language and could meet the enemy upon his own ground, understand his commands and his signals and be forewarned of his military strategy.

Moreover, much that is worth while in science, in engineering, in art, in literature and in music has been written in the German language, and it would place our people at a decided disadvantage if our students were not able to read these writings and understand the shades of meaning in the original.

At the close of the Revolution and of the second war with Great Britain we did not forbid the teaching of English in our schools; after the Mexican war and the Spanish war, instead of forbidding our students to learn the Spanish language, we set to work to encourage the study of this tongue ,in order to promote our intercourse and trade with the nations which use it. It seems to me that to deprive our people now of the opportunity of learning the German language would be extremelyf short-sighted, and that if we were to take such action we should soon regret it. We must not be hysterical in our patriotism and we surely must not pursue the policy of cutting off our own noses to spite our faces. Rather must we view these questions in a broad, liberal manner and try to give our people the advantage of every facility in education which will help them to meet the competition of other peoples in every part of the world and prepare them for the eventualities of these times when we are taking, more than ever before, a hand in international affairs. This is a question where the practical view should outweigh the sentimental, and for these reasons I cannot approve of this bill.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

A motion was made by Mr. JOHN T. DAVIS, and seconded by Mr. R. L. WALLACE.

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

Mr. DAY asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. McGeary.

Mr. HICKERNELL asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Zimmerman on account of sickness.

The Speaker. The Chair will request the visitors in the Hall of the House to be more quiet. There is too much noise at the present time for the proper transaction of the business of the House.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 259, as follows:

An Act to amend section six of an act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and eighteen) entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation" so as to permit temporary suspensions by the superintendent of Public Affairs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section six of an act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and eighteen) entitled "An Act relating to the appointment of persons to the police department in cities of the third class providing for and regulating examinations the manner of appointments and the manner and power of removal of employes of said department and providing a method for fixing compensation" which reads as follows

"Section 6 All employes of said police department shall be subject to suspension by the superintendent of the department of public affairs for misconduct or violation of any law of this Commonwealth any ordinance of the city or regulation of the said police department pending action by the city council upon the charges made against any such employes and on hearing before the city council where they may be represented by counsel they may be fined suspended or discharged by the city council if found guilty of the charges made against them" is hereby amended to read as follows

"Section 6 All employes of said police department shall be subject to suspension by the superintendent of the department of public affairs for misconduct or violation of any law of this Commonwealth any ordinance of the city or regulation of the said police department pending action by the city council upon the charges made against any such employes and on hearing before the city council where they may be represented by counsel they may be fined or suspended for a period not to exceed thirty days with or without pay or they may be discharged by city council if found guilty of the charges made against them Provided however That the said superintendent of the department of public affairs may for misconduct or violaton as aforesaid suspend any employe of said department of police for a period not to exceed ten days with or without pay without preferring charges and without a hearing of council.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1132.

Mr. WILLERT offered the following motion:

Moved by Mr. WILLERT, seconded by Mr. WONER, that House Bill No. 1132, file folio 3161, entitled

An Act reorganizing the Department of State Police creating therein a Bureau of Fire Protection providing for a State Police force and defining the powers and duties of the same including the enforcement of laws relating to game fish forestry and water supply and certain other laws and including the collection of information useful for the detection of crime and the apprehension of criminals providing for the equipment maintenance and transportation of such police barracks and substations therefor and medical attention for men injured and funeral expenses to men killed in line of duty and prescribing penalties which was defeated on final passage Monday evening, April 28, 1919, be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?"

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, are remarks in order at this time?

The SPEAKER. They are.

Mr. WHITEMAN. I heartily favor, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the passing of this bill. If you will bear with me for just a moment, I want to give to you just one of the many reasons which I might present.

This afternoon, from my home town, there was borne in a white casket, across the hills to a lonely cemetery in the valley, the broken and bruised and mutilated body of a young school teacher, a girl nineteen years of age, as fragile as a china cup, a girl so innocent, so retired, so modest that the blood was wont to flush to her face even when merely and casually addressed by a stranger. Last Monday afternoon this young teacher, this girl nineteen years of age, disappeared as she was on her way home from a lonely school house in a neighboring township. As it afterwards developed, she was abducted in broad daylight; her wrists were bound together by a leather thong; her head was bruised by a blow from a big club; she was carried into an abandoned log house; she was mis-treated in the course of a desperate struggle in an unspeakable way; she then was carried to an abandoned shanty, an out house, and thrown in head first; and when her body still quivered with the breath of life a bullet was sent crashing into her brain; and thus they found her last Saturday, with a leather thong still about her wrist, her hair down and a bullet hole in the back of her head.

Gentlemen of this House, we people of Westmoreland County are looking to the State Police to apprehend and find who did this deed, this deed which was committed in a lonely part of a township not provided either with police or detectives. We, of Westmoreland County, this very night are placing our chief dependence upon the State Constabulary, the State Constabulary whose record is filled with the successful solution of many crimes, the State Constabulary, gentlemen of this House, whose personnel includes men experienced in the tracking of criminals, and men who, when once they take the trail, never give up until they have run the quarry to earth. Gentlemen of this House, I say to you that if this bill carried an appropriation of five million dollars, still I would be with it this night if only for the single fact that we, the people of Westmoreland County, have available the State Constabulary in helping to run down the perpetrator of the foul deed which I have recited to you.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I would like to say, chiefly to the new members in the House, that two years ago, when a similar bill was under consideration, I voted against it. I was impressed by the literature that was sent out by labor organizations—no, not by labor organizations but by a few bad leaders of labor organizations—and as I represented a district which is very largely industrial I felt that the sentiment of the voters of my district was opposed to that bill and I voted against it. When I went home and interviewed those men, singly and in groups, I found that they were not opposed to it; they were in favor of it.

We are confronted tonight with the same question. Furthermore, we passed here in this House a bill abolishing the Fire Marshal's office. This bill creates a Bureau of Fire Protection within the State Police. It also takes over the duties of the fish and game wardens. The increase is absolutely necessary, and I appeal to you men, do not be impressed by these last minute attacks on this bill. I believe that the sentiments of the people of the State, the vast majority of the people of the State, are strongly in favor of the bill. I feel that the sentiments of the voters in my district are in favor of it; but even if I had any doubt of it, in the face of the things that have occurred in the last few days, I would still vote for it because I say to you that the true representative is not the cringing, fawning tool that allows himself to be brow-beaten by some biased people but the man who stands for what he believes is right; not the man who is guided by every change of sentiment, every puff of wind or notion; but the man who makes up his mind what is right and stands fairly and squarely for it and votes accordingly.

Now gentlemen, it is very clear that the vast majority of our people recognize the great work of our State Constabulary which has a national reputation. Other States in the Union are forming State Constabularies and they are all being modeled on the plan of ours. I say that the eyes of the people of the State are upon the House of Representatives tonight. In the face of the outrages which have just been attempted, and very fortunately frustrated, the people of this State demand that you increase the force and give to the Governor and the other law officers of this State sufficient power to cope with the people who are the perpetrators. In my mind, it is clear that the issue tonight is in favor of upholding law and order and protecting life and property, and who is opposed to that? and you will be compelled to give your vote in favor of this measure tonight when you answer that issue aright.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is indeed not a surprise to me, that once a bill has been defeated, you again attempt to pass it. This bill was overwehlmingly defeated a week ago this evening, and I say to you, that labor stands against this bill this evening just as it stood against it a week ago. Statements were made on the floor of this House by the sponsor of the bill, that the district he represented, which was the largest organized district in this State, was not opposed to this bill. Fifteen local unions in that district met last Saturday evening and came out in opposition to the bill. If we are going to use the arguments of broken heads here to-night, we also would have a long story to tell. History will tell you that many of the wage-earners themselves have suffered broken heads in the past. We are not here to-night speaking against law and order, as some would like to interpret it, for labor organizations,—the American Federation of Labor,—have always stood for law ond order, and I dare anyone in this House to contradict me. Let me tell you, men, that the question before you to-night is not what good they are or how bad they are. Since 1905, as I said before, you have continually tried to increase the State Police. In 1911 you tried, and it was defeated 117 to 70. You were not satisfied that session and had it come up again, and it was defeated by 113 to 65. Again in 1913 you tried to increase the State constabulary, and it was defeated that year by 95 to 89. On the second battle, it was a tie vote, 86 against 86. In 1915, again this question came before you. At that time it got 61 votes, with 125 against it. They were not satisfied that time with the defeat, and it came back again, receiving 51 for and 77 against. In 1917 the same proposition came before you. Of course, then we were in war, and the State Militia had been called to the front. Every argument presented upon the floor in favor of this bill was clothed in the Stars and Stripes.

Now the arguments are, if rumors are correct, that you are trying to place the blame on labor, and trying to class every labor organization as Bolshevists, and I want to say to you, the labor organizations are going to resent these statements that are being circulated through this House. I want to say to you that I have been as good a law-abiding citizen as any man. I have opposed the I. W. W. and anarchistic organizations, just as much as any one of the State police has ever opposed them. The organizations that we represent have always been against these people. My friends, I do not see the necessity of increasing the State police at this time. As I said here a week ago, we are not going to have any disorder now, because, as brother Jordan says, they have taken away our beer, and that used to get the blame for it a few years ago. All our jails will be empty, the same as in all of the other prohibition states, my friends. I want to say to you that in the increase of this State constabulary you take from the game wardens and the fish wardens and the fire marshals their power, and you place that in the hands of men who are not citizens of Pennsylvania, men who only have to pass a physical examination. I want to say to you, that the game wardens and the fish wardens and the fire marshals that are now serving, demand as much protection as any other class of citizens, and I do not believe in taking away the jobs of these men and placing them in the hands of men that do not have to be citizens of Pennsylvania. My friends, it is useless to talk at length upon this bill. You men have had sufficient time to consider it. Whatever has happened, has happened in the last week. We do not know what the orders are, but I want to say to you, that the rank and file at home do not ask you to receive orders at the eleventh hour to bring about the passage of this bill. They want you to consider it just the same as you did last Monday night. I would ask you again to defeat this bill this evening.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, my good friend and colleague from Allegheny (Mr. Dithrich), has referred to this bill as having a resemblance to the bill which was passed by the General Assembly two years ago. It has this resemblance: They both apply to the state constabulary. There is this difference, however, that the present bill does not change it much. The bill of 1917 merely raised the salaries of the superintendent, assistant superintendents and some of the other officials. This bill, however, gentlemen, performs a very, to me, small need. It increases the four troops of the constabulary now existing in this State to five troops. Under the law as it now stands, there shall be one captain, one lieutenant, one first-sergeant, four second-sergeants, eight corporals and sixty-seven men to a troop, making a total of eighty-three men in each troop. There were four troops, making a total of three hundred and twenty-eight men. Under the present bill there is one captain, one lieutenant, one first-sergeant, five second-sergeants, ten corporals and sixty-five men to a troop, making a total of eighty-three men to each troop. There are five troops, amounting in all to four hundred and fifteen men. So this bill increases the number of men in the entire State to eighty-seven. It also increases the salaries of the men, and I do not think there is any man in this House who is not willing to say that these men are deserving of an increase of salary, and in fact, gentlemen, the best proof that I have of the correctness of my statement lies in the statement of the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler)). When he spoke on April 28th, he said this: "I say the fellow that is in the saddle ought to have got the increase." Now he opposed the Act in 1917 because it applied to that absolute patriot and leader, Captain Groome, who had an offer, as you remember, from New York to go there and receive a greater salary in erecting State troops of this character in New York. But he stayed in Pennsylvania, and he took this work up and stood by it until we went to war with the Teutonic people, and then he went across and was over there until very recently, as the head of the Military Police of the American Army. Now he is back in this country, and he expects to return to his duty. But the argument the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) used in opposing the bill last session, and which he submits now, is that the men should have received the increase. The gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) has referred to the fact that labor has been patriotic. There is no doubt about that, and the man who says labor has not been patriotic is a fool, and not only that but he slanders the cause of union labor in this country, and particularly in this State. What the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) said on the twentieth of April with reference to labor is true, absolutely true. Union labor has been with the government from start to finish during the war, and it is not with union labor, not by any means, that we find fault; for it has stood in favor of law and order. But, gentlemen, even as labor has given its young men to the support of the government, even as its young men entered into the lists and went abroad to fight for our Nation, and some of them to their eternal resting place on the other shore, so may it be said that the State Constabulary, many of them, entered the army and fought for their country. So that the principle that applies to labor may also apply to them, and in proportion to their size the sacrifice was equal. But those boys are now coming home, and while they were here they did mighty efficient work. It is the record of the State Constabulary that they obtain seventy per cent. convictions in every case they go into, and I do not believe any man would dare say to this House that a constabulary officer has ever been known to commit perjury. Those men are too proud of their body, and too proud of their record, to stand for anything like perjury. Furthermore they refuse to make a charge until they are sure they can prove it. That is the type of men that constitutes the State Constabulary. It is not politics nor mere influence. In fact, the surest way to see a man turned down is to have the political leaders make an appeal for him; for they are chosen for their worth, and most of them are veterans of the Spanish-American War, and discharged soldiers of the United States regular service. Several of them are back in their old positions and giving the same character of service and displaying the same worth they did on the other side. But most of all, the reason for the bill does not lie with union labor. Union labor is opposed to Bolshevism, and not a man who is in favor of union labor will stand for it. But there have crept into the labor unions men who will not and cannot and won't submit to the control of their leaders, fly-by-nights, if you please. But labor will not stand for that which is unpatriotic. These men cause the trouble and then sneak out. It is this which brings disgrace to the body with which they are connected. They are are a crowd that do not belong to the union. They come in from other States. They fly in the face of providence and disseminate the doctrine of hate, rapine and murder. The State Constabulary is needed to protect the State against such men. I noted in the speech of the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) last week that he made reference to the Sedition Bill and the bill which provides for this extra group of police. My friend from Lackawanna is crossing a bridge before he comes to it, because there is no provision in the Sedition Bill or in any other bill such as he refers to, and there is no telling what may become of either of the bills. Therefore this bill should be considered on its merits or demerits.

The State Constabulary has brought fame to our State, and the greatest compliment that can be paid has been that it has been passed upon by other states, the compliment of imitation. It has been imitated in other states, and it will not be long before every state in the Union that can afford it will have a State Constabulary. The bill is full of merit. All it does is to raise the State Constabulary in Pennsylvania eighty-seven men; and I want to say to you that we will guarantee the safety of our wives, the safety of our children and the safety of the people if this bill is passed. I am sure that union labor, real union labor, will have no complaint against any member of the State Constabulary of Pennsylvania, as it will not do otherwise than keep, maintain and support the laws of Pennsylvania.

Mr. JOHN T. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This bill has been given some serious consideration by the members of this House. When it was brought before the attention of the House just the other evening it was defeated. Many have gone back to their homes, many have looked into its merits, many have considered it from every angle; and I feel confident tonight as I stand before you that this bill will receive an almost unanimous vote.

Why do I make that assertion? I may give three reasons. First, because of what has taken place throughout the length and breadth of this Commonwealth since we last sat here in this chamber. I want to say, gentlemen, that I am a friend of labor. I have talked to many men who are faithful to the organizations which they represent. Particularly have I talked with individuals in my own particular county. Last Thursday when, not organized labor, nor the United Mine Workers of America, nor the men who stand for organized labor in all its meaning and force, but men who disregard law and order and society and the happiness and prosperity of our womanhood and manhood in this Commonwealth, went forth, or endeavored to go forth, and parade in the various sections of Indiana County to show the people of Indiana County that they are willing to take the law in their own hands, and to demonstrate throughout the length and breadth of our county that no law nor any force could keep them from thus parading and demonstrating and promulgating their ideas before the people. I want to say here tonight that if it had not been for the State Constabulary that were on the scene and on the job, I believe there would have been bloodshed in our county. But those men nipped it in the bud; those men were on the job; they did not mistreat a single individual who was a law-abiding citizen; they were kind and courteous to all who are true Americans. I want to ask the gentlemen of the House tonight what they think of these pictures and these books that were found on the persons of two of the individuals? These are the pictures that were taken from the persons of the individuals who desired to parade. I say to you, gentlemen, that there ought to be sufficient American ideas and ideals manifested through this House tonight to send broadcast throughout the length and breadth of this great Commonwealth, that this House of Representatives stand as unit against that kind of un-American idea and ideals and un-American principles in our nation. I want to say further that I believe, as my colleague, Mr. Whiteman from Westmoreland, has said, that our part of the State has indeed been aroused and I want to say further that I believe it is true that the efforts of this State Constabulary have been in our part of the State able to suppress a vast amount of crimes, that it is shameful to mention in a civilized country, and while these ideas are prevalent, being manifested through the minds and views of such individuals as have sent forth this literature, and I want to say that it is time that this great Commonwealth is safeguarding our homes, our wives, our children and our daughters, from the offenses that are being perpetrated in our Commonwealth today. I believe it is the patriotic duty of every member of this House tonight to go on record for the increase of eighty-seven more men on this force of individuals who will protect and who will uphold the dignity and safeguard all those in this great Commonwealth against those who desire to overthrow it and enter into the sacred realms of our homes and destroy our young womanhood and threaten to bring disorder upon this Commonwealth.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Walker) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. FOWLER. I would like to ask him what the bill in 1917 asked for?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, the bill in 1917 only asked for increased salaries of the superintendent and assistant superintendent and some others.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, the act of 1917 was an act increasing the salaries of the superintendent and the assistant superintendent and a number of the State Police, a number of officers and enlisted men, being 112 men on the list in that session. I will state further, in answer to Mr. Walker, that at no time have I opposed the increase of salary to the rank and file of the force and to-night I take the same stand that I took in 1917; and what I said in 1917 was, as I believed at that time, that the Superintendent of State Police should not receive as much salary for superintending 320 men as a Brigadier General in the United States Army. A brigadier general of the United States Army was at that time paid a salary of $6,000 a year, and I say, even today, that it is ridiculous to have an increase of the salary of the Superintendent of the State Police of this State from $3,000 to $6,000. In answer to the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. John T. Davis), it is all right to come into this House and say there would have been bloodshed in Indiana on that occasion but if the information is correct I think that investigation should be made in Indiana County, and if they broke into that meeting, that that is a matter that should be investigated. I said in regard to Indiana County then and I say now, that I brought to the attention of the House that case and I took it before the Governor in regard to Indiana, and I made the same statement two years ago, that the tactics in use at that time in Indiana were dangerous and that there would be trouble later on in Indiana, and that trouble is this: That organized labor has been kicked out of Indiana every time it has made an attempt to go in there up to two years ago. I want to call your attention to the fact that Joseph Yannis, the vice president of the United Mine Workers of America and International President White, of the Mine Workers' Organization, and myself, were on a train at the same time going over to Pittsburgh, and Mr. Yannis went into Indiana there to see his boy, and the minute he arrived in there he was packed into the company store and thereafter kicked out of town, and he was not a Bolsheviki. I want to say that labor will go on and investigate some of the conditions that are prevailing in Indiana County. There are some men who may have been radical, and some men may have made mistakes, as men make in this House, just as well as in Indiana. Gentlemen, I want to say to you, as I said in 1917, which is just what I then said, and I say it again in this session, that I have not opposed any salary to be paid to men who are in the rank and file, who are in the saddle, and I believe that if they are worth anything, they are worth a decent living wage and that they should be paid a higher salary, and if they are not paid that, they should be. We can have a better class of men by paying better wages, but my objection to the bill now as in 1917 is that it is not necessary to increase the salaries of the police force at this time. If you only treat organized labor in Indiana and in other counties fairly, there is nothing further required. I went into the city of Johnstown some time ago, and I was to speak there at a mass meeting. Objections had been sent out by one of the organized companies there that the representatives of the American Federation of Labor organizations should be put out of town and the mayor refused to recognize it. I have a father who was a superintendent for that same company and after I made that speech in the city of Johnstown, he was discharged. I say to you men, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that it is true that the sedition bill was a dovetail bill to the State Constabulary, and also the Eyre bill, No. 381, which creates a State Detective Agency and pits organized men against one another. Why did I make that statement in regard to those bills the following day in this House of Representatives, because the representatives of labor were well represented themselves in this House and they convinced the Attorney General that that bill was a bad bill, and according to that, the Attorney General Schaffer made a remark to that effect and struck out one of the teeth in that bill and said to labor that he believed himself that it was a bad bill. I want to say to you men that the American Federation of Labor has at all times stood for law and order. I battled the I. W. W., when Joe Ettor was out there at that time in that locality, and the State Police could not control them under the leadership of Joe Ettor. At that time there was none of the organizers of the Federation of Labor of the United Mine Workers that refused to come over and volunteer their services to break up the I. W. W. workers. We are not preaching against them as individuals because if I was to go into that history I could tell you a good many tales.

Let us get down to the real issue and vote this down. The game warden of today is just as much entitled to hold his job, the fish warden is just as much entitled to hold his job, and the State Fire Marshal is just as much entitled to hold his job as you men have a right to take it away from him. I say you have not the right. You are discriminating against one class of people to hand it over to another class of people for a sinister purpose, perhaps.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, in the first speech of the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Fowler) he made this very truthful statement: "It is useless to talk at length on this bill." I hesitate, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, to occupy more time on this question except to call your attention to this fact: Two years ago, when this General Assembly considered the increase of the State police, many of the members then petitioned those in charge of the measure to double the size of the State Police. And why did they petition those in charge? Because it was demonstrated two years ago that there were not enough State Police in Pennsylvania. The Governor of this Commonwealth was then a Senator. He knew of the demands that were made upon the Commonwealth for protection such as our friend from Westmoreland has brought here tonight, he knew the increasing necessity for a police force under the control of the Governor of this Commonwealth. For the two years since then he has known it, and now he comes before the General Assembly, as the Executive of this Commonwealth, just as your mayor of a city would go before council, just as the burgess of a borough would go before council, when he felt the police force of that municipality was not sufficient to cope with the situation; and the Chief Executive comes here and asks you to increase this police force eighty some men, a small number when you consider the area which these men have to cover. Why, my friends, if they were of no more use in this State than to track down automobile thieves, we should give them that increase. (Applause). There is one of their functions.

Am I a friend of labor? I think I am, because I am a laboring man; and I want to say that on last Thursday night, when in the city of Chester—which I have the honor to represent—we felt there were to be serious outbreaks, the labor organizations tendered their services to our sheriff, and on that day there were more men working in the plants of our city than on any other day for months before. But that alone, my friends, don't convince me that the Governor of this Commonwealth should not have a few more State policemen. Why, if we were not emerging from war; if we were not in the midst of crimes of every character; still, my friends, there would be a need in the State of Pennsylvania, not as an enemy of organized labor, not that, but as the protectors of the citizens from crimes which organized labor has nothing at all to do with. These crimes that are happening now demand immediate attention, and I say to you men that if it were not last night, in the city of Chester, a bomb had not been hurled from a passing automobile, supposedly at a Polish church, if that had not occured, still there is a demand in this State for extra policemen. These men are the police of Pennsylvania, and your Governor, after twenty-two years of service in the Senate of Pennsylvania, after he has watched these men in action, after he has known what a Commonwealth officer needs in Pennsylvania, after he has heard the appeals from all over Pennsylvania asking that he would give them more State Police to protect their avenues and their highways and their homes, he comes here to you, my friends, and he says, "Give me these paltry few more State Police," and you are going to answer, "I will." (Applause).

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: Is there any need for this legislation? I am frank to say that so far as a very large majority of the people of this State are concerned; there is not, but, unfortunately, we have among us a very small majority who make it absolutely imperative that there should be. Yesterday morning I picked up an issue of a Philadelphia paper, and I read a glaring headline which said,—and the article was written by the worthy Samuel Gompers—"Russia is a torch of warning to the United States." Did I need to ask myself what Samuel Gompers meant? Do you need to ask yourselves tonight what Samuel Gompers meant when you come to this Assembly Hall and you can only get in at one entrance and the other two are barred to you? Do you need to ask yourselves what anyone means when he refers to the abnormal condition of society prevailing in this Commonwealth today? I sat on the floor of this House last Tuesday afternoon and I listened to a hearing, and I heard the Representatives of organized labor say, "We will assist you to put down these law-breakers;" and I want to say to organized labor that I appreciate that; every citizen of this Commonwealth will appreciate their assistance, and I believe they meant it; and every citizen of this Commonwealth will appreciate the assistance of every other citizen of this Commonwealth; but, gentlemen, neither you, nor I, nor organized labor are charged with the responsibility of maintaining law and order in this Commonwealth.

That responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the Governor of this Commonwealth, and he comes to us and says, "There are calls from this quarter and calls from that neighborhood, and we do not have a sufficient number of men to send there." Eighty-seven additional men to patrol sixty-seven counties of this Commonwealth Of course you are going to have them, gentlemen. I trust that the vote on this bill will be almost unanimous.

Mr. JOHN T. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the chance to take just a moment to make an explanation in defense of our county, Indiana. I want to say that I received this from the lips of our own burgess in the town of Indiana. Some three or four weeks ago there was a committee that visited him and asked for the privilege of parading on last Thursday. He granted that privilege, thinking that they represented the United Mine Workers, which privilege has never been denied them when they came and desired to parade. He had occasion to talk with a representative of that particular organization, and that representative said that it was not the United Mine Workers that desired to parade, and that they had absolutely nothing to do with it. Then an investigation was started and it was found that it was an organization that disregarded law and order, therefore, they were instructed not to parade; and that day, in all defiance of that instruction, they gathered in many parts of the county and endeavored to pull off their parade. It was absolutely necessary to have the State Constabulary there in our county, to keep down a riot that would undoubtedly have happened if the constabulary had not been present. I was desirous of giving this information to the House.

Mr. HELT. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief in what I say to you. I was sorry to hear several speakers intimate that labor did not understand its stand against legislation of this kind. I want you to understand that labor, in these days, knows what it has passed through in the past in getting what they are enjoying today. Do not forget that, and organized labor knows the possibilities of such legislation as this. I heard it stated last week and heard it again here tonight that labor possibly does not comprehend the intent of this bill. Is it not a possibility that the gentlemen who are sponsoring this bill or those who are behind the bill miscomprehend the need of this legislation? If half the effort was put forth and half the time were put forth in an effort to bring this State to a point where it would be a State worth while living in and if half the effort were put forth in behalf of labor, then you would not hear of these riots in Westmoreland and Chester. I heard a gentleman state that they would be glad to have the assistance of labor in suppressing riots. I will guarantee you that any locality in the State of Pennsylvania that will give labor half a chance to suppress riots of the Bolshevists and the I. W. W. that we will do it for you, we will do it clean and honest and above board.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to add one word. The father of the girl whose terrible fate I recounted to you, is a man of small means, a working man, a man who could not afford to employ a private detective. Men, how can we vote against an organization whose men know neither rest nor sleep nor danger when there is a fiend to be run to work?

The SPEAKER. Before the Chair orders a roll call by the clerk, he would ask the members to answer to their names in a clear, audible and distinct tone. He would also ask the members to remain quiet, and would enjoin upon the visitors that they remain quiet while the roll is being called.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

FAVORING FEDERAL AID FOR HIGHWAYS.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 5, 1919.

Whereas, In the proper economic development of the resources of the variou States of the Union, it is essential that a connected system of main arteries of traffic between the States be evolved which will assist in the marketing and distribution of their products and commodities; and

Whereas, In order to develop such an interstate system, the Federal Government should establish a national highway system and make the necessary appropriations to carry the same into effect; and

Whereas, In the construction of a system of main arteries an opportunity will be offered to provide employment, during the period of adjustment of this nation, for unemployed labor and the heroes returning from France; now, therefore, be it

Resolved (If the House concurs), That the members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby petition the Congress of the United States to establish a national system of highways and to cooperate with the State of the Union in carrying out plans for the development of such a system, together with the provisions of the present Federal Aid Act, or any amendment or amendments thereto;

Resolved, That the present appropriation for Federal Aid to the States be continued and increased, and the States urged to undertake comprehensive highway improvements to keep pace with the transportation needs of the nation.

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth forward a copy of this Resolution to the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, and that a copy thereof be sent to each member of said bodies from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER.

Section 22 All acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth or parts of acts thereof inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will request the House to be in order. The sergeant-at-arms is instructed to maintain order in the rear of the Hall.

Mr. ALLUM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the bill we are voting on. There is so much noise in the rear of the Hall that it is impossible to hear.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will request the sergeant-at-arms to maintain quiet in the rear of the Hall. The Chair will request the members to answer distinctly to their names. It is a matter of great annoyance to the desk when the members fail to answer. The Chair has been repeatedly asked to call the attention of the members to their failure to answer to their names. It requires twice the time of the clerks to call the roll when the members are so inattentive that they will not answer to their names, and they are requested to do so now. The Clerk will suspend calling the roll until quiet is maintained, and the visitors in the rear of the Hall must keep quiet, otherwise they will be removed.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, from page 6 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed, House Bill No. 949, file folio 1897.

Agreeably to order.

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WILLSON,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 949, entitled

An Act to amend and to repeal certain sections of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto"

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. This is the bill that was before this House one week ago tonight. I don't want to worry you with making remarks on this bill, at frequent intervals, but I assure you that it is not my fault that it is again up for your consideration. This is the bill known as the bill to repeal the non-partisan law for third-class cities. I want to ask the members of this House to consider this bill most carefully and vote against it. Now, gentlemen of the House, why should the third class cities of this Commonwealth be picked out as a target for these repealers? I can see where it would be a fair proposition to bring this House any bills that were introduced to place on this calendar providing for the repeal of all the non-partisan laws for municipalities of this State. But that is not done. I don't know why it has not been done. I don't know why third-class cities are picked out as a target for repeal. I just want to say, briefly, that one week ago the information was circulated about this House that this was an administration measure, and that the Governor of the Commonwealth was for this repeal. Now, you know that that is not correct, and I am not charging any man in this House as being the party who did that, but somebody did it and misrepresented when they so did it. In times past as well as during this session, it has almost become a joke that when men have a measure that they want to get passed by the members of this House, no matter if that bill be inspired only by some insignificant clerk in some of the departments of this State government, it is referred to and it is named an administration measure, for the purpose of leading the members of this House to believe that it is the policy of the administration to do that particular thing, when the administration has nothing to do with it. Now, gentlemen, I know there is a disposition among the members of this House, especially those representing the majority party, to faithfully and conscientiously support the Governor in his administration, and I can see why a lot of you men who do not live in third-class cities and who do not represent third-class cities would be disposed to vote for this bill if it were an administration measure, and if the Governor of this Commonwealth was back of it and advocated its repeal, you might wish to support it. But, gentlemen, when you know that the Governor of this Commonwealth is not back of this measure and that it is not an administration measure, and he has stated in public print that he is opposed to this measure, and he has stated within the last few days that he had not gone on record as favoring this measure, then, gentlemen, I can see no reason why you men who may live in Philadelphia or live in some of the outlying counties or live in the city of Pittsburgh, ought to vote for this repeal when it does not affect you and when it does affect us, and when we don't want it repealed. I ask you men, if you have any doubt as to how third-class cities stand on this proposition, if you will refer to the vote on this measure, in your legislative record of two weeks ago, you will find that a great large majority of representatives who represent third-class cities, voted against this bill—a very large majority. Now, gentlemen, if you want it repealed for third-class cities, why should it not be repealed for second-class cities? Nobody is asking for that, but they are asking for it for third-class cities, notwithstanding the fact that a large majority of the members representing third-class cities are dead opposed to this matter. I ask you, in fairness, to down this bill. You men who just a little while ago tonight were so patriotic in your treatment of the administration, and now, why don't you support the man over here who has stated in the public prints that he is opposed to the repeal of this non-partisan law? Gentlemen, consider this matter. I think you should, in fairness to third-class cities, vote against this repeal and defeat this bill.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. R. L. Wallace).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. R. L. Wallace) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I will be very glad, and I will be more courteous than the colleague of the gentlemen and I will answer the interrogation.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lawrence on what authority he quotes the Governor of this State as to being opposed to this measure?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, because, sir, on two different occasions, through the public print, he has stated his opposition to this measure. Furthermore, he has stated to the members of this House that he does not want this bill to come over to him.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask him if the Governor said that to him personally?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, that is true; yes sir, he had.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman, did the Governor state he was for this bill or against it?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, he said just what I stated in my remarks, that he did not want this bill to come to him.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, this matter was brought up a week ago. It is not a matter of being discussed here on the floor, because I feel that every man in this House is familiar with this bill; and every man who is a party man, whether he is a Republican or a Democrat, I feel that he should be in favor of such a bill as this on the calendar tonight. I want to say that there is no reason in the world why the councils of third class cities should not be elected under the party platform. We elect our constables, our aldermen, our school boards and our legislators under the party platform. There is no reason, in my mind, why the council should be elected in any other manner than that in which the other officers are elected.

I want to say further, that under the census of 1910, the population of boroughs in the State of Pennsylvania is 2,056,101. The councilmen and officers of these boroughs are elected on a non-partisan ballot. Thirty-one of these boroughs have a population of more than ten thousand, and, if they so elect, can become cities of the third class and would come under the non-partisan ballot. These boroughs have a population of 536,479. It is more than probable that under the census of next year there will be at least fifty boroughs that can become cities of the third class. There are thirty-four cities of the third class and two cities of the second class having a population of 1,704,280 in which councils are elected on a non-partisan ballot. Of this population, 663,772 are in cities of the second class. The population of the cities of the third class, as near as can be approximated, is 1,040,508, or less than one-seventh of the State's total population.

I can see no reason in my mind why the repeal of this act should not become a law, for the reason that the non-partisan is taken out of the foundation from all party platforms, regardless of which party it may be. They claim it is a step backward in eliminating the non-partisan law. To my mind, and I think in many other minds in this House, it is a step backwards in continuing the non-partisan law.

I can say that out of thirty-four Republicans, thirty of them if they had to vote on it according to their consciences, would vote for this bill to repeal the non-partisan ballot. They are voting against their consciences; and I am in position to give the names of those men who are willing to see this bill pass, but they had been instructed by their council, who are elected under the non-partisan ballot and naturally would be against the bill. I want to say further, that it will put no burden on the parties if this bill should be repealed and it will be a good thing for all parties, for the Democrats and Republicans, if this repeal of the non-partisan law is passed, and I respectfully ask the members of this House to vote in favor of this bill tonight to repeal the non-partisan law of 1913.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this House; On this occasion and on former occasions when this bill was before the House, more or less of the uncertainty in regard to it seems to be due to the fact that there seems doubt as to what the Governor will do when the bill gets before him. I would suggest a way out of that is to help the bill along and then let the Governor publicly state his position on it. It seems to be a favorite pastime of some of the members of the House, who have formed a delegation of their own, when an argument takes place on the floor of the House to tell the members what the Governor will do with certain legislation if it reaches him. The Governor is courageous; he knows his own mind; and he knows what he wants to do with a measure if it does reach him; but the Governor is not going to try to influence the members of this House on anything that is not a part of the administration program.

Now, gentlemen, I am in favor of this bill, in the first place, because the city of Duquesne, a third class city out in my district, is in favor of it; and, secondly, because I am a loyal party man, and, being a loyal party man, I am naturally opposed to every non-partisan measure, whether it is in a city, in the county or in the judiciary. My only regret is that it has not been politically wise at this time to allow us to vote down the non-partisan law in second-class cities and in the judiciary. If we have parties in the Nation and in the State, logically, we should have party elections in the cities and in the boroughs. I have failed to hear a single argument advanced in favor of the non-partisan law as it now stands. The weight of argument is all in favor of the repeal of this. And let me appeal to the Republican members of this House: Can anyone point to a single instance in any Democratic State where they adopted a non-partisan law? Everything from the bell-ringer—and accidentally they will elect a president—and it is all done on a straight party ticket; and why should we want to favor our friends on the Democratic side by giving them a non-partisan law? And let me say that in the city of Pittsburgh, where we have the non-partisan law in our municipal election, the Democratic party has no representative nor has it had any since the non-partisan law went into effect. They will say to you, "Why, you Republicans want it." The Republican party can stand on solid Republicanism, and not on the non-partisan issue. Solely as Republicans, vote for this bill, and then fix the party responsibility and the party will be responsibile for the men that it elects. The time is late. I am not going to take more time in a lenghtly argument on this matter, but I simply appeal to you to allow the men, speaking for the third-class city districts that are in favor of this measure, to have the opportunity to present it to the Governor for his approval or disapproval.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Dithrich).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DITHRICH. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. R. L. Wallace) will proceed.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if it is not a fact that he is a member of an organization composed of the members from Allegheny county?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask him further if it is not a fact that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Simpson, is the president of that organization?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, he has that honor; but neither Mr. Simpson or I have ever presumed to come upon the floor of the House and express to the members the wishes of the Governor on any matter.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I have been myself deeply impressed up to this hour with the stern sanity of the action of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania. I want to say to you that up until now we have engaged in the enactment of constructive legislation.

I ask you now, are you going to turn the other way and pass a piece of destructive legislation?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Is it not a point that the gentleman from Butler County is entitled to a courteous hearing on the floor of the House?

The SPEAKER. It is the opinion of the Chair that the gentleman from Butler is well able to take care of himself.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I raise that point of order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I will not permit any man, either from Allegheny or from any other place, to say that he is a more loyal Republican than I am. I will point him to the peerless leader of the Republican party of the State of Pennsylvania, and would ask the gentleman from Allegheny if he thinks he is a more loyal Republican than the Senior Senator from the State of Pennsylvania. Let me read something that the Senior Senator from the State of Pennsylvania has said. I hold in my hand a copy of the "Philadelphia Record" of Tuesday, April 22, 1919. It starts off with the heading "Non-Partisan Stand a Surprise." Then this follows: "Senator Penrose's declaration that he is a firm believer in the non-partisan theory caused tongue-wagging on Capitol Hill. Then it goes on and speaks of the Governor's position on this matter, and down here is an expression where the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Dithrich) takes issue with the Senior Senator from Pennsylvania, and by his very expression puts himself up as a better Republican than Senator Boies Penrose; it says that the Senator added that he is a convert to the non-partisan idea, used on a wide basis, and that he favors it for all municipalities—listen to that—for all municipalities, even down to towns and boroughs. He said, however, that he does not care to inflict his views on the rest of the State.

Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I will try your patience just for a moment, if you will give me a respectful hearing. In the first place, the non-partisan plan is right. I defy any man to gainsay that statement. It is progressive, it is up-to-date, it has filled a real need. Second, the non-partisan plan in third-class cities and in second-class cities will work, and possibly down in the city of Philadelphia, if their charter legislation goes through and all the Utopian stories that are floating around here are true as to what they are going to do in the metropolis of this State—they mave even have a non-partisan government in the city of Philadelphia. Now the second reason that I give to you gentlemen from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh is this: What do you know about conditions out in Butler, or even down in McKeesport, or what do you know about conditions over in New Castle? I understand that some of you gentlemen say that whereas heretofore you voted in favor of keeping this non-partisan plan on the statute books, now you are going to vote the other way. Can you give me a logical reason why you are going to do that? There has been some log-rolling l[illegible]ose. You men say that you do not care how you vote, but we care how you vote. If you throw Butler into a partisan government, you do it against the protest of Butler. Let me say in all deference to you people from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, that it has been my invariable rule, since the very beginning of my service as a member of the House—and I did it on the very first vote in this House at a time when the honor of the gentleman from Allegheny was seemingly at stake as the chairman of a committee—I said, "I do not know anything about Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and I will vote the way I think those people down there want things." Now we ask you men from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to turn the tables and vote the way we want things in the third-class cities of this State. I tell you, in two-thirds of the third-class cities in this Commonwealth, by the expressions of the men who voted against this bill when it was up before for repeal, that this legislation has worked properly,

My third reason is that the non-partisan plan is safe. I was down at a committee hearing of the municipal corporations committee. I heard there a gentleman from the City of Reading sound the warning of going back to the party system of government in Reading, and he made the open statement that if such were the case, he could not guarantee that the government of Reading would not be turned over to an undesirable element,—if this repealer went through. Over in the city of New Castle, where our friend, Mr. Wallace, resides, if they were to return to the party ticket, they could not guarantee that it would not be turned over to an irresponsible element. I want you to answer me this question: Do you believe in the rule of the majority? Isn't the non-partisan plan the most democratic plan in the world? Do you believe in the rule of a few, as in the city of Chicago, where merely a minority rules? Do you believe that a third or fourth party, running on a party declaration, should obtain power with probably less than one-third or one-fourth of the total vote in the city? If you believe that, what is your reason? But if you believe in democracy, in the role of the majority, then I say to you, keep this non-partisan feature on the statute books. Now, gentlemen, there has not been a discordant note in all the constructive program in this Legislature to date. I ask you now in the name of democracy, in the name of the leader of the Republican party of the State of Pennsylvania, and even in the name of your Governor, to defeat this bill; and listen, gentlemen, has there anybody risen here to say that the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania is for this act?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to say, in answer to the gentleman from Butler, that while I am proud to follow the leadership of the Senior Senator from Pennsylvania, I do not think his judgment is infallible, and if the gentleman is correctly quoting him, then I think that he has slightly slipped from his party moorings, and while I may not be as big a Republican as he is, I think in this particular issue that my Republicansim stands out a little stronger than his does.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to say that I stand by the judgment of the Senior Senator from Pennsylvania.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Butler (Mr. Woner).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler (Mr. Woner) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. Very cheerfully, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if that is the statement of the Senior Senator that you just read, and if so, if that statement is signed?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, this is not a court of law.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, no, it is a court of justice.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I am reading from a reputable newspaper printed in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, this is not a court of law, but a court of justice, and when the Senior Senator is quoted and reference is made to his statement, that statement at least should be signed, and I ask, for the benefit of the members of the House, if that is his statement, and if so, is it signed?

Mr. WONER. It is customary, Mr. Speaker, that when the statements of a man of the caliber of Senator Penrose are misquoted, to immediately call the newspaper man a liar.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, that still does not answer my question. I will again ask the question and ask for an answer.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will kindly answer the question propounded by the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson).

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I will confess that owing to the confusion I did not hear the question. If the gentleman will repeat the question, I will be glad to answer it.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I asked if that is a statement from the senior Senator of the United States from Pennsylvania, and if so in that statement signed by the senior Senator?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, this is a quotation. I wish to say to the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson) that I have been a newspaper man for eighteen years, and I know something about the reliability of the newspapers, and that generally they get things pretty straight.

Mr. SIMPSON. May I ask the gentleman, as you failed to answer the question, what paper is that you read from?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I named the paper, and it will be on the record, The Philadelphia Record of Tuesday, April 22nd.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, Democratic or Republican?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I frankly admit it is a Democratic paper.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, may I now ask with reference to the Republicanism of the gentleman from Butler (Mr. Woner)?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, most assuredly.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, how many Republican Congressmen did they elect from the Butler-Westmoreland district in the last election?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, the hour is late for an explanation of the election of a Democratic Congressman in the twenty-second district, and it probably would take me too long; but I have been aching for an opportunity, and that opportunity has now come to me. I want to say that the election of a Democratic Congressman from the twenty-second district was no fault of mine. I worked for the Republican candidate all along. I wish to say, however, that the Democrat who has been elected Congressman from the twenty-second district is a gentleman.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I have no quarrel with men; I quarrel with principle.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker,—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson) has the floor.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson).

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, up until this time I have not done anything but ask a question; and as I said on the floor of this House, I am a partisan born in the flesh and bred in the bone; and I believe there are just as good men in the Republican party as ever graced the Democratic party, and I believe there are just as good men in the Democratic party as there are in the Republican party; and I have no quarrel with men. I know men in the Democratic party, great big, whole-soul fellows, with hearts in them as big almost as a water bucket, and every pulsation of that heart beats for some good, and the only bad thing I ever knew about them was that they voted the Democratic ticket. That is the only bad thing I have ever known about them. My friends, I want you to know that in every city of the third class, in every city of the second class, and in every borough, and in every township of the first class, and in every township of the second class, the party in the majority is held responsible for their government, and when a party is held responsible for the government of any municipality it ought to have the right to pick the men who will be in control of that government, and they ought to be picked along strict party lines. My friends, I want to tell you that when this Clark act was passed, it was passed not for the express purpose of having a non-partisan government, but it was passed for the sole purpose of doing away with a select and common council, something that had outlived its days of usefulness, and the non-artisan part of that act was a secondary consideration, and was enacted solely and exclusively for the purpose of giving it a trial. That trial, my friends, has proved detrimental in a great many instances. We have no better men in office than if you had a strict party election, and in a great many cases not as good; and those men are not held responsible to any particular party, and you cannot approach them like you could if they were held responsible to a particular party. That is the reason. I am here advocating the repeal of this law, because I know that in a great many instances we have been worse off than we would have been if we had a strict party election. Better men would have been picked, better men in Allegheny County would have been picked at least: and if the people from Butler and Lawrence Counties have no better men for their nominees they are in the same class that we in Allegheny County are in. When we had partisan elections we had responsible leaders in the dominant party, and when they failed in their office, the people arose and placed in the Chair of the chief executive of the city of Pittsburgh a man even though he were a Democrat.

They looked beyond the party; they looked beyond the power when the party leaders would not put the men in there that were best fitted to run the Government. They took the man and placed him there in opposition to their party and that is the way we do in Allegheny Counyt and that is why we as Allegheny Countians, feel that if we are given a strict party vote, that we will put men in office that are qualified to fill those positions and look after the interests of the city and be responsible to some person, and see that the city is run on a strictly business basis. This is not a step backward but is simply correcting an error made in 1913. I ask you gentlemen to ask the people of the State of Pennsylvania that the third-class cities of Pennsylvania are now ready to throw off the non-partisan yoke and take back the strict party ballot and place men in office that are responsible to some person and that will run the city as it should be run.

The previous question was moved by twenty members, as follows:

Messrs. Neary, Baldrige, Bechtold, Bennett, Brady, Dawson, Dithrich, Fitzgibbon, Gans, Goehring, Heffernan, Hough, Krugh, Lawler, Marcus, Albert Millar, David I. Miller, Perry, Ramsey, Simpson, Stadtlander.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Clearfield (Mr. Phillips) asks for a verification of the roll. The roll will be verified.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

RELATIVE TO THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR BUILDING STATE ROADS.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 5th, 1919.

To the Honorable, The Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: In conformity with Section 7 of the Act entitled: "An Act authorizing the issue and sale of bonds to the amount of fifty millions of dollars ($50,000,000) by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; defining the powers and duties of the Governor, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in relation thereto; making an appropriation of the proceeds of such bonds for the purpose of improving and rebuilding the highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the payment of interest on, and the redemption of, bonds by the Sinking Fund Commission; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act," and in order that you may provide by appropriation the moneys necessary for the Sinking Fund of the Commonwealth for the payment of the interest on said bonds and the principal thereof at maturity, I have the honor to inform you that it is my purpose to issue on or about July 1, 1919, bonds to the amount of twelve millions of dollars ($12,000,000), and on or about July 1, 1920, bonds to the amount of eighteen millions of dollars ($18,000,000), as authorized by the aforesaid Act of Assembly, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent. (4 1-2 per cent.) per annum, and be payable in not less than thirty years from the date of issue.

WM. C. SPROUL.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 284.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 3, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I herewith return, without my approval, House Bill No. 284, entitled "An Act to prevent unfair competition and unfair trade practices."

The provisions of this bill are vague, loose and indefinite. It attempts to prevent a merchant, firm or corporation from using a "name, brand, trade-mark, reputation or good will of any grower or maker" whose product the merchant, firm or corporation sells. Under the provisions of this bill a merchant could not use the reputation or good will of a grower whose product he was selling, to increase his own business, or for his own purposes, although it might also inure to the benefit of the grower.

The bill also prevents "depreciating the value of such products * * * by price inducement." It is difficult to understand what this means, but it might prevent selling the product of a grower or maker at a less figure than the grower or maker desired such product to be sold for. The bill seems to provide that all things provided against may be done ,if the goods do not carry a notice prohibiting the practice. In other words, it would permit the grower or maker by a label to fix the price for which a merchant should sell such goods.

Furthermore, under the decisions of the courts of Pennsylvania there is an adequate remedy for the appropriation of trade names, brands, and trade-marks ,and it requires no statutory enactment to give effect to these remedies. A statute might weaken, rather than strengthen, the remedy now existing particularly in this so when account is taken of the fact that this proposed act has no penalty attached to it.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. HESS, seconded by Mr. DIEHM,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 5, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representative of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 792, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly the bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SCHILLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 792, file folio 1729, entitled

An Act to revise amend and consolidate the law relating to fish in certain boundary lakes bays and peninsular waters passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SCHILLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SCHILLING. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 49, page 15, lines 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15 by striking out "the Commissioner of Fisheries is hereby authorized to employ legal counsel to assist in the enforcement of this act and to defend the officers and employes of the Department of Fisheries for acts done in the proper performance of their duties."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be made in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1919 — 123rd of the General Assembly

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 6, 1919. No. 43.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, May 6, 1919.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Clarence J. Buckman) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for American ideals and traditions. We thank Thee that the mixed peoples of our great nation presented an unbreakable line in support of these ideals in the world war. The same spirit of patriotism and self-sacrifice that won the victory for our heroes in France, on the high seas, and in the air, characterized our people of every class in the war activities at home. We pray Thee to so guide our great nation in these crucial times that we may turn this spirit of patriotism and self sacrifice into the channels of reconstruction on the most approved and ideal lines of self-government. These blessings we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SNYDER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 697, entitled:

An act to exempt from payment of inheritance taxes bequests and devises made for certain purposes

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is a short bill with a long history. It originated in the report of 1909 of a joint committee to consider the revision of the revenue laws of the Commonwealth. It has heretofore been limited to the purely public charities and provided that not collateral or inheritant tax is to be levied on institutions of purely public charities. The bill has been vetoed by two Governors. In the last Legislature it was sponsored by our present Governor, and I feel sure if I can get this by the Allegheny delegation this time the Governor will sign it. I do not believe it applies to purely public charities, for certain other institutions are to be exempt; they are corporations for religious, charitable, scientific or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earning of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual or to any special fund for vocational rehabilitation or to labor, agricultural, or horticultural organizations, or to mutual savings banks not having a capital stock represented by shares or to fraternal beneficiary societies, orders or associations operating under the lodge system, and I am sure you are all interested in some of those. I am particularly interested in institutions of purely public charities and the bill was first handed to me by the trustees of the Pennsylvania Hospital, which has asked for no State aid since 1897. There are other hospitals in Philadelphia on the same honor roll, the Episcopal, the Methodist, the Presbyterian, and the Merchants Fund for decayed wholesale merchants. Those are the only ones I have knowledge of. This bill has been heretofore opposed by the Registers of Wills of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and vetoed by Governor Tener and Governor Brumbaugh. The Pennsylvania Hospital, in which I am particularly interested, has sent me a letter stating that the amount of their appropriation for the past year was $251,000 dollars, of which $71,000 dollars was collected from the patients, leaving $175,000 for the support of free work, and this hospital received no State aid. In the past twenty years this hospital has paid $120,000 dollars, and over, to the State of Pennsylvania in collateral inheritant tax. The obvious objection to this legislation is that the State Treasurer needs every penny he can get. My answer to that is that if the State Treasury will be relieved of some of the demands made upon it by private charities for State aid the problem will be solved in a perfectly legitimate and trustworthy manner to exempt these charities from collateral inheritant tax. I would also add that this bill has the approval of our present Governor, who was its sponsor at the last session of the Legislature.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, this bill, if passed, will deprive the State of Pennsylvania at this time of a large amount of revenue, and when we are casting about for additional revenue to pay teachers increased salaries and to do the things that we are called upon in the way of maintaining the charitable institutions of the State, it appears to me that it should have greater consideration than has been given to it up to this time.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

I move you, therefore, Sir, that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Finance, in order that it may be fully considered.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to state that this bill has had a good deal of consideration, because it failed to get through one committee and went through another. Those are two committees that considered it.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I think as we have this bill before us at the present time we should vote upon it. It is true enough that it has been in two committees, been reported out and there is absolutely no reason whatever for it being recommitted again. This bill was originally sponsored by the present Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and only yesterday in consultation with him he was in favor of this bill in reference to the inheritance tax. I can see no reason why it should be recommitted and it should be acted upon at this time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for, the yeas were 25 and the nays 14, whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 745 (House Bill No. 281), entitled:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, some thirty-five years ago, when I first became a voter in this State, there were four gentlemen taking an active part in Republican politics in our city in the person of David H. Lane, Hamilton Disston, William R. Lees and James McManus. The newspapers abused everyone of these men all the time they were taking a leading part in the active management of the party. Later on, after quite a few years, the active leadership or management of the party fell on the shoulders of our friend, Senator Martin, sitting on my right. The newspapers abused him some ten years. Later on the management of the party fell to the late Senator James P. McNichol and the late Senator Israel W. Durham and Honorable Boies Penrose, and the newspapers abused them during all the time of their active management of the Republican party in our city. After that I seemed to come along to take some little part in the active management of the party and the newspapers have abused me all the while since I have been taking that active part, so that you know when I started to take an active part in the management of the Republican party in Philadelphia I did not do it with my eyes closed, with the idea that I would not be abused. I had the thirty-five years' experience of those that preceded me. I do not complain about that, but I do complain and resent the fact that while I was lying in my bed for seven or eight days during the past week, with a very severe cold, threatened with pneumonia and had a physician three times in one day, a Philadelphia newspaper saw fit to publish that I had been tricking the Senators with the Woodward bills and that I had broken faith. Mr. President, I was born and raised in a Christian home, under the guidance of a good, Christian mother, and among the teachings received from her by me and which I have never forgotten was to keep my word and keep faith.

I want to explain to the new members of the Senate, I think all the old members know that I do not break my word, and do not break faith; what took place with these Woodward bills was this: I think we have had some twenty legislative days since they were first introduced, and when they requested a hearing they had a full afternoon, and as long as they pinned themselves somewhere near the facts there was no interference with them, they had the afternoon to themselves. They called the speakers to suit themselves, and they had the entire afternoon here in the open Senate. Then the other side wanted a meeting and we gave them the same privilege. I came here two weeks ago last night and the newspaper men all sat around my desk here. Senator Woodward came to me and asked if he could not have a hearing that week. I told him he could not, that there would not be a hearing that week, but there would be one the following Tuesday. I then went across to my colleague, the Honorable William E. Crow, and said to him "I am not going to hold a meeting this week, I am going to hold it next week," and he said "Well, do you not think you ought to report the bill out and have it read the second time, even if you put it back," and I said "yes." I said to the newspaper men after that understanding, Senator Woodward, I think, understood the thing the same way, the newspaper men came and said "What about a meeting?" I said "We are going to have a meeting next Tuesday and I think I will invite the present Mayor and the two ex-Mayors." While I was lying in bed I read the paper that the present Mayor was sick at Atlantic City with rheumatism and did not care to come. Ex-Mayor Stuart said he had been out of office so long that he did not care to come, he did not know which was best for the city; and Ex-Mayor Weaver issued an interview to the effect that he was for a small council, but he didn't want the balance of the charter disturbed. That is why none of those gentlemen were invited here and there would not have been a breach of faith and there would not have been a broken word even if they had not given out those interviews. Now I want to stand here on this floor and resent, just as strongly as I know how, any statement in any newspaper that would charge me with breaking my word or breaking faith.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 876 (House Bill No. 1138), entitled:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 917, entitled:

An act to amend section one of an act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and thirty-five) entitled "A supplement to an act approved the thirty first day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and sixty-eight) entitled 'An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner'" etc

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title by striking out at the end thereof the words "et cetera" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintainance and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and state-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated towns and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, or incorporated towns, with Commonwealth governing the same; providing for the minimum width of State highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act;" and further providing that the State Highway Commissioner, and the several counties, townships, boroughs, or incorporated towns, shall have authority to make and enter into contracts to reconstruct or improve a State highway or portion thereof, in the same manner as a State-aid highway; and authorizing counties, townships, boroughs, or incorporated towns to incur indebtedness, and pay their respective shares of the cost thereof; and making valid all such contracts heretofore made; such highway to remain a State highway;

Also section 1, page 2, line 3, by striking out the word "et cetera" and inserting in place thereof the following:

"two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways and a staff of assistants and emplayes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintainance, and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenace, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated towns and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, or incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improverment and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act;" and further providing that the State Highway Commissioner, and the several counties, townships, boroughs, or incorporated towns shall have authority to make and enter into contracts to reconstruct or improve a State highway or portion thereof, in the same manner as a State-aid highway; and authorizing counties, townships, boroughs, or incorporated towns to incur indebtedness, and pay their respective shares of the cost thereof; and making valid all such contracts heretofore made; such highway to remain a State highway.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 919 on third reading, entitled:
